Wage All-Out War On Polio Sunday

A concentrated effort to wipe out polio through mass immunizations in the county with Sabin oral vaccine will be conducted at all schools in Brunswick Sunday afternoon.

The first of the three "Stop Polio Sundays" will be held this Sunday, March 22, from 12 until 5 p. m., at all schools in the county. The two other clinics will be held on April 19 and May 17.

Complete polio clinics have been established in each of the 11 schools in the county and will be in operation Sunday.

The Sabin vaccine is a clear, tasteless liquid which will be dropped on a cube of sugar and fed to older children and adults. Infants over two months old will be given vaccine by dropper, spoon or paper cup. "No injection is required," said Dr. A. H. Elliott, Brunswick County Health Officer. "The vaccine is recommended for people from six-weeks to 100 years old."

All county residents need to take the oral vaccine, regardless of whether they previously have taken polio shots, Dr. Elliott emphasized. "Everyone should take the oral vaccine so they will not be in a condition to carry polio virus from a patient to a susceptible child," he added.

What is the difference between the oral and vaccination method of controlling polio? "The shot protects the individual from having the disease but does not develop in his intestinal tract resistance to the virus," Dr. Elliott stated.

"On the other hand, the oral vaccine develops in his intestinal tract an intolerance for the virus and keeps him from transmitting the disease from a patient to a susceptible person," he answered.

Dr. Albert B. Sabin of the University of Cincinnati School of Medicine developed the oral vaccine against the three types of polio virus. It is approved by the U. S. Government and has proven extremely effective against polio. Millions of people have taken it safely in mass immunization campaigns held in various sections of the U. S.

The "Stop Polio Sundays" in Brunswick are sponsored by the county health department and the county medical society. "The state and national medical societies have all endorsed and recommended the use of oral vaccine as a positive means to prevent polio," Dr. Elliott said.

"The Stop Polio Sundays" have been assured the full support of medical, health, welfare, educational, civic and governmental organizations," Dr. Elliott reported, "but it will require the active interest and help of every group and every family to make 'Stop Polio Sundays' a real success."

Dr. Elliott said expectant mothers and diabetics can take the vaccine in a cube of sugar in perfect safety. Only persons temporarily troubled with vomiting, diarrhea or fever should wait until a later date to take the vaccine. "Everyone needs to take Sabin vaccine on 'Stop Polio Sundays'," he added.

Brunswick Visit

Moore Visits Shallotte

More than 75 persons heard Dan K. Moore, candidate for governor in the Democratic primary, discuss his program for the state's needs in Shallotte Thursday afternoon.

Moore said he could not promise Brunswick any particular highway, ferry, bridge or tunnel. "It would be foolish to promise every section of the state exactly what they want," Moore declared. "Each section has its needs but we have got to balance the needs."

"Candidates should not spend all the state's money before election day," he added.

Moore suggested taking an overall view of the needs of the state. "Eastern North Carolina, as well as Western North Carolina, has been neglected in highway construction and maintenance," he stated. "My plan is to take an overall view of the needs of each section and give priority to those needs that are most important in each section."

He said he knew of the need for the Fort Fisher to Southport ferry. "I wish I could say I would see that you get the ferry, but I can assure you that I will give the project understanding," he declared. "If the funds are available, I will do what I can."

Moore, who was introduced by Dr. Roy McKnight of Shallotte, was the second of the major candidates to visit Brunswick county. Last month, Richardson Preyer was in Southport, Dr. I. Beverly Lake has not been to the county yet. James D. Bellamy, Jr., of Shallotte, a member of the "Farmers for Moore" advisory group, served as master of ceremonies. Guests introduced at the gathering included Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Dan K. Moore, Jr., Representative Odell Williamson and Sheriff E. V. Leonard. Shallotte Mayor Ronnie Cheers extended the welcome while Rev. William Gregory of the Shallotte Methodist Church gave the invocation.

Moore wants to increase the industrial development of all sections of the state. He suggested placing an expert industrial engineer in each of the Congressional districts to work with the counties in that area. The expert would look at natural resources and seek appropriate industry, he added.

Since the perfect school system is in the future, Moore said advancement must be made in the field of education. "We need to expand, improve and broaden our educational system in the state," he declared.

He suggested reducing the heavy pupil-teacher load, adding more vocational educational programs and fighting high school drop-outs.

Moore said he favors the $100 million school construction bond issue to be voted on by the people. "I am the only announced candidate for governor who has made his stand known to the people in this matter," he added.

In a bid to humor, Moore who is from Cantor, said the state did not need a summer governor's mansion in Asheville. "I already

Phonography Is Central Theme Of Board Talk

A city ordinance banning the sale of phonographic literature on the newsstands of Southport was unanimously adopted at a meeting of the Board of Aldermen Thursday night at the City Hall.

Dr. Norman Hornstein, alderman, said he was shocked at the nature of some of the literature being sold in Southport. He introduced the ordinance outlawing the sale of "dirty books" in this city. The motion was seconded by Crawford Rourke.

Persons convicted of dealing in phonographic literature can be given 30-day terms and/or fined $50.

According to the ordinance, phonographic literature is defined as "such books which were purposely written and advertised as being for the purpose of vulgar sexual sensationalism or the stimulation of curiosity in sexual perversions."

Charles Rogers, spokesman for a group of four Negro citizens, said he was concerned with the lack of police protection in the Negro section of Southport. "We want to know where we stand in regard to police protection since we are taxpayers," he questioned.

"If we are not satisfied with your answer, we will go to the sheriff's department, and further, if necessary," he stated. Police Chief Herman Strong said the city was giving Negro citizens the same protection as whites. When arrests are made for breaking the law, Negroes will not press charges, he added.

The trouble, Rogers said, was with older teenagers who were denied admittance to Herbert Brown's NAACP Youth Group meeting hall. He charged they loiter about the private club, starting trouble.

Mayor E. B. Tomlinson told City Manager Picklerrell to establish a schedule for more police service to the Negro section of Southport.

Member of the board expressed great concern over the absentee record of Alderman Johnnie Vereen, who has not attended a meeting in three months. In answer to a question, City Manager Picklerrell said there is no regulation requiring an alderman to attend the meetings. It was reported that Vereen

County Cancer Meet Planned

The Brunswick County Unit of the American Cancer Society will convene one of its most important meetings in several years at the County Agriculture Building at Supply, 7:30 p. m., April 15. The agenda will include crusade organization for 1964; consideration of establishing a Cancer Detection Clinic for the county; re-orientation of the county service program; election of officers; showing of a new 20-minute film "The One Million Club" dealing with cured cancer patients.

The unit president, Brig. Gen. James Glone, has invited all the physicians of the county to attend, as well as the county health nurses.

All recent cancer workers and those interested in supporting this most important work are urged to attend this meeting.

TIME and TIDE

It was March 18, 1959, and Senator S. Bunn Frink and Representative James C. Bowman introduced bills in the General Assembly calling for $500,000 for Southport port development. Renovating and redecorating work at the Fort Johnson Garrison House was completed Friday.

Tommy Russ, Rachel Hawes and Nell Redwine, all of Shallotte, were named to the Waccamaw Athletic Association's first team basketball—all star squads. Niel Singletary was serving as principal at Waccamaw school. Mrs. Merle Lennon, Southport school teacher, had the mumps.

It was March 17, 1954, and James Varnum of Shallotte received a four year grant-in-aid scholarship to attend the University of North Carolina. The E. F. Middletons, Jr. and Sr., made application for permission to construct a fishing pier just west of Irdell street at Long Beach.

Shallotte and Bolivia were eliminated in first round games of the Class A District 2 tournament at Kenansville last week. Shallotte Boy Scout Troop No. 506 won trophies for camping, attendance, advancement and inspection at the Court of Honor Thursday held in Whiteville.

It was March 16, 1949, and the Brunswick Farm Bureau backed the drive for telephone service in the county. The state highway department commenced work on resurfacing the four

Southport Girl Is New Miss Brunswick

MISS CAROLYN MINTON

CAPT. AND MRS. JACK E. MUNN & DAUGHTER

Officer Arrives At Sunny Point

Captain Jack E. Munn of Montezuma, Georgia, has reported for duty at Sunny Point Army Terminal and has been assigned to the position of assistant to the director of operations.

Captain Munn was commissioned in the United States Army upon graduation from the Citadel in 1957. He then attended the Transportation School at Fort Eustis, Virginia, following which he was assigned to Fort Story, Virginia with duties as Stevedoring Officer.

His next assignment was at Fort Bragg, where he served with the 82nd Airborne Division during the period December 1959 through December 1962.

His latest assignment prior to coming to Sunny Point was a one year tour of duty in Turkey. The captain holds Military Occupational Specialties as Non-Tactical Unit Officer, Stevedoring Officer, Infantry Unit Commander, and Parachutist. He has been awarded the Expert Infantry Badge and the Senior Parachutist Badge.

Captain Munn is married to the former Faye Lane of Montezuma,

Georgia. He and Mrs. Munn will reside at Fort Johnston in Southport during their stay at Sunny Point.

They have one daughter, Susan, age twenty months.

Revival Services At Presbyterian

Holy Week services will begin Sunday night at Southport Presbyterian Church with the Rev. John Campbell, pastor of the Winter Park Presbyterian church of Wilmington, as asst. preacher. Services will be at 8 o'clock each night through Friday. Thursday night the traditional Maundy Thursday Communion will be celebrated, with the Rev. Richard Holshouser as the preacher.

The women of the church will serve coffee and light refreshments in the fellowship hall each night after the service. Parents are invited to bring their children and the public is cordially invited to worship with the church during this holy season.

A blue-eyed blonde beauty from Southport, Miss Carolyn Minton, was crowned Miss Brunswick County of 1964 before an audience of more than 1,000 persons at Shallotte High School Saturday night.

The new Miss Brunswick County, the 18 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Minton of Southport, was selected from seven other contestants entered in the pageant. She was crowned by last year's queen, Miss Carolyn Johnson of Bolivia.

Miss Minton will represent the county at the Miss North Carolina Pageant in Raleigh in July. She won a $500 scholarship, a diamond princess ring, a two weeks vacation at Sunset Beach, a wardrobe of clothes and a trophy.

Miss Minton, whose measurements are 36-24-36, stands five-foot-three inches tall and weighs 120 pounds.

For the talent portion of the contest, Miss Minton sang "By The Sea" and "Five-Foot-Two" while dancing the Charleston. Mrs. C. A. Graham of Southport accompanied her at the piano.

Instead of asking the finalists questions, the contestants selected an important work and told what it meant to them. Miss Minton selected the word "Talent" in this portion of the contest.

Miss Minton is a senior at Southport High School and plans to graduation in June. She is vice president of her class and was voted the best looking senior girl. She is a cheerleader and a member of the Beta Club, Glee Club and Sub-Junior Woman's Clubs, is on the annual staff and in the homecoming court.

The Mintons moved to Southport last summer from Yokohama, Japan, where the new Miss Brunswick was active in school affairs. Among other things she was a junior snowball princess and a member of the student council. She was a member of the order of the Rainbow, Teen Club and homecoming court for two years.

After graduating from high school she plans to attend college. Continued On Page Four

More Candidates Seek Nomination

Two more candidates for county commissioner and one for the board of education have come out in the past two weeks.

Last week George Thomas Rourke, former acting postmaster at Leland and member of a family long active in Brunswick county politics, announced his candidacy for member of the board of commissioners from Northwest township. It is his first quest for an elective office.

Also last week James Thompson, former member of the local board at Leland High School, announced his candidacy for member of the board of education from Leland School District. Thompson also is a past president of the Leland Parent-Teacher Association.

This week Clemit Holden of Lockwoods Folly announces his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for member of the board of county commissioners from his township. He has never before sought public office.
