MRS. JAMES BURLEIGH CROTEAU

Miss Anne Brooks Newton Weds James Burleigh Croteau Saturday

In a lovely ceremony on Saturday afternoon at five o'clock, Miss Anne Brooks Newton became the bride of James Burleigh Croteau. The double ring ceremony was used by the officiating ministers, Rev. Charles Lancaster, the pastor of Trinity Methodist Church where the ceremony was held, and the Rev. Russell Harrison of Lumberton, a former pastor of the bride.

The altar was arranged for the occasion with two floor baskets of white and yellow chrysanthemums and gladioli with candles forming an arch behind.

Prior to the ceremony nuptial music was provided by Mrs. Garvin Faulkner of Wilmington, soloist, and Mrs. James M. Harper, Jr., organist.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Edward Cranmer Newton. She was lovely in a gown of rosepoint lace over silk organza, made with a portrait neckline edged with sequins and pearls and with lace appliques on the full skirt which was caught up in a bustle in back. A chapel train and coronet of crystal and pearls with fingertip veil of illusion gracefully completed the picture. With this she carried a bouquet of roses.

Matron of Honor was Mrs. Jackson Newton of Chapel Hill and bridesmaid was Miss Christina Hoglund. They wore blue silk organza dresses with full skirts and bodices of white Irish lace. They carried yellow and white chrysanthemums colonial bouquets.

Flower girl was little Miss Rebecca Lynn Newton of Wilmington, a niece of the bride. She wore a dress of blue organza and carried a white basket of yellow and white flowers.

Harold Carrow of Baltimore, Md. was best man. Ushers were Jackson Newton of Chapel Hill and Louis Newton of Wilmington, brothers of the bride; Carl Knox of Wilmington, an uncle of the bride; and Phillip Galloway of Leland, a cousin of the bride. For the ceremony the mother of the bride wore a dress of rose beige with lace top and chiffon skirt. Mrs. Althea Burleigh Croteau of Nashua, New Hampshire, mother of the groom, wore a dress of blue chiffon. Present also were the groom's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin M. Braeden of Nashua.

The bride was graduated from Southport High School and was educated at St. Mary's Junior College and the University of North Carolina. She has taught in Virginia Beach, Va. since her graduation.

The groom is completing service in the U. S. Navy and is stationed in Boston, Mass., where the couple will reside.

Following the ceremony the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Smith, entertained at a reception in the Community Building. Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Harold Carrow, Baltimore, Md.; Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Newton, Jr., and children, Annelee, Barbara and Phillip Newton of Birmingham; Miss Marion Resch of Siler City; Mr. and Mrs. Haywood Sellers of Charlotte; Edward Todd of Whiteville; Mr. and Mrs. Jackson Newton of Chapel; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Newton, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Knox, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Knox, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Knox, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Knox, Mrs. Tom Sumner, Mrs. E. C. Woodbury, Mrs. Earla Stone, Mrs. Louise Hooper and Mrs. Gladys Taylor, all of Wilmington.
