

Southport Club Has Scholarship Aid For Nurses

Southport Woman's Club Offering Scholarship To High School Senior Girl Who Seeks Nursing Career

The Brunswick County Tuberculosis association plans to give a scholarship to a high school senior girl in Brunswick county who wishes and plans to pursue a training course to become a registered nurse.

The association, a division of the Southport Woman's Club, continues its fight to eradicate the dreaded disease of tuberculosis, and this scholarship is a part of that overall program.

The scholarship award will provide the complete costs for tuition, uniforms and books at one of 23 selected North Carolina accredited schools of nursing. The recipient of the scholarship may choose either of these 23 institutions, depending of course, upon otherwise meeting the requirements for entry at that school.

Each high school senior girl in Brunswick County will be provided an information sheet, the list of selected schools of nursing, and the scholarship application form which is to be used. The application form includes specific instructions as to what must be done by each applicant for the scholarship and when it must be done.

Those girls who seek the scholarship must have their completed applications in the hands of the scholarship committee not later than April 10. It is required that completed applications be mailed to Chairman, Scholarship Committee, Brunswick County Tuberculosis Association, Southport. The winner of the scholarship will be announced on April 25. The Association hopes that the winner of the scholarship will graduate as a registered nurse and that she will seriously consider returning to Brunswick County to work and serve, thus furthering their efforts toward

More Signers For Feed Grain

ASC Officials Report Continued High Interest In This Phase Of Farm Program

Ralph Price, manager of the Brunswick County ASC office, had nothing but praise for the cooperation shown by local farmers with the feed grain program.

"Three hundred Brunswick farmers," said Price, "have diverted 3,183 acres from feed grains. For this they have already received in advance payments the sum of $41,019.82. This is somewhat less than one-half the amount which will be paid out."

The purpose of the program is to keep stocks of feed-grains at a reasonable level. In 1961, despite a record yield, the total grain stocks were reduced by some 200 million bushels under the program, which pays farmers to divert land formerly used for feed grains to soil conservation uses. Within the next few years it is expected that taxpayers will be saved some 500 million dollars in storage, handling and trans-

WARNING—The only comment on the above sign is that it was ordered and put up at a good time by City Manager Dan Walker of Long Beach, what with the woods full of fox dogs and fox hunters this week.

Southport Man Dies Today In Local Hospital

B. L. Furlless Dies Following Stroke Suffered At Home Here On Saturday Morning; Funeral Arrangements Incomplete

Bertram Lanier Furlless, owner and proprietor of the Amuzu Theatre and for the past four years advertising manager for The State Port Pilot, died this afternoon at Doshier Memorial Hospital in Southport.

He had been in a critical condition since Saturday morning, when he was admitted as a patient following a stroke suffered at his home. This came two days after being released as a patient at the local hospital where he had been for more than two weeks.

The deceased was born and reared in Southport, the son of the late Price and Lillie Drew Furlless. He was graduated from Southport High School and later attended Davidson College.

He was active in business and civic affairs of his home community and had held numerous positions of honor and responsibility. He was a past president of the Southport Lions Club and in past years had been active in Sunday School and Church work. He is survived by his wife, the former Cora Lee Walker; by two children, William and Amy; and by one brother, James Furlless, of Raleigh.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow (Thursday) afternoon at 3 o'clock at Trinity Methodist Church with the Rev. Charles Lancaster, the Rev. Drayton Cooper and the Rev. Homer McKeithan officiating.

Board Proclaims 4-H Club Week

Boys And Girls Of Brunswick Will Join In Observance Of This Event On March 3-10

The Brunswick County Commissioners in a Monday session passed a resolution approving the week of March 3-10, for 4-H Club observance.

That week will be observed throughout the United States to focus attention on the many helpful activities of the 4-H organization, according to James Goff, assistant county farm agent and local 4-H club mentor.

"The 4-H Club is the largest organization of rural boys and girls in the world," pointed out Goff, "and for the past several years we have had nearly 1,000 boys and girls enrolled in Brunswick."

The assistant farm agent called attention to the fact that "4-H in this county has been recently shifted from school clubs to community clubs, and the active enrollment is presently at the lowest figure in years."

Templeton Heads Long Beach Sales

Charleston, S. C., Man Is General Manager For National Development In Big Project

The appointment of Hanon A. Templeton, Jr., as general manager of the National Development Corporation of Long Beach was recently announced by officials of that organization.

Templeton, a pleasant, dark-haired young man, is already settled in his combination office and living quarters, situated near the Tranquil Harbour restaurant on Long Beach's Ocean Highway.

The new manager is no stranger to these precincts, having long been associated with E. F. Middleton in supervisory position with Carolina Lands, Inc. A native of Savannah, Ga., Templeton is married and the father of two young sons. His wife, Florence, and sons Phillip and Al, presently reside at Charleston, but plan to join him here upon the conclusion of this school year.

As general manager, Templeton will have charge of the large ocean-front development in its entirety, including the subdivisions of Tranquil Harbour and King's Lynn. A sales office, separate from the administration offices, is located within the Tranquil Harbour portion of Long Beach.

Templeton was poring over some corporation records and statistics when The Pilot representative interviewed him on Friday. Proudly he showed some figures proving an amazing fact—that sales cancellations affecting the vast seaside properties currently run less than one-half of one percent. This is an unheard of record in land promotion anywhere.

Asked of the corporation's immediate plans, the new manager

Shallotte Lions Observe Charter Night Thursday

The Rev. Arthur Phillips, Sr., Is Principal Speaker At Annual Observance Held By Shallotte Lions

The 15th anniversary of the Shallotte Lions Club was celebrated Thursday evening at the clubhouse on Sunset Terrace with an overflow crowd of 64 Lions and their guests in attendance.

Pointing out that for a club comprised of 25 members, such attendance was most commendable, Robert G. Hubbard, president of the club, said that special recognition was accorded the following five charter members of the organization present at the celebration: Dr. R. H. Holden, E. D. Bishop, LeRoy Mintz, E. H. Kirby and Henry Stone.

The meeting was called to order by the president, following which the Rev. Arthur Phillips, Jr., pastor of Camp Methodist Church, gave the invocation.

President Hubbard then introduced the guests, who numbered Wallace West an international director of Lions, and wife; Roy Sandlin and wife and Joe Hood and wife, both of whom are counselors for Lions International. Other guests were Gordon Weeks of Goldsboro, district governor for Lion's International, and R. N. McCray, director of Boys Home at Lake Waccamaw.

It fell to the Rev. Arthur Phillips, to introduce the featured speaker, who was none other than the Rev. Arthur Phillips, Sr., father of the local minister. The senior Phillips is pastor of the Rockwood Methodist Church at Rockwood, Tenn.

Making his address follow the toastmaster approach, the featured speaker kept the crowd laughing at his droll stories, only turning serious at the end of his remarks.

President Hubbard reported that the meeting was "one of the

Southport Boy Receives Honor

Cadet Fred M. Burdette, Jr. Of Southport Is Gold Star Student At The Citadel In Charleston, S. C.

Cadet Fred M. Burdette, son of Dr. and Mrs. F. M. Burdette, Southport, was among 31 cadets at The Citadel who won the coveted Gold Stars for academic achievement for the semester ending January 26, 1962.

At The Citadel a Gold Star, symbol of the highest scholastic rating, is worn on either side of the collar of the dress and full dress blouses of the cadet uniform during the semester following the one for which the award is made.

Gold Stars are awarded to those cadets who made grade-point ratios of 3.6 or higher the previous semester. This is the approximate equivalent of four A's and two B's.

The highly-prized stars are one inch in diameter and are made from gold-plated metal. Recipients of Gold Stars are also automatically entitled to wear the Dean's List Medal.

Pepsi Cola Bottling Co. of Wilmington is donating $100 worth of trophies.

Among the new contestants are two young ladies from distant points in Brunswick. Mary Frances Browning is from Longwood, near the South Carolina line; and Velma Lora Ganey is from Leland.

Mary Frances is the brown-haired, blue-eyed daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Travis Browning. A senior at Waccamaw High School, she stands 5 feet, six inches, with 120 pounds nicely distributed over 35-22-36 figures. A well-rounded girl in other ways, Mary Frances writes for a hobby, sings for glee club, plays basketball and cheers for the Waccamaw male athletes. She still finds time for the happy and healthful 4-H Club activities. Writing seems more than a mere hobby, since the pride of Waccamaw is a district winner in essay.

Velma Lora is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Ganey and is a statuesque type at five feet, eight inches, and 130 pounds. Velma has hazel eyes and brown hair, and as to be expected at her height, a basketball player at Leland high. Her vital statistics are 37-25-37, and she is a member of the F. H. A., an actress in school dramatics and a former contestant for Homecoming Queen.

The date was February 26, 1947, the war was over and there was agitation to have the State of North Carolina take over Fort Caswell for operation as a State Park. David W. Watson, principal of Southport High School, was resigning to become a Special

Unique Vessel And Crew Of Volunteer Workers On Way To Island For Campaign Against Tuberculosis

Speculation regarding a Democratic candidate for House of Representatives came to a head this week with the announcement by Odell Williamson that he will seek election to that office for the fourth time.

Williamson is a successful Shallotte business man and real estate developer. He was first elected in 1946, repeated in 1948 and was elected again in 1952. He has made two unsuccessful races for nomination to the State Senate.

This is the only formal announcement to be made this week, but there are rumors of other announcements which will affect several county offices.

More Entrants Being Received

Plans Developing For Interesting Event In Shallotte High School Auditorium March 10

More entries for the Miss Brunswick County Pageant were received this week by the Shallotte Jaycees, and a meeting of pageant officials with all contestants and the man who will serve as master of ceremonies is slated for tomorrow (Thursday) night at Bolivia.

In making a progress report on pageant plans, Shallotte Jaycees announce that Waccamaw Bank & Trust Co., through their Southport and Shallotte branches, in cooperation with the Southport Savings & Loan Association, are giving a $350 college scholarship as first prize for the pageant winner.

Pepsi Cola Bottling Co. of Wilmington is donating $100 worth of trophies.

Progress Being Made In Library For Shallotte

New Quarters Being Made Ready And Supplies Are On Hand For Placing Shallotte Unit In Operation

The physical appointments necessary to setting up a public library in Shallotte for the first time in its long history are moving right along, according to G. E. Henderson, Shallotte pharmacist.

Henderson, member of a committee delegated by the Shallotte Lions Club to aid and abet in the worthwhile project, reported that the construction of shelves is now underway in his home workshop, and that painting will follow the installation in the Bellamy Building, located next door to the post office in Shallotte.

Dr. R. B. McKnight, a member of the State Library board, is the chairman for the committee. Other members of the group are Mrs. M. H. Rourke and the Rev. Arthur Phillips, Jr. Mrs. Rourke is in charge of the decorations, and Phillips was named as publicity man. The Shallotte Lions all will donate their labor to the project.

To Mrs. Rourke was entrusted the task of locating a qualified person to supervise the lending of books and the cataloging of same.

In Southport, Mrs. Philip King, librarian, said on Tuesday that "all necessary reference books, library supplies, etc., are on hand to start the Shallotte branch." These only await the readying of the building. The Shallotte library will receive books via a rotation system from the Southport Public Library. The addition of library facilities at Shallotte will not affect the bookmobile schedule, it was reported.

New Operation For Building

Community Building In Southport Will Be Under The Supervision Of Joint Board Of Governors

The Community Building in Southport henceforth will be operated by a board of governors comprised of five members from the Southport Lions Club and five members from the Southport Woman's Club.

There will be two custodians, one for the building proper and the other for utensils and furnishings. A close inventory of equipment has been made and will be maintained.

There will be a new schedule of charges, with a minimum fee for community related projects. A schedule of appointments will be maintained, and it will be wise for organizations and individuals who wish to use these facilities to make their requests well in advance.

The board of governors includes Clinton Bellamy, president of the Lions Club; E. C. Blake, L. R. Bellows, H. A. Livingston and Ray Walton. From the Womens Club it includes Mrs. Johnnie D. Duffie, the president; Mrs. Frances Key, Mrs. H. T. St. George, Mrs. Dallas Pigott and Mrs. James Barnes.

Last Chance For Property Listing

Tax Supervisor D. H. Hawes Cites Responsibility Of Owner To List New Buildings And Improvements

D. H. Hawes, Brunswick County Supervisor, said this week that there are an unusually large number of property owners who have not yet listed their property for taxes.

"These people are now delinquent in this respect," he said this week, "and are subject to penalty and fine. However, we are much more anxious to get the job completed and urge all who have not done so to come in and list before the end of this month. There will be no penalty if they will do this."

Hawes says that his department has run into considerable confusion regarding responsibility for reporting new building and other improvements made to real property. "It is the responsibility of the property owner to take care of this," he said. "Where confusion exists, we are inviting the owners to come and discuss the problem with us. We want to get a fair and equitable listing, and we must do it right away. We want to make a fair appeal to these people to cooperate with us in this matter."
