Jaycees Hold Annual Banquet

The installation of new officers and the selection of Bobby Jones as the "Jaycee of the Year" highlighted a banquet meeting of the Southport Junior Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night at the Lorraine Restaurant at Long Beach.

The new officers installed during the meeting, to which the Jaycee members brought their wives, included President W. A. Powell, 1st vice president W. C. Jones, 2nd vice president Harold Spencer, secretary Tom Ray, treasurer W. C. Love, Jr., State Director G. W. Fisher, Directors Bobby Jones and Billy Doshier and Jay Bird Harold Perkins.

The installation service was under the direction of Kirby Sullivan, the first club president and a former state vice president. Jones was named "Jaycee of the Year" because of his many club activities. As chairman of the building committee, he serves as foreman on the construction of the new Jaycee Building where he has put in long hours of behalf of the club. Jones was the vice president last year and is a director this year.

This is the first time the Southport club has ever presented a "Jaycee of the Year" award. Retiring President Fisher told of the many club projects during the past year. He reported that the Southport Jaycees won five awards at the state convention last week, including the top prize for community development in the state.

President Powell, who received a "Spoke Award" for being an outstanding first year man, said he plans to carry on the great tradition of the Southport club and will try to create more in-Continued On Page Four

Parker Is Named Party Chairman

The selection of Ernest Parker as party chairman highlighted a meeting of the Brunswick County Democratic Convention at Bolivia Saturday afternoon attended by about 100 persons.

Parker, a Southport lawyer, was elected by the Democratic Executive Committee, composed of the Chairman and vice chairman of every county precinct. He succeeds Kirby Sullivan, another Southport attorney, as the party leader.

Mrs. Ina Mae Mintz of Bolivia was re-elected vice-chairman of the party while Mrs. Ruth McBride of Waccamaw was named secretary. Mrs. McBride succeeds Mrs. S. E. Frink of Southport in the office.

When only three persons announced that they planned to attend the state convention in Raleigh May 20, Sullivan moved that any Brunswick Democrat in good standing be seated as a county delegate at the state meeting. The motion was unanimously carried.

John Stanley, 75, spoke at the convention as the oldest Democrat in attendance. Senator Carl Meares and Sankey Robinson, both Democratic candidates from Columbus county for the office of state senate, attended the Bolivia meeting.

Meares said his one term of experience in the senate would help him greatly if he is re-elected. Because of the magnitude of state businessmen in the senate, as for the REA, which has become the major issue in the campaign, Meares said he supported REA in the last session of the General Assembly. "No one is more favorable toward the REA than I" Continued On Page Four

Dedicate New Shallotte Bank

C. L. Tate, chairman of the Board of Waccamaw Bank and Trust Company, announces the opening of their new banking facilities in Shallotte next Wednesday afternoon from 4 p. m. to 8 p. m.

The invocation will be given by the Rev. H. Arthur Phillips, minister of Shallotte, welcome by Mayor Roney Chouas. Tate will comment on the modern banking facilities and the appreciation of the splendid support and cooperation of the people of Brunswick County, which has made this new building possible.

Miss Brunswick County, Carolyn Minton of Southport, will cut the ribbon and the building will be opened for inspection. Refreshments will be served. All people who visit the bank from Monday, May 18 through Friday, May 22 will register for the Admiral radio-stereo combination and a portable stereo. The drawing will take place on Friday evening, May 22. "We cordially invite all of our friends in this area to attend." Tate said.

Local Jaycees Receive Award At State Meet

The Southport Junior Chamber of Commerce won the top state award for community development as well as a division plaque for community civic improvements and certificates for community development and intra-club relations and extension at the North Carolina Jaycee convention in Greensboro Friday and Saturday.

The state award, a 7 1/2-in. trophy, was presented to the club for work in community development in competition with every other club in the state.

The Jaycees received a 7x10-in. plaque for work in community improvements on the district level.

The Southport club won certificates for placing first in the state and in the division with their notebook on community development.

A second place certificate was presented to the club for work in intra-club relations and extension activities on the division level. The club co-sponsored the establishment of a Jaycee organization at Bolivia.

The Southport club's project in community development will represent the state in its field in national competition. The state organization will pay the expenses of one of the national Jaycees to attend the national Community Development Seminar in Norman, Oklahoma, July 19-21. During the meetings, the judging of the national winners will take place.

Former State Jaycee President Bill Suttle of Marion has indicated that the Southport club has a very good chance of winning. Continued On Page 6

Three Southport Ladies To Europe

Mrs. James M. Harper, Jr., of Southport, immediate past president of the North Carolina Federation of Women's Clubs, will lead 21 Tar Heels on the first Federation sponsored tour to Western Europe, departing New York City on Thursday, May 14. Two other Southport women, Mrs. Jack Hickman and Mrs. Grace Ruark, are making the trip.

The 21-day tour to nine European countries will climax Mrs. Harper's two-year term as Federation president which ended April 30. In keeping with her Federation theme on the importance of heritage, the tour will emphasize America's close historical ties with the Old World.

First stop on the flying trip will be Scotland where the group will visit Glasgow and Edinburgh before moving to London and a full day excursion to Oxford and Stratford-on-Avon where the 400th anniversary of Shakespeare's birth is being observed.

Other highlights of the tour will include attending the International Horticultural Exhibition in Vienna and the Opera at Berlin. Major European cities to be visited will include Paris, Geneva, Lucerne, Venice, Florence, Rome, Munich, Copenhagen and Amsterdam.

Rev. Lawrence Bridges
Bridges Speaker At Dedication

The Rev. Lawrence Bridges, Methodist minister of Franklinton, and former pastor of Trinity Methodist Church here, will preach the dedicatory sermon at the dedication service to be held at Shallotte Camp Methodist Church, May 24, at 11 a. m. Mr. Bridges was pastor of Camp church 1951-1954.

Plans for the dedication are underway, according to the Rev. H. Arthur Phillips, Jr., pastor of Camp Church. The church building is now free of debt, culminating a dream which began May 17, 1957, when Bishop Paul N. Garber, resident bishop of the Richmond area broke ground for the present church building in Shallotte.

The Shallotte church was a part of the Shallotte Circuit until 1961. At that time it became a station appointment, with the Rev. Mr. Bridges as its first pastor. The Rev. Mr. Phillips says "It can truly be said that work which culminated in the building and" Continued On Page Four

Art Classes To Be Taught Here

Art classes will be conducted during the summer in Southport, Shallotte and Long Beach by artist-teacher Elizabeth Zachary. Mrs. Zachary has taught art in Southport High School for the past year under the sponsorship of the Southport Junior Woman's Club and St. John's Gallery of Wilmington. The Long Beach artist is well known in North Carolina art circles. She is a member of the Associated Artists of North Carolina, the Wilmington Art Association and is the Brunswick County representative for St. John's Gallery.

Southport Soldier Helps In Rescue

Sgt. Leon Fulwood

Flying low over the Pacific at 6:30 a. m. April 11, S-Sgt. Leon Fulwood took a last look out the open door of an Air Force HC-54 rescue plane, jumped, and rode his parachute into the water.

He was the first of a three-man team of paramedics from the 76th Air Rescue Squadron to descend to the two men stranded in a life raft after their plane crashed 105 miles northeast of Hilo, Hawaii.

After Fulwood came S-Sgt. Philemon S. Reses. At 6:55 a. m. the other two men safely joined the downed flyers. The HC-54's jumpmaster, A-1c Harvey Randy Pickelsimer, himself jumped from the plane.

All three paramedics landed less than 60 yards from the men. Before he jumped, Pickelsimer dumped overboard a MA-1 rescue kit containing two 6-man life rafts, three survival packets and assorted rescue gear.

For two hours, these three combination parachutists-trogmen bobbed around in rafts in the ocean, keeping the downed men company until the Coast Guard cutter Cape Small picked them all up.

Any rescue operation for these paramedics is hair-raising. They

Several cases have been tried during the first two days of the criminal term of Brunswick County Superior court now being conducted in Southport.

Barry Crawford and Bobby Futrell both pleaded guilty to charges of breaking and entering and were sentenced to not less than 2 years nor more than three years on the road. The sentences were suspended upon the conditions that they pay $50 fines, be of good behavior and not violate any laws for three years and pay cost.

William Stevenson pleaded guilty to charges of possession of burglary tools, breaking and entering and larceny and receiving and was given a work term of not less than three years nor more than five years.

Stevenson pleaded guilty to another charge of breaking and entering and larceny and receiving and was given a work term of not less than seven years nor more than 10 years. The sentence was suspended for five years upon his release from prison from serving the first sentence.

George Gore pleaded guilty to charges of breaking and entering and larceny and receiving and was given a sentence of not less than two years nor more than three years on the roads. The sentence was suspended upon the conditions that he be of good behavior and not violate any laws for five years, be on probation, pay a $75 fine and pay cost.

David Earl Robbins pleaded guilty to charges of breaking and entering and larceny and receiving and was given a sentence of not less than four years nor more than 10 years on the roads. The sentence was suspended upon the conditions that he be of good behavior and not violate any laws, pay a $100 fine and cost and be placed on probation. Continued From Page 1

Scholarship

A Bolivia senior girl has been awarded one of the 600 North Carolina Prospective Teachers' Scholarship for the year 1964-65, Principal Thomas L. Davis announced Monday.

Miss Carolyn Segraves, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Segraves, plans to attend Campbell College in the fall. She will teach either music or chemistry after graduation.

The scholarship pays $350 per year and is renewable at the end of each school year. The only stipulation is that the recipient teach in the schools of North Carolina for four years after graduation.

Only 600 teachers' scholarships are awarded annually in the state to high school seniors.

Shallotte Getting Full-Time Office

Parks C. Fields, 26, of Pleasant Grove, has been named supervisor of the new Farmers Home Administration office which opened Monday at Shallotte. It was announced this week by Melvin H. Hearn, State Director for North Carolina.

As FHEA county supervisor, Fields will be responsible for the agency's loan activity and technical assistance to rural people in Brunswick County.

Fields was an assistant county supervisor in Duplin County prior to his appointment as county supervisor. He is a 1961 graduate from N. C. State College and has been employed by the Farmers Home Administration for two years.

He is single and has been making his home at Warsaw. The Shallotte office will offer improved services to farmers and rural residents of Brunswick County. Brunswick County was previously served by the Farmers Home Administration office in Whiteville.

The new office is located in the bank building and, in addition to Fields, will be staffed by a full-Continued On Page 6

Sunny Point To Hold Open House

Sunny Point Army Terminal will hold Open House for the public from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. on Armed Forces Day Saturday. During the day, visitors will be permitted to tour the terminal and visit the north wharf.

On display at north wharf will be such items of equipment as the combination Tug-Fireboat; a locomotive; fire fighting tank cars; and a fire truck.

Rail motor cars will be available on which visitors will be permitted to ride about the area. A brochure indicating the history, mission, and physical capability of the terminal will be issued to individuals desiring full details on the operation of the installation.

Vehicles arriving at Sunny Point may enter or depart at either the main gate or the north gate.
