Training Union Conference At Baptist Assembly

First Of Eight Regular Conference Programs At Fort Caswell This Week

Intensive instruction in the objectives and techniques of Training Union activities are being conducted at the North Carolina Baptist Assembly at Fort Caswell this week, according to Manager Fred J. Smith.

More than 600 Baptists under the direction of James P. Morgan are participating in the Training Union Conference.

Study groups have been divided according to age levels into adults, young adults, teenagers, children, young children and nursery classes.

Members of the faculty for adult training include Rev. Dewey Hobbs and Rev. Glynn Hill and Mrs. Mable Starnes. Rev. Hobbs, pastor of the Wingate Baptist church and president of the general board of the Baptist State Convention is discussing Family Relationships and Counseling. He is also in charge of daily vesper service on the inner fort.

Rev. Tucker, a member of the Sunday School Board of the Southern Baptist Convention in Nashville, Tenn., is demonstrating the close relationship of a church library with Training Union objectives and methods. Mrs. Starnes, who is from Asheville, is a former member of the faculty at Gardner-Webb and Carson-Newman Colleges.

Baptist History, Communism and Church-State Relationships are some of the topics being discussed by the young adults under direction of Miss Katy Ruth Grayson of the Baptist headquarters in Raleigh. Mrs. J. R. Everett is in charge of the program for older children. Sam O'Neal is directing the program for young adults and Miss Doris Morgan is in charge of the young children. All three instructors are from the state office.

Rev. Kermit King, BFC secretary for Mississippi, is heading the program of instructions for pastors and Training Union directors. Rev. Herbert Baucum of the Oxford Baptist Church, is pastor for the week.

Col. Earl I. Brown Dies In Durham Tuesday Morning

Prominent Southport Citizen Died Tuesday Morning At Rest Home In That City; Burial At Arlington

Colonel Earl Ivan Brown, 88, Southport resident and long-time member of the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, died Tuesday morning at Friendly Rest Home in Durham.

A native of Carrollton, Ga., he was the son of the late William F. and Priscilla Hagen Brown. He was a graduate of the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, in 1898, after completing his secondary education in the Carrollton schools.

A veteran of both World Wars I and II, Col. Brown served in the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers for 45 years.

The deceased was a former Division Engineer in charge of the South Atlantic Division of the U. S. Corps of Engineers with headquarters in Richmond, Va. He retired from the Army in 1938 from this job, but in 1940 was recalled to active duty and became Chief Engineer for the Wilmington District. He retired from this later position in 1942 and came to Southport to make his home.

He received the James R. Cross Medal, one of the highest awards of the American Society of Civil Engineers, on two occasions, in 1933 and again in 1942. He was recognized as an international authority on each erosion, and following his retirement visited several foreign countries as special consultant.

While residing in Southport, he was a member of Trinity Methodist Church and an honorary member of its board of stewards. Col. Brown was a Mason, being affiliated with Pythagoras Masonic Lodge No. 249 in Southport, and was also a member of the American Legion.

A member of the Wilmington Engineers Club and the American Society of Civil Engineers, he was a member of the Wilmington Engineers Club and the American Society of Civil Engineers.

Public Hearing On County Watershed

Interested Parties Heard At Shallotte Army And On Site At Meeting Monday

The proposed Caw Caw watershed was discussed and examined in detail at a meeting with State officials at the Shallotte Army and at the site Monday afternoon and more than 50 persons attended.

Representatives of the Soil Conservation Service, Army Engineers, National and State Wildlife Commissions, State Highway Department and State Health Department attended the meeting and toured the proposed site.

The state officials will submit reports on the feasibility of the project to the North Carolina Soil and Water Conservation committee. The committee will recommend what action should be taken then. One of the seven members of the state committee is Vice-President James D. Bellamy of Shallotte.

The proposed Brunswick project, which will be the first of its kind in the county, will cover approximately 23,700 acres and will include the Hickman's Crossroads, Longwood, Thomasboro and Grissetown areas. The area is composed of 59 percent woods, 29 percent crops, 10 percent pasture and 2 percent house, roads, etc.

Bellamy served as chairman of the meeting Monday while other officials included Bryce Younts of the State Soil Conservation Committee, Elmer Graham, assistant state conservationist, and Lacy Coates, planning party leader.

Council Receives Airport Report

Other Matters Of Importance Disposed Of Saturday By Town Board At Long Beach

The Long Beach Town Council Saturday approved a $74,000 budget for the 1963-64 fiscal year. The budget includes funds to add a radio equipped police car to the Long Beach police force and additional funds for improved mosquito control.

H. A. Templeton, Jr., Chairman of the Brunswick County Airport Commission, announced that bids will be opened on Tuesday June 25 for construction of an airport to serve Long Beach, Yaupon Village, Ft. Caswell, Southport and Boiling Springs. The small plane facility, to be located near the Intra-Coastal Waterway near the Long Beach bridge, will cost approximately $80,000. Of that sum, 50 percent will be paid by Brunswick County and the involved municipalities, 50 percent by the Federal Government.

The board passed an ordinance prohibiting dumping of debris on currently unused city streets, requested that the State Highway Patrol assign a trooper to the Eastern Brunswick beaches and took under study a proposal that vehicles be banned from the strand during the summer season.

Town Manager Daniel Walker announced that the State Highway Department will begin construction of a bridge over Davis Canal during the first week of July, with completion expected within 6 weeks.

Airport Authority Gets Project Bids

ZIP Code Number For Each Office

All 10 Post Offices in Brunswick county have recently been assigned five-digit ZIP Code numbers for improved mail service.

The plan, which goes into effect on July 1, will provide the United States with the most modern system of mail distribution and dispatch in existence, the Post Office believes.

The ZIP Code number will be the last word in the mailing address. It should follow the city and state in the address.

ZIP Code numbers for Brunswick county post offices include Navassa, 28404; Ash, 28420; Bolivia, 28422; Freeland, 28440; Leland, 28451; Longwood, 28452; Shallotte, 29460; Southport, 28461; Supply, 28462; and Winabow, 28479.

City Employees Are All Rehired

Other Routine Business Disposed Of At Regular June Meeting Of Southport Board Of Aldermen

The rehiring of all city employees highlighted the regular June meeting of the Southport Board of Aldermen.

After some discussion, the motion to rehire the employees was made by Alderman R. N. Hood and was seconded by Alderman F. W. Spencer. The vote was unanimous.

The board unanimously voted to purchase indemnity bonds for any property damages around the Yacht Basin during dredging operations. After the purchase has been made, City Manager C. D. Pickering was asked to authorize the U. S. Corp of Engineers to proceed with the work.

After discussing a retirement plan for city workers the board decided to have City Manager Pickering secure all information pertaining to procedures and cost and present it at the next meeting.

Mayor Eugene Tomlinson reported to the board on the progress being made on the sewage and drainage projects. He then requested that the Special Projects Committee, which is

DEWAYNE TRIPP

Shallotte Man Now In England

Capt. Cecil De Wayne Tripp Plans To Resume Studies Leading To Specialization In Medicine

Captain Cecil De Wayne Tripp, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Tripp of Shallotte, now serving in England in the U. S. Air Force will soon enter another phase of training.

Ten years ago, he was graduated from Shallotte High School and in the fall of 1953 was enrolled in the University of North Carolina from which he was granted a B. S. and a M. D. degree. In June 1960, he passed the N. C. Board of Medical Examiners. He accepted a commission in the United States Air Force and served an internship at the William Beaumont Army Hospital, El Paso, Texas, and moved to San Antonio, Texas, where he attended the School of Aerospace Medicine and was graduated as an Aerospace Medical Examiner.

Currently, Capt. Tripp lives in London, England, where he is Chief of Aviation, Preventive, and Occupational Medicine at the 7520th USAF Hospital, which supports the London area, including the American Embassy.

Aside from his duty as flight surgeon, Capt. Tripp, as Chief of Preventive Medicine, recently organized a very effective program to control and suppress an epidemic of infectious hepatitis among dependents of US service men in London. The results of this are soon to be published in conjunction with Dr. James Mosley of the US Public Health Service.

All has not been work for him. (Continued on Page 8).

Asheville Meet Points Up Need

Production Credit Official Reports On Annual Conference Held Last Week In Mountain City

"The need for more capital in agriculture is continuing," according to Charles R. Rogers, president of the Wilmington Production Credit Association, who has just returned from Asheville where he attended the annual conference for directors of Production Credit Associations on June 17-18.

Reports at the conference indicated that the use of capital using technology and reorganization of farm units for efficiency is continuing. This continues to increase the size of farms, and changes the structure of agriculture and the character of individual farm units in many ways.

"Lending institutions must continue to recognize the fast changes taking place in agriculture and recognize that farming is big business that requires alert and specialized management, large amounts of capital, and flexibility to adapt to needed
