Lunchroom Week Being Observed Here This Week

Visitors Invited To Observe Lunchroom Programs At Various Schools During

National Lunch Room Week as proclaimed by President John F. Kennedy and Governor Terry Sanford is being observed in the schools of Brunswick county this week.

"Although no special plans have been made by the Board of Education," Superintendent A. W. Taylor said, "all parents have been invited to visit the lunch rooms this week."

The 11 schools in Brunswick county serve approximately 3,030 lunches per day. Each of the schools averages between two and three lunch room employee each in the lunch rooms. "Of course, the larger schools have as many as five employees," he said.

The federal government gave the schools $25,146.02 last year to finance the program. "Almost 31/2-cent per lunch is returned to each school by the government,"

The lunch room program is the largest consummer of surplus food from the Agricult-ural Department at the present time. Commodities distributed to the schools include butter, meal, flower, beans turkey, pork, milk and eggs, just to name a few.

"School Lunch Serves North Carolina Through Food for Learning" is the theme of this year's School Lunch Week in North Carolina, proclaimed by Governor Sanford following President Kennedy's proclama-tion of National School Lunch
