and Mrs. Jesse J. Chavis.
The Chavis child was on a bicycle pedaled by her 11-year-old sister, Caroline Ann Chavis, who sustained severe hip and leg injuries in the accident.
The younger Chavis child expired shortly before reaching James Walker Memorial Hospital in Wilmington.

bett's Grill and Fulford's service station on the bicycle and were struck by a passing automobile driven by Paul Wayne Brewer, 24, of High Point.

According to the investigating officers of the Highway Patrol, Roscoe Edwards and H. F. Deal, the investigation is continuing and no charges have been made against the driver at this time.

Corner L. B. Bennett has ordered an inquest to be held at the courthouse in Southport at 8 p. m. on June 4.

Members Of Two Brownie Troops Display Projects And Participate In Program

Brownie Troops No. 20 and No. 353 entertained at an open house Sunday from 3:30 to 5 p. m. in the Southport Community Building.

The program was opened with the Flag Ceremony by members of Troop No. 353, then all joined in the Brownie Promise and Brownie Song. Troop No. 20 presented the story of "How the Brownies Came to Us". Speaking parts were taken by Jean Styron, Cornelia Bowman, Jenny King, Jean Donnell, Renee Horne and Clare Gore. Other members of the troop assisted in the roles of trees, shrubbery, rocks and as a frog. An original song commemorating the 50th Anniversary of Girl Scouting in the United States

Grover A. Gore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Grover R. Gore of Shallotte, has been elected Magister of Ruffin Inn of the Phi Delta Legal Fraternity of Wake Forest College. This is the highest office in this the oldest legal fraternity in the world. Gore is a rising third year student in the School of Law.

was written by Jo Ellen Smith and Clare Gore and all members of Troop No. 20 joined in singing it.

There was an impressive display of crafts and handwork done by all Brownies during this Scout Year. Included were shell collections, ceramics, seasonal decorations, drawing and paintings, trays, wastebaskets, handkerchief and jewelry boxes.

The refreshment table was decorated with flower arrangements made by the girls. Arrangements made by Troop No. 20 were in toys and those by Troop No. 353 were in seashells.

Refreshments of sandwiches, cookies and punch had also been made by the Brownies, who were in charge of serving the large number of parents and friends in attendance.

Assisting the girls in their open house were Troop Leaders Mrs. Marion Pigott, Mrs. Dorothy Gore, Mrs. Hilda Styron and Mrs. Lucy Southerland; Assistant Troop Leaders Misses Jane Pigott and Reba Plindexter; and Mrs. James C. Bowman, representative of the Mary Rebecca Circle of Trinity Methodist Church, which sponsors the Brownie Troops.

King Mackerel Still Big News

Party Fishing With Capt. Fred Fulford Wednesday Brought In 153 Of These Big Fish

King mackerel continued to be the big news in fishing here this week, with Capt. Fred Fulford and party bringing in 153 last Wednesday for one of the all-time high marks for this type of fishing.

On Friday Capt. Glenn Trunnell went high for the season with 170 king mackerel with a Charlotte party. He went over a hundred again Saturday with 103 kings for a party from Great Falls, S. C.; and on Sunday he had 75 king mackerel with his party from Pinehurst. This trip also netted 10 amberjack.

By the end of the week the run had tapered off a little, but on Saturday Capt. Fulford had 42 king mackerel, 16 bonito and 4 amberjack; and on Sunday he had 40 king mackerel, 14 bonito and 2 amberjack.

On Sunday Capt. Basil Watts and party aboard the Idle On II had 52 king mackerel, 2 bonito and 2 amberjack.

Capt. Hoyle Doshier and party aboard the Idle On IV had 52 king mackerel, 8 bonito and 5 amberjack; and on Monday his party had 47 kings, 5 bonito and 3 amberjack.

Village Point Man Dies Tuesday Night

SHALLOTTE — S. Walker Floyd, 76, of Village Point, Shallotte, died Tuesday night at the home of a daughter, Mrs. L. S. Lane in Fayetteville.

He was a native of Horry County, but he had lived for a number of years in the Chadbourne area. He was a retired farmer and had lived the past seven years at Village Point in Brunswick County. He was a member of the Village Point Methodist Church.

Final rites will be held Thursday at 4 p. m. at the chapel of Peacock's Funeral Home in Whiteville by his pastor, the Rev. Harold Pickett of Village Point Methodist Church, with burial in Greenlawn Memorial Cemetery at Chadbourne.

Survivors include five daughters, Mrs. Lane of Fayetteville, Mrs. W. K. Usher of Shallotte, Mrs. J. C. Spivey, Sr. of Wilmington, Mrs. Tom Horton of Chadbourne and Mrs. Kenneth Ayers of Hallsboro; a son, Malcolm of Shallotte; 14 grand children and two great-grandchildren.

Transportation Corps, and immediately entered the Army on active duty.

Prior to his assignment to Sunny Point in June 1960, he attended military schools at Fort Eustis, Virginia, and the Army Aviation School at Fort Rucker, Alabama.

Last Saturday evening, Lt. and Mrs. Norton were honored at a farewell party given by the personnel of Sunny Point Army Terminal.

commencement also was in progress at other consolidated schools in the county; and Judge R. Hunt Parker was presiding over a term of Superior Court for trial of criminal cases.

Mrs. Lou Mallison had reached Hollywood, where she was to serve as speech coach for Jennifer Jones in the movie, "Ruby Gentry." That was a front page story in The Pilot for ten years ago this week. R. I. Mintz, Wilmington attorney and Brunswick county native, had been elected president of the N. C. State College Alumni Association.

R. E. Bellamy had been elected chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee; there was a front page photo of the sports fishing cruiser, Bon-Jon, of Shallotte Point; and good progress was being made on the access railroad to Sunny Point.

The N. C. Bird Club had held a productive weekend session at Yaupon Beach, and that story was reported in The Pilot five years ago this week. There was a headline that said "Daylight Saving Time For City."

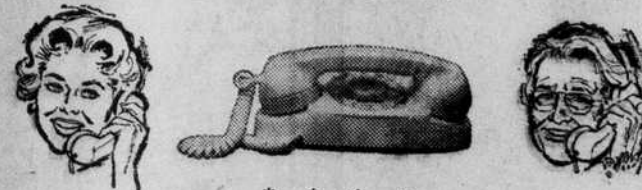

The Southport Lions Club was sponsoring a voluntary automobile inspection lane, and there was a front page photo to prove it. Commencement was in progress at all county schools; Kirby Sullivan had been elected president of the Southport Lions Club; and the next Saturday was "Poppy Day."

We are pleased to announce that William C. Love, the new cashier of the Waccamaw Bank & Trust Co. in Southport, will continue the convenient local service which our customers in this area have come to expect. Monthly accounts should be paid at the bank, and requests for phones or extensions will be promptly relayed to our office.

COME TO THE FAIR! And I'm talking about the Century 21 Exposition in Seattle, April 21 to Oct. 21, 1962. This international show, set in some of America's most spectacular scenery, is the first world's fair held in this country since 1939, and is expected to draw tourists from all parts of the world. If a trip to the Exposition is in your vacation schedule, we'd like to invite you to see the Bell System's exhibit. In keeping with the Fair's theme—a preview of the world of tomorrow—the Bell exhibit will show modern communications equipment and a glimpse of what's ahead for telephone users.

WE GET a lot of strange requests, and one of the most unusual is the one from the woman who called the operator and said, "Will you please ring my telephone? My dog is outside and won't come in. He comes running when he hears the telephone." Ten rings later, she reported back. "Thanks a lot," she said, with the barking of a dog in the background. "He's in now." And that's just one of the many requests we answer every day. Customers sometimes ask us what they should use to clean their telephones. The answer: a damp cloth is all that's needed to keep the phone clean and shining! Soap-and-water treatment is risky since the water may get into the set and put working parts out of order.
