

Nine New Gray Ladies Capped Here Thursday

Second Class Completes Training For Volunteer Duty At Doshier Memorial Hospital

Nine new Gray Ladies for Doshier Memorial Hospital were capped in ceremonies held at the Trinity Methodist Church in Southport Thursday night.

The new Gray Ladies, who were capped by Dr. Landis G. Brown, chief of staff at the hospital, included Polly Cammack, Dot Manis, Lavada Bevel, Marie Johnson, Betty Smith, Kendall Bruno, Mary Bellows, Eleanor Potter and Gloria Stiller.

Mrs. Phillip King, Brunswick county Red Cross representative, welcomed the new Gray Ladies into the "family".

"For 45 years the Gray Ladies have been on the job in hospitals throughout the world," she said in explaining the history of the movement briefly. "After World War I," she continued, "there was a shortage of hospital personnel and the idea of volunteer work was born. Later gray was adapted as the color of the uniform."

The gray uniform means that the wearer is a trained woman giving her services free. "The uniform is respected by all hospital personnel," she said.

"A Gray Lady reminds the patient that he is an individual and this in turn boosts his morale."

Mrs. Ronnie Hood, president of the Southport Junior Woman's club, pinned each new Gray Lady. Mrs. Charles Blake, chairman of the Red Cross committee in charge of the project for the Southport Woman's Club, presented the class with certificates and identification cards.

Mrs. Johnnie Duffie, president of the Southport Woman's Club then presented the class to the Mrs. Roy Daniels, director of nurses, and to the hospital. Mrs. Daniels welcomed the class and commended them for their interest.

The hospital is now being served by 22 Gray Ladies.

Williamson Has Hope For Help On School Bonds

Also Reveals Final Draft Of Bill Providing For Election Of County Commissioners

By ODELL WILLIAMSON
After more than two months of hard work, I won my first round in trying to submit a one hundred million dollar school bond issue to the people of North Carolina. This bill was given a favorable report last week by the House Education committee, of which I am a member. In preference to another $100-million bond bill which had been passed by the Senate Education committee. Whereas this latter bill tends to favor the wealthier and more populous counties, my bill favors the counties with the greatest need and would give Brunswick county about $200,000 more than the other bill. Since my bill still has to clear the Finance Committee, of which I am also a member, I have my work cut out to get it accepted eventually by the whole General Assembly. This job is made harder by the fact that the Administration is opposed to any bond proposal. In spite of this, I intend to fight for this cause that I consider so necessary for our county, as well as many others.

As there is no law pertaining to the primary election of the board of commissioners of Brunswick county, I promised the voters last spring during the primary that I would put one on the books that a fourth grade student should be able to understand. The purpose of such a law is to enable the voters to know after the primary who the nominees are. So that you may know what the law will be if it is not changed by the Senate, I am quoting it to you in detail. The bill reads as follows:

"In the primary election to be held in Brunswick County in 1964

Shallotte Boy Scout Honored

David Redwine Receives Coveted God And Country Award At Impressive Church Service

On Sunday night, April 7, David Redwine, age 15, an Eagle Scout of Shallotte Troop 506, received his God and Country Award at the Shallotte Baptist Church. The pastor, Rev. Clarence J. Piercy, presented the award before the congregation, local troop committeeman, Scoutmaster Paul Hardee, assistant Scoutmasters Robert L. Watts, and Robert Pigott, and other Boy Scouts in uniform.

This award was presented by the church through the Boy Scout program under requirements set up by the Baptist State Convention. It requires one year of work and study. In a letter to David from Dr. Herschel H. Hobbs, President of the Southern Baptist Convention, he said: "This is a notable achievement." Joe C. Carrington, Assistant of Southern Baptist for Scouting wrote: "This is a high honor received as a result of much work and study. These basic principles of Christian

Two Students Going To School During Summer

Sandra Potter And Kenneth Phelps, Junior Class Members At Southport, In Honor Group

Two Southport juniors have been selected to attend summer schools for superior students during July and August, according to Principal W. N. Williams.

Sandra Potter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bryant Potter, will study chemistry at Western Carolina College while Kenneth Phelps, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Phelps will take courses in mathematics and science at Appalachian State Teachers College.

Admission to both schools is based on the student's high school record, aptitude scores and special tests provided by the colleges.

Miss Potter will receive five quarter hours of college credit for her chemistry course, which will run from July 14 until August 16. The program, which was originated in 1959, is sponsored by the college.

Phelps will study Probability and Statistics from July 15 through August 16. The program is sponsored by the National Science Foundation.

Major Cammack Gets Citation

Sunny Point Army Terminal Officer Retires From Active Duty After Twenty Years Service

Major Ralph I. Cammack, Sunny Point Army Terminal, who retired from the military service this week, has been cited by the Department of the Army for outstanding service rendered to the terminal for the past three years.

This is the fourth such award received by the major during his more than twenty years of active military service.

His citation reads as follows: "MAJOR RALPH I. CAMMACK, TC, as Director of Operations and Director of Logistics at Sunny Point Army Terminal, the U. S. Army's only active ammunition Terminal, distinguished himself by meritorious performance of duty during period 11 March 1960 to 30 April 1963. During this period, MAJOR CAMMACK, through outstanding devotion to duty, tenacity and persistent striving for improvement, set an example to his subordinates, the attainment of which raised their professional skills far beyond what could otherwise have been expected. By his friendliness, generosity, consideration, and diligent efforts to understand superiors and subordinates points of view, he developed a close working relationship with his colleagues that greatly enhanced the accomplishment of the Terminal's mission, and specifically improved the operations and logistics effectiveness of the individuals of the Installation that will result in a more efficient terminal."

Candidates Outline Program For Mayor

Southport Citizens Will Elect Three Aldermen And Mayor At Election Next Tuesday

By BILL ALLEN
A former mayor and a veteran alderman—Eugene Tomlinson and Johnny Vereen—are presently battling for the office of mayor of the City of Southport and will face the voters in the municipal election Tuesday.

Tomlinson served as mayor for one term, 1957-59. Vereen has been on the board since 1956 and is the oldest member in point of service. All told, he has been elected alderman four consecutive times and his term does not expire until 1964.

In addition to his election victories in Southport, Vereen ran for the post of Commissioner of Long Beach at the same time he was a candidate for re-election in Southport two years ago. He won both positions but resigned from the Long Beach Board because the law says a man can not serve on more than one city board at a time.

"The people wanted me to run in Southport and in Long Beach and I won both elections," Vereen said about the matter. "I took the Southport position because that is my home."

Both men present impressive credentials for the mayor's post in Southport.

During Tomlinson's term, accomplishments include "establishing the present Southport Public Library, constructing the boat loading ramp, acquiring many items of equipment for the city such as dragline, electrical trucks, dump trucks and a new wall in the city park, opening and improving new streets in the western section of the city and paying off a sizeable portion of the city debt."

Senator Walton Discusses Raise For Employees

This And Other Matters Reviewed By Brunswick County Senator While Here For Weekend

Raises for Brunswick county employees, funds for a museum at Brunswick Town, the road and school bonds as they affect the county, a new name for State college, and the Dixie Classic debate were discussed by Brunswick County Senator Ray Walton in Southport Saturday.

Last Wednesday Senator Walton introduced a bill in the State Senate calling for salary raises for the coroner, Register of Deeds, Clerk of Court, sheriff and his deputies and the county commissioners.

Under the bill, the coroner would receive $17.50 per day for every day he engaged in his duties and 7 cents per mile for necessary travel. If he investigated two deaths at the same time, he would receive $17.50 per day in each case.

The Register of Deeds would receive $435 per month and would serve as clerk ex-officio to the Board of County Commissioners. Each member of the board would be paid $20 per day for each day spent in performing his duties and 7 cents per mile for travel.

The Clerk of Court would receive $435 per month for his work as Clerk of Superior Court, Clerk of Recorder's Court, and judge of juvenile court.

The judge of Recorder's court would be paid $225 per month in salary.

The sheriff would receive $435 per month in salary plus $1200 per annum in travel expenses and 7 cents per mile for travel outside the county in performance of his duties. He would be authorized to employ three field deputies at $350 per month each and they would be paid $115 in travel expenses. He would also employ an office deputy to serve as jailer at $285 per month plus jail fees and $2 per day for feeding each prisoner. A night watchman for the jail would be employed at $60 per month. The deputies would be entitled to all fees allowed.
