

Jones Building Inspector For Long Beach Area

Town Commissioners Also Take Steps To Insure Building Standards Pending Further Action

The Long Beach Board of Commissioners has appointed Robert Jones to serve as Building Inspector. The board voted unanimously to combine all building inspection phases under one office, with Jones having the responsibility for inspecting construction, plumbing and electrical wiring.

Jones, who is retiring from the contracting business, will assume his new duties within a few weeks. The board authorized Town Manager Dan L. Walker to work out the mechanics of the new job with Jones. The fee schedule and general procedures of obtaining a building permit will be determined by the board at its next regular meeting in March.

The commissioners voted unanimously to adopt the state residential building code, as amended, as the building code of the town of Long Beach, with the option of adopting the state hurricane building code for the first three rows of beach front cottages at a later date.

An ordinance creating a 5-man Town Planning Board was passed. To prevent non-regulated commercial development pending a total program of town planning, to be decided upon by the planning board in cooperation with professional city planners, the board voted to implement a stop-gap ordinance requiring all plans for commercial buildings and alterations to be approved by the town.

Regarding a proposed referendum on beer sales in Long Beach, Manager Walker announced a ruling at the state level stating that 25 percent of the voters who were eligible for the last town council election may initiate such a referendum by signed petition. The board voted against starting such a petition themselves, but agreed to allow use of the mailing list of registered voters to interested citizens.

In answer to a question by Commissioner E. W. Morgan, Walker said that preparation for a town audit is nearing completion and that the auditor will be called in before the next regular board meeting. Regular audits have been delayed by the long process of switching town record keeping methods over to a system recommended by the Local Government Commission, Walker said.

Schedule Fox Round-Up Event For Long Beach

Hundreds Of Visitors Expected To Participate In This Year's Big Fox Hunt

The famous Washington's Birthday Fox Round Up will be held at Long Beach Thursday, Friday and Saturday, says Town Manager Dan L. (The Original Hound) Walker.

Some 81 hounds have already been registered by fox hunters from throughout North Carolina for the third annual event. "We are pleased with this quick response," Walker said, "since application blanks were not mailed out until last week".

He stated that several out-of-state hounds and hunters are expected for the round-up.

Registration for the event will start Thursday at the Town Hall. A meeting of all hound owners will be held at the Lorraine Restaurant at 6 p. m. where the election of the Order of the Flea will be observed. The group was organized this year to serve as an advisory committee for the round-up. Registration will continue Friday with the first cast out time for the hounds scheduled for 6 a. m.

The famous "Hound's Hair and Chowder" dinner will be served served from 5 to 8 p. m. Friday at the Yaupon Skating Rink. During the dinner, first and second prizes will be given for the horn-blowing, fox calling and tall hound tales contests.

Three New Members Named To Board Thursday Night; Progress Report Made On Yacht Basin

An announcement that the city had purchased all needed land for the proposed small boat harbor highlighted a meeting of the Southport Board of Aldermen at the City Hall Thursday night.

City Attorney Kirby Sullivan said all property owners had agreed to sell their property to the city for a little over $3,000. Most of the rights-of-way were donated.

The state will re-emburse the city for all the property and expense within 90-days.

City Manager C. D. Picklerrell said the plans and specifications for the proposed project have been approved with a few exceptions. Corrections are being made now, he added.

Picklerrell said he talked with Highway Commission and Telephone officials about providing needed services this week. The telephone officials said they would try to save as many trees as possible in establishing new lines to the area.

Mayor Eugene B. Tomlinson announced that a public hearing will be held in the Brunswick County Court Room on February 27 to discuss the $200,000 bond issue. All citizens will be given a chance to Continued On Page Four

Brunswick Will Help Fight Polio

Doctors And Health Department Will Lead Fight For Eradication Of This Disease

The New Hanover County Medical Society is sponsoring a mass polio immunization program and the Brunswick county doctors and the Brunswick County Health Department will cooperate. The aim is to get everybody as nearly as possible to take the vaccine, which is taken by mouth on a lump of sugar.

The vaccine will be offered to everybody in each of the three clinics. The clinics will be held in all Brunswick County schools from 12 o'clock until 5 o'clock on Sundays, March 22, April 19 and May 17. A different type of polio virus is given at each clinic, so it is very important to get each dose.

Those able to do so will be asked to pay 25-cents for each dose. Those not able to pay will get it free. Those unable to pay will be making a very important contribution to the people of the county by taking the vaccine, for in protecting themselves and their children they will be protecting all unvaccinated children in not being able to take the germ to them.

Club Sponsors Tree Planting

Plant a live oak tree in Southport and earn $2, says the Southport Garden Club.

Because of the diminishing number of trees, the club has offered to pay the first 25 percent who set-out live oak trees $2 for each such tree they plant. But the tree must live for six months before the money can be collected.

The trees can be planted anywhere in the city of Southport. Anyone interested in earning $2 or more should contact Mrs. James Barnes, president elect, for more details.

TIME and TIDE

It was February 18, 1959, and Board of Elections Chairman Corbett Coleman of Ash was elected vice president of the Fifth District School Board Association. Superior Court Judge Rudolph I. Mintz, formerly of Shallotte, was the Tar Heel of the Week in the Raleigh News and Observer.

The Brunswick County basketball tournament opened in Leland Wednesday with the Shallotte girls and the Leland boys favored. Malcolm Knox of Bolivia and Donald Ray Lennon of Leland were on the Dean's List at East Carolina College.

It was February 17, 1954, and the third major fire in less than two months in Shallotte destroyed the Remsua restaurant. John L. Stone, Charlie Skipper, Alex Williams, Magnus Tripp and Elbert H. Gray were candidates for sheriff.

Tax Collector Jack Brown announced he would oppose Sam T. Bennett for the position of Clerk of Court. The Southport American Legion post voted to sponsor a Boy Scout troop.

It was February 16, 1949, and the Brunswick Baptist Association's School of Missions was to be held in 19 of the 26 Baptist churches in the county within the next five days. The Little Symphony Orchestra played two concerts in the county Friday.

County Baptist Churches Take Part In Revival

Ten Baptist Churches In Brunswick Will Participate In Jubilee Revival Campaign During March

Ten Baptist churches in the Brunswick Baptist Association will take a leading role in the nationwide Baptist Jubilee Revival Campaign, March 8-22, the Rev. D. G. Thomas announced this week.

The theme for the evangelistic crusade is "Spiritual Conquest... NOW!"

The Rev. D. G. Thomas, pastor of the Mt. Pisgah Baptist Church and general chairman for the campaign, said, "This is one of 1,100 Baptist Jubilee Revivals being held in 30,000 Baptist churches in all 50 states. A goal of 600,000 baptisms has been adopted by Southern Baptists.

"Seven Baptist Conventions in America are celebrating 150 years of organized Baptist missionary work in 1964. More than 70,000 Baptists are expected to meet in Atlantic City May 19-23, to climax the Baptist Jubilee Advance."

Julian Hopkins, Director of Evangelism for North Carolina Baptists, in cooperation with the Division of Evangelism of the Southern Baptist Convention, has been planning this evangelistic crusade since 1960.

The associational committee working with the Rev. Thomas for the campaign are Rev. Mark Owens, Rev. Bruce Lanier, Mrs. Margaret McRacken, Mrs. Ressie Whitley, Mrs. Ann Price, Mrs. J. J. Hawes, John R. Sellers, Sam Corbett, Harold Williams, Tyler Potter, and Eugene Tomlinson.

Sanitation Is Being Stressed

Survey Of Sanitary Facilities Being Conducted With Minimum Requirements Being Enforced

An environmental and coastline survey is currently being conducted by the Brunswick Health Department to check toilet facilities in the county, according to Chief Sanitarian Harold Aldridge.

All places where people work and live are being investigated to make sure minimum sanitation conditions are maintained during both surveys.

"The department had wanted to undertake both projects for some time," Aldridge said, "but we lacked the manpower."

When David Buckner was employed by the health department as an aid, plans were made to commence the survey work. Buckner is in charge of the field work for the two projects.

Aldridge said the state law requires that every place of business and residence have sanitary sewage disposal units. The law requires, at the very minimum, that pit privies be maintained.

The project, which will cover all of Brunswick, started in November in the Grissetown area. When nine residents refused to meet the minimum standards, the health department brought court action that resulted in nine convictions.

This week, Buckner is surveying the Thomasboro and Winnabow areas.

Resources Board Appointed Monday

Resources Development Commission Members Sworn In At Monday Morning Meeting In Southport

The naming of a nine-man Resources Development Commission highlighted a meeting of the Brunswick County Board of Commissioners Monday in Southport.

The nine man board includes two Negroes and one Republican and has representatives from each of the six townships in the county.

Members appointed to the board Monday include William A. Powell and J. A. Francis of Smithville, O. W. Cleaton of Northwest, Tease Jervis of Town Creek, J. T. Clemmons and J. R. Corbett of Lockwoods Folly, Harris V. Thompson and Hezekiah Stanley of Shallotte and A. E. Dutton of Waccamaw.

Powell, Cleaton and Purvis were named for three year terms, Francis, Clemmons and Thompson for two years and Corbett, Dutton and Stanley for one year.

Scholarship To Be Given Again

Application forms have been delivered to principals of the consolidated high schools of Brunswick county for the Nursing Scholarship Award given each year by the Southport Woman's Club.

In addition, a list of the 21 nursing schools in the state is being furnished. The $750 award made by the local club will pay the cost of room, board and tuition at these schools.

For additional material or information, contact should be made with Mrs. E. C. Blake, president of the Southport Woman's Club.

Fishermen In Saturday Meet

Discuss Plans For Public Hearing Concerning Project To Deepen New Inlet

Plans to improve fishing conditions in the lower Cape Fear River were discussed at a meeting of some 30 persons from Southport, Carolina Beach and Kure Beach held at the city hall Saturday morning.

Southport Mayor Eugene B. Tomlinson told of the needs for economic justification for the public hearing and presented statements by Southport fisherman estimating fishing losses totalling $25,000 due to not having a passage through the Smith Island back bay area.

Kure Beach Attorney A. A. Canautas announced that a public hearing before the Corps of Engineers had tentatively been set for April. Mayor Tomlinson said another meeting would have to be held in April to make final plans for the hearing.

"The general approach we're going to consider is to maintain New Inlet (below Fort Fisher) as a navigable inlet and to provide us with a navigable channel, probably through Cedar Creek, into the Cape Fear River," Mayor Tomlinson said Saturday.

"We can prove now that when there's a southwest blowing, our party boats and commercial fishermen have to stay in the harbor. The wind makes it so rough in Long Bay the boats can't get out the mouth of the river to fish."

"The same thing is true when a northeaster is blowing, but only to the boats at Kure and Carolina beaches," he pointed out.

"When the southwest winds are blowing it's calm on the Carolina and Kure Beach side, which is north of the shoals, and it's just the opposite when a northeaster is blowing," Mayor Tomlinson added.

Annual Meeting To Set Future Of County Body

Brunswick County Chamber Of Commerce Will Meet At Boiling Spring Lakes Country Club

The Brunswick County Chamber of Commerce annual meeting announced by Philip L. Thomas of Shallotte, president, is to be held Monday at 7:30 p. m. at Boiling Spring Lakes Country Club. Announcements are going out this week to individuals and businessmen.

President Thomas stresses that all professional and business men interested in the future of Brunswick County are invited and urged to attend. The program will include reports of last year's progress, adoption of by-laws, election of officers; and a report on membership committee.

The nominating committee is composed of Foster Mintz, Bolivia, chairman; Thurston Mintz, Shallotte; Harris Thompson, Ocean Isle, Beach; C. D. Picklerrell, Southport; and Dan L. Walker, Long Beach. Johnny Barbee, Yaupon, is in charge of arrangements.

President Thomas says that last year a few citizens of Brunswick county proved that by cooperation and organization much can be accomplished. Twenty-four thousand colorful brochures were printed at a cost of $3,300, all paid for.

Other important projects are under consideration for this year.

Board Rescinds Stand On Games

Friday Night Contests Will Go Back To Old Schedule As Result Of Monday Meeting

The Brunswick County Board of Education backed down on its untested "no night game ban" after pressure was applied at a special meeting in Southport Monday night.

Meeting behind closed doors, the board lifted the ban after the Leland school committee complained of the action requiring all games involving members of the Brunswick County Conference to start at 4 p. m.

The Leland group said the Southport-Leland game should start at 7 p. m. because a homecoming program and barbecue supper had been scheduled previously.

After the Leland delegation left, the board voted to permit Southport and Leland and Bolivia and Waccamaw to play at night Friday beginning at 7 p. m. The motion for the action was made by Ernest M. McGee of Leland and was seconded by Homer Holden of Bolivia. The vote was not unanimous.

"The board felt the purpose of its previous action had been accomplished," the minutes read.

The board was referring to the action taken last week when a resolution requiring games played between Bolivia, Leland, Southport and Waccamaw be played in the afternoon beginning at 4 p. m.

Last week's action was taken because of recent unsportsmanship conduct displayed by spectators at county games. The board acted to prevent county schools from being placed on probation by the North Carolina High School Athletic Association and declared ineligible to compete in the state play-offs.

Former Judge New Candidate

H. Cortez Ward Announces Candidacy For Democratic Nomination For Recorder's Judge

H. Cortez Ward, Waccamaw township farmer, is the first candidate to announce for the Democratic nomination for Judge of Recorder's Court.

This is a position that was held for several months during 1962 by Ward, so the duties will not be strange to him if he is nominated and elected. He was not a candidate for reelection that year.

As a matter of fact, Ward resigned as a member of the board of county commissioners to accept appointment to the position after Earl Bellamy resigned.

Odell Jenrette came on the board as a replacement for Ward and W. J. McLamb won the Democratic nomination and eventually was elected to the post of Recorder's Judge where he is now serving. A wide-open field recently was Continued On Page 4
