Career Day At Union School Helps Students

Career Day was held at Union Friday, in cooperation with Lincoln High and Brunswick County Training School. This year's theme was "The Need and the Challenge".

At 10 a. m., Mrs. I. B. Hankins, Guidance Counselor of Brunswick County, presided over a program that was held in the gymnasium. A. C. Caviness, principal of BCT, gave the invocation, and Covia L. Stanley, president of the Union Student Council gave a welcome address.

Special music was furnished by the Union Glee Club, under director F. G. McConneaughey. The chorus and "This Is My Country" followed by "When April Comes" by the senior ensemble.

J. Clemmons, principal of Lincoln High School, introduced A. W. Taylor, superintendent of Brunswick County Schools, who delivered an inspirational address. He compared the student's life to a loaf of bread. He stated that every child in school should strive to obtain the following: (1) Cover—Get firm education; (2) Dough—Learn the technique of getting along with others plus some means of making a livelihood—money; (3) Slices—Secure a piece of everything that will contribute to education and culture, be versatile; (4) Crust—Try hard to get the knowledge necessary in holding together his educational career so that he might be a success in tomorrow's world. "If a student has good cover, dough, slices and crust, he is bound to be a success," he concluded.

Principal Jonathan Hankins introduced the consultants: Technical trades, R. L. Porter and M. J. McLeod; Library Science, Mrs. Susan T. King; Teaching, Mrs. Estelle Swain; Beauty Culture; Beautician, Miss Gloria Hankins, Cosmetology, Miss Ester Mitchell; Bricklaying, H. Orrie Gore; U. S. Army, Master Sergeant Richard F. Handy; U. S. Navy, C. E. Bowden, and H. J. York; Auto Mechanics, Cornelius G. Stanley; and Health Careers, Mrs. Julian Sessoms.

The students assembled in the various discussion groups of their interest. Later, the consultants set up individual conferences which terminated the Career Day activities.

Candidates File For All Offices

Register of Deeds Durwood Clark was the only major office holder to escape without primary opposition as some 50 Democrats and Republicans filed for the primary and general election this year, says Board of Elections Chairman H. Foster Mintz of Bolivia.

In the Democratic primary, at least two candidates are running for each of the major offices, except for Register of Deeds where Clark, the incumbent, is unopposed. The contest with the most candidates is for the office of judge of recorder's court where four men are running.

Because only one Republican has filed for each of the 10 major offices in the county, no GOP primary will be needed for county offices.

Offices and candidates in the May 30 Democratic primary include: Representative, Incumbent Odell Williamson and W. J. McLamb; Judge of Recorder's court, Clinton Bellamy, Roney Cheers, Mercer Johnson and Cortez Ward.

County commissioners: Northwest, Incumbent Dillon L. Ganey, Homer B. Chadwick and George T. Rourk; Town Creek, Incumbent R. L. Rabon and George H. Lanier, Jr.; Smithville, Incumbent F. Herbert Swain and Thomas S. Bowmer; Lockwood Folly, Incumbent Ira Chadwick, Jesse A. Bryant and Clemitt Holden; Shallotte, Incumbent D. Bert Frink and William Hewett; and Waccamaw, Parley P. Forny-Duval.

Candidates for the state senate include Incumbent Carl W. Meares and Sankey W. Robinson, both of Columbus county. No one filed from Brunswick or Bladen, the other two counties in the district.

Republican candidates for the major offices include A. Lindburg King, representative; Mrs. Betty Warren, Register of Deeds; D. Carl Andrews, Recorder's judge, and commissioners, Thomas S. Gillis, Northwest, James W. Huffman, Town Creek, Claude Harrelson, Smithville, Martin Nielsen, Lockwood Folly, and Rudaw Russ, Shallotte.

In a non-partisan election, Board of Education candidates include Incumbent Ernest M. McGee, Jr., and James Thompson, of Northwest and Delmas E. Babson and Odell Jenrette of Waccamaw.

The only two candidates for justices of the peace are D. A. Long and Dave Morris, both Democrats of Northwest township.

Democrats in the race for constable include F. O. Williams, George Britt, Johnnie Lee Lewis, Golden Thornton and W. H. Robbins, all of Northwest; Robert L. Yarborough and E. G. Mintz, both of Town Creek; James S. Davis of Smithville; Ernest Hewett, Thomas L. Long, Luke Fulford, and Leslie L. Lyles; all of Lockwood Folly; and A. D. McLamb and H. B. Usher, both of Shallotte.

The only two Republicans running for constable are Robert Clemmons of Lockwood Folly and Nelson Babson of Waccamaw.

Coast Guard Cracks Down On Inspection

The Coast Guard Mobile Boarding team Number 2 will conduct motorboat boarding duties in the Cape Fear river from Thursday until Monday, according to Chief Norwood Gaskill, officer in charge of the operation.

"All boatmen are advised and urged to have the required equipment aboard at all time when operating their boats," Chief Gaskill said. "The Coast Guard is not out to issue citations, but if equipment is not aboard, citations, will be issued accordingly.

"With the advent of the boating season now getting under a full head of steam, we may do well to pause a moment to consider the sometimes forgotten word 'safety,'" he continued. "There is every evidence that more and more people will make use of the waterways in the months ahead. There is every evidence that with increased use of pleasure boating, there will be an increased need for motorboat safety."

"Too many people today are shoving off for a spin in their powerboats with only the sketchiest of information concerning the proper operation of a motorboat, the Rules of the Road, overloading, lights, safety equipment, effects of the weather, and so on. Equipping the motorboat in accordance with Federal and State regulations is by no means the boatman's final duty. He is responsible for its safe operation."
