

Washington Birthday Fox Roundup At Long Beach

It's time for foxes according to the huntmasters of Long Beach, Tranquil Harbour and Oak Island. On George Washington's birthday, February 22, a massive corps of fox-hunters, both two-legged and four-legged, and numbering 800 in all, plan to sweep the gray rascals into their sea-bags.

Insofar as The Pilot can determine, the event will be the largest ever held in Eastern North Carolina and perhaps in the state.

Some 500 hounds and 300 men will engage in the mass sporting event, and invitations have been sent to Governor Terry Sanford and many other state dignitaries. Sanford engaged in fox-hunting over the same terrain last month.

Dan L. Walker, city manager of Long Beach and a namesake of the Walker hound, stated that all who attend and participate in the roundup will automatically become officers in the newly-formed Long Beach Fox Hunters Club.

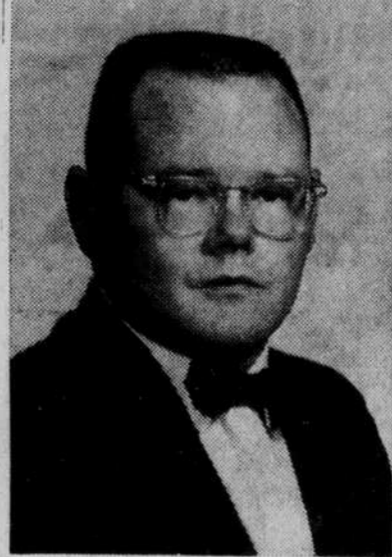

Walker added that all members will be "vice presidents for life-time term; since there is no rank and file among true devotees of the ancient and honorable sport of chasing reynard over hill and dale."

Within recent weeks some 25 brushy-tails have been brought to bay on the island.

Since Long Beach is on the seaward side of an island, a warm invitation to the hunt has been extended to the State Ports Authority; and since roads are straight, smooth and plentiful in the area, the State Highway Commission also was tendered invitation. Since the laws of N. C. permit the extermination of predatory animals, all members of the State Legislature—with or without dogs—shall not, avers Dan Walker, be barred.

Walker, who would rather see home-builders than foxes through his precincts, said that he "feels

Graduates

Norman McDowell of Southport has received his Bachelor of Arts degree in physical education and graduated from Catawba College. McDowell successfully completed his requirements and was graduated at the end of the winter semester. He is one of twelve Catawba seniors who completed their work in mid-year. He is now a member of the Shallotte school faculty. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William McDowell of Southport.

Corn Purchase Plan Explained

Surplus Stock Will Be Made Available For Use Under USDA Regulations Set Out

The U. S. Department of Agriculture again offers corn for sale to grain dealers, under the following conditions: reduced freight rates for government shipment and agreement by dealers that sales will be restricted to farmers, feeders, stockmen, poultrymen and other local dealers for local consumption.

The corn will be shipped from the Evanston (Ind.) government granaries, and initial delivery will be restricted to East Carolina Grain Company at Goldsboro and Gurley Milling Company at Selma. Resale prices cannot reflect more than a reasonable markup, it was stated.

Details can be learned at the Brunswick County ASC office.

Southport Troop Gets Prize For Attendance

Boy Scout Troop 238, sponsored by the Southport Presbyterian Church, was awarded the attendance plaque at the District Court of Honor held at the Courthouse in Wilmington, Monday night. By winning this award, the most coveted a troop can win at the Court of Honor, the local troop will be allowed to keep the plaque in the Troop Room—located at the Garrison Compound in Southport—until the next monthly Court of Honor. If a troop wins the Attendance Award for three successive Courts of Honor, they retain permanent possession of the plaque.

sorry for the hen-harriers; but what makes them think they can inhabit the finest strand in all the world?"

"If necessary," concluded Walker, "we will make this an annual Washington's Birthday event."

There will be no more hunts staged this year, following the upcoming one, Walker said.

Union School

The Union High School P. T. A. met in the school gymnasium Thursday night, January 25, at 7:30. After the devotion and some brief remarks from the president, J. H. Johnson, the theme for this meeting was, "Resolve: To Have a Greater P. T. A. Program for 1962-63."

Reports were given by the following committees: Membership committee, and chairman of the school committee, Clifton Vereen. In Vereen's remarks following his report, he stressed the importance of parents having control of their children. He urged the parents to first get an understanding from the principal and teachers concerning their children, and to visit the school and join the P. T. A. as an active member.

"The school is what we make it," he said. "We can talk it up or talk it down. Values are the things we live by and we come by these values slowly, through many contacts and much trial and error practice. Let us place high ethical standards and values on our school through co-operation and hard work."

Two committees were appointed to serve in the following positions: a nominating committee and fund raising committee. Mrs. K. Turner offered some ways by which funds could be raised to purchase robes for the glee club.

A letter of gratitude was read to the teachers and members of the Student Council from Mrs. Stella Stanley, thanking the group for one of the baskets that was sent to her on December 19. The Student Council is doing many thoughtful things around Union and in the community at large. Sending out baskets at Christmas time is one of their annual projects. These baskets are sent to the elderly citizens of the community.

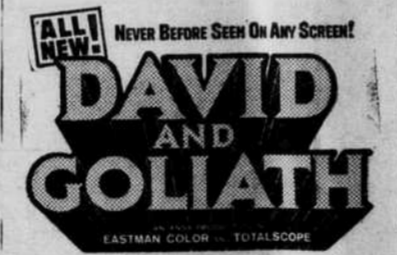

Principal Jonathan Hankins in his remarks to the group urged the parents and members of the community to take advantage of opportunities when they themselves and to explore all avenues for the advancement of the community. "Progress is made only when leadership is put into practice," he said, "so practice good know it has long been out of print (since about 1936) due wholly to the University Press Editor's refusal to publish a revised edition of the book as it was based on North Carolina. He wanted it expanded to cover all the southeastern U. S., a move which would destroy its character. It is now in the rare book classification and prices up to $50 are being paid for it.

"Progress" has caught up with the Big Savanna for it is now largely under cultivation. Broccoli and strawberries have taken the place of the thousands of exquisite Savanna orchids, and the most wonderful year-round wild flower display in the entire eastern United States, is at an end. Richard Pough, conservationist of New York, has been trying to locate a smaller but similar area and has failed. He is currently publishing an article in the Brooklyn Botanic Garden Bulletin based upon my "Gardens" chapter.

"I am now 78 (eight years retired), still in good health and living on a "tree" farm of 150 acres located in a loop of the Neuse River, 20 miles north of Raleigh. Most of my time now is given to art. I had a few pictures in the Southport show of last year."

AG Foundation Meeting Slated

A meeting for farmers and businessmen in that 4-county area which embraces Brunswick will be held in the Agriculture building in Whiteville Wednesday, February 21, beginning at 7:30. The meeting is sponsored by the Agricultural Foundation of N. C. State College.

A. S. Knowles reported that the Foundation is currently holding 26 meetings throughout the state, and that the purpose of the meetings is to explain the work of the Foundation—including the "Nickel for Know-how", a five-cent revenue per ton on feed, fertilizer, etc.

"All Brunswick farmers and businessmen," stated the county farm agent, "are not only invited but urged to attend the Whiteville meet."

APPOINTED TYPIST

The appointment of Miss Nell Ree Galloway as typist was announced this week by A. S. Knowles, Brunswick County Director for Civil Defense. Miss Galloway is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Galloway of Supply. She is a recent graduate of Shallotte high school, where she completed a business course.

Name Long Beach ABC Board Members

T. L. Smith has been named chairman of the Long Beach ABC Board, and has been given a 3-year appointment by the Town Council of Long Beach.

Members to serve with him on this board are A. J. Blanton, named for 2 years; and Mrs. A. K. McCollom, named for a 1-year term.

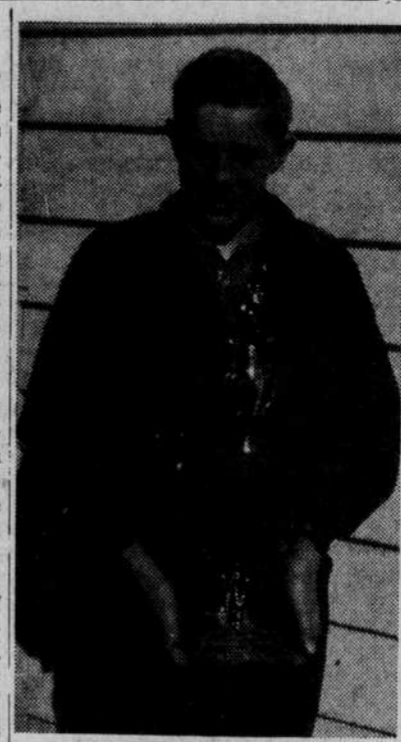

Advertisement was placed this week seeking someone to construct for lease a suitable building located in the commercial area of the beach resort town. Chairman Smith said Monday that it is hoped that it will be possible to get the store in operation by May 15.

Southport Man To Head Vets Group

James E. Pinner of Southport was elected Commander of the Brunswick County Barracks 1744, Veterans of World War I, U.S.A., Inc., during an elective meeting held recently in the Agriculture Building at Supply.

Other officers elected were Edward V. Gore, Sr., of Shallotte,

TOMMY MCGLAMERY

Southport Boy Trophy Winner

Tommy McGlamery, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. McGlamery of Southport, was recently awarded a large trophy for his fishing prowess.

Not for Tommy an expensive trip "outside" in one of Southport's party boats. Tommy, whose parents operate a cafe alongside the city dock, spends much of his vacation fishing from that dock—and with awesome results.

For instance the fish which won him his trophy was a 283-pound sand shark which measured a full nine feet in length.

Tommy's monster was caught last July at the city dock on a lure of bonita, and with a line tested only at 72 pounds. Little Mac, as the 8th-grade student is sometimes called, was not unduly excited at the presentation, being an avid and experienced fisherman for one of his tender years.

In 1960 he pulled to shore a shark which would make two of the 1961 prizewinner, and on the very same day that he caught his

A Modernized Art

By DR. ROGER W. PRICE

Spinal manipulation was first used by the Egyptians and the Greek physicians many years before Christ. Chiropractic, as known and practiced today, was founded by Dr. D. D. Palmer in 1895. He systematized and developed this form of spinal adjusting and prepared himself to teach it. Dr. Palmer established the fact that constriction of the spinal nerve openings through joint deviations affects the spinal nerve root as well as the spinal cord and is in many cases the fundamental cause of symptoms of various ailments. He based his reasoning on results obtained in his clinical practice, and later proved his work by the X-ray.

Due to its beneficial results, the science has attained wide recognition ranking as the largest drugless profession with numerous colleges, clinics and sanitariums. The professional training to practice covers a period of four years.

From statistics compiled by the Chiropractic Research Bureau it is of particular interest to note that spinal adjustments obtain result in many conditions where traditional methods prove ineffective.
