

Signs Sell Brunswick

DISPLAY—Two signboards have been erected at strategic locations on U. S. No. 17 by the Brunswick County Resources Development Commission. One is situated at the junction of Highways 17-74-76 and faces northbound traffic. The other is north of the South Carolina line and also faces northbound travelers.

Farm Notices Being Mailed In Brunswick

Brunswick county farmers are urged to be on the lookout for their notice of measured acreage for their farms. The first of these were mailed Tuesday and others will be mailed daily until every farmer has received a notice.

It is important that farmers review these notices very carefully because if there is an excess or deficient acreage there will be a time limit for notifying the ASCS Office of his intentions regarding this acreage. In the case of flue-cured tobacco the time limit is 7 days from the date of the notice. For other crops or land uses the time limit is 15 days from the date of the notice.

To disregard these time limits can cause a tobacco farmer to lose eligibility for price support on his entire crop, and may well cause a farmer participating in the feed grain or wheat programs to lose his entire diversion and price support payments.

Any farmer who feels that his acreage has not been measured correctly can ask for a re-measurement by making a deposit to cover the cost of this service. If the farmer is found to be correct and the measurements are wrong then the deposit will be refunded. The cost of re-measurement is $1 per acre with a minimum of $8 per farm.

To dispose of excess acreage the charge will be $5 for the first place plus $1 for each additional place the disposition is made. The same charge will apply for taking out or adding on diverted acreage under the feed grain and wheat stabilization programs.

It is hoped that all farmers will be on the look-out for these notices and will take prompt action where it is needed.

Assembly Will Begin Summer Session Monday

The first program of the North Carolina Baptist Assembly at Fort Caswell will get underway Monday, commencing a busy schedule that will end on August 21.

Known as "The Assembly By the Sea," the conference center serves the members of the Baptist churches in all parts of North Carolina.

The summer program opens with the Junior and Intermediate Girls' Auxiliary camp from June 14 through June 19. The Young Women's Auxiliary camp will begin June 21 and close June 26.

From July 28 through July 31, a Training Union Conference will be held. The period from July 5 through July 10 will be given over to Sunday School Week and Junior Choir camp.

The Church Music Conference is scheduled July 12-17. Two Training Union conferences are planned, the first from July 19 to July 24, and the second beginning July 26 and ending July 31.

A Royal Ambassador camp will be held Aug. 2-7. August 6 through the eighth will be devoted to a staff retreat.

From Aug. 9 to Aug. 14, a second Royal Ambassador camp will be conducted. The North Carolina Baptist Assembly will conclude its summer program with the Youth Conference Aug. 16-21.

The property of the North Carolina Baptist Assembly consists of 248 acres of land located on the tip of Oak Island.

In 1949, North Carolina Baptists bought Fort Caswell. The purchase price was $26,000. The total investment in land and building is now estimated at about $150,000. The personal property has a value almost equal to the amount invested in real estate.

Approval Of Eagles Island Bill Delayed

Representative Odell Williamson's bill to create the Brunswick-New Hanover Maritime Commission for the development of Eagles Island hit a temporary roadblock Tuesday when a request was made for postponement to allow for amendment.

There were expressions of concern over some of the broad powers couched in the bill, and fear was expressed that passage in its present form might lead to a rash of other "commission" bills.

However, it appeared that amendments would not be drastic and eventual passage of the legislation appears to be assured. Williamson said he had been informed of the pending amendments during the lunch break Tuesday. He said he had agreed to meet with senators Wednesday morning and discuss with them whatever amendments might be proposed.

Williamson said he did not think any amendments which might be introduced today (Wednesday).

Southport Artist Exhibits Paintings

An exhibition of paintings and drawings by Gilliam Hornstein of Southport, will be shown at St. John's Gallery in Wilmington through July 5. The exhibition was opened at a reception held in honor of the artist on Tuesday evening.

This exhibit marks Mrs. Hornstein's fourth one man show. A large selection of work in oils and graphic media, among them some of her prize winning works are included. Other one man exhibitions by Mrs. Hornstein were shown in Wilmington at the Artist's Gallery during 1961, in Raleigh at the Garden Gallery and in Greensboro at the Art Gallery during 1964.

A self-taught artist, Mrs. Hornstein began painting in 1960. In 1961, one of her drawings was accepted in the N. C. Annual Artists Exhibition at the N. C. Museum of Art. Also in 1961, she won the Ethel Parker Cup for the best oil painting in the N. C. Federation of Women's Clubs Annual Exhibition, and was presented the first prize in graphics in the first annual Southport Arts Festival.

In 1962, Mrs. Hornstein became an exhibiting member with the N. C. Associated Artists, and was represented in their 1962-63 traveling show and has shown in their invitational exhibitions.

Paintings by Mrs. Hornstein were accepted in the 1962-63 and 1963-64 N. C. Annual Artists Exhibitions at the N. C. Museum of Art and were included in the traveling shows from these exhibitions. "The Light And The Dying", an oil painting by Mrs. Hornstein, which was shown in 1963-64 N. C. Artists Exhibition is now in the permanent collection at the State Art Museum in Raleigh.

Other honors received by Mrs. Hornstein include the Best in Show Award (1963) and the Graphics Cup Award (1964) in the Southport Arts Festival. First prize for drawing in the Lower Cape Fear Exhibition (1963) held at Wilmington College, and the S. Clay Williams Cup for the best (Continued On Page Four)

Lincoln Gym Is Dedicated

Dedication of the Lincoln High school gymnasium was held Thursday night with Frank Tolver, supervisor of North Carolina secondary schools, as the principal speaker. He was introduced by Principal J. F. Clemmons. Following the opening song, "America" the invocation was given by the Rev. Ervin Pellom. Greetings were extended by James Thompson, chairman of the Brunswick County Board of Education.

The history of Lincoln High School was given by Mrs. Viola M. Thomas and this was followed by a choral selection by The girls' chorus "Give Ear Unto My Prayer". Following the address by the speaker, this group also sang "God So Loved The World".

Announcements were made and guests were introduced by W. N. Williams, assistant superintendent of Brunswick county schools and the benediction was by Edison Moore, chairman of the Lincoln school committee.

Senior Citizens Loan Available

Elderly people, if they live in rural areas, need not give up the idea of building, buying or repairing their homes on credit.

This word comes from Parks C. Fields, Farmers Home Administration County Supervisor, serving Brunswick county.

Fields said citizens who are 62-years and over, living in a rural community of 2,500 or less, may be eligible for a 33-year loan bearing 4 percent interest to buy an older home or build a new one.

The FHA supervisor said elderly residents may also be eligible for smaller loans for home repairs.

He pointed out the increasing demand in small towns for rental units designed to meet the housing needs for older folks.

The Farmers Home Administration can loan direct funds to non-profit organizations for construction of senior citizen rental housing units designed for independent living.

Funds for construction of senior citizen rental housing units may also be provided by private investors with FHA guaranteeing repayment.

This fiscal year through April 30 Farmers Home Administration had advanced $5,586,976 to senior citizens for construction, buying and repairing of individual homes. The total loaned is up 17 percent over a similar period last fiscal year.

Over 1,200 elderly people in the 30 states, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands were able to get loans for new or improved housing through the senior citizen rural housing program of Farmers Home Administration.

Another $1,248,510 was advanced by the U. S. Department of Agriculture agency for the construction of rental housing units for senior citizens during the same period, July 1, 1964 through April 30, 1965.

"Farmers Home Administration's senior citizen housing loan program offers citizens, 62-years and older, an opportunity to have housing suited to their needs in the community (Continued On Page Four)

Big Haul Of Bull Dolphin

GAMEFISH—This spectacular catch of dolphin was brought in last week by a party from Dunn, headed by Joe Ruark, lower left, a Southport native. They were out with Capt. Hoyle Doshier, upper right, aboard the Idle On IV. At the top of the picture with Capt. Doshier are Dr. Belmont Kitrell and Mr. Craig. With Ruark is Leo Dowling, and standing at the right of the fish rack are the Black brothers. (Photo by Doshier).

School Board Sends In Plan For Compliance

Members of the Brunswick County Board of Education gave unanimous approval Tuesday night to a plan to be submitted to the U. S. Office of Education to meet the requirements of "General Statement of Policies: Under Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 Respecting Desegregation of Elementary and Secondary Schools".

The work of adapting this formula to the Brunswick county school situation will be undertaken when the board is informed whether its proposal has been accepted.

The remainder of a lengthy session was devoted to consideration of the 1965-66 budget, with some discussion given to use of School Bond money available for construction in Brunswick county.

Drivers Education was discussed and the board directed that more efficiency be introduced into the program in order that all eligible students be qualified under the program as soon as possible. O. K. Bellamy moved that the board authorize the purchase of two additional driver education cars for an expanded summer program. This was seconded by Homer Holden and carried unanimously.

Supt. Taylor advised the board that he had discussed the vocational teacher allotment with Mr. Bates but there had not yet been a final decision in the matter.

Arthur J. Doshier moved that gutters and downspouts be installed over the front and side entrances of the B. C. H. S. Gym. This was seconded by Bellamy and carried by a unanimous vote.

THOMAS J. HARRELSON

Harrelson On Job In Italy

Thomas J. Harrelson of Southport, student at Horton's Business School of the University of Pennsylvania, is spending two months this summer in Bologna, Italy, where he is working in a bank as a part of his business training.

This is a particularly pleasant assignment for the Southport boy, who interrupted his undergraduate study at University of North Carolina to spend one year in Rome where he attended the University of Rome. This was during the time that his uncle, Dr. Walter Harrelson, was in that city on a teaching fellowship.

Harrelson will return to the Philadelphia school in the fall and will be the recipient of a $500 scholarship. He earned this by making all -A-'s one semester and placing on the dean's list for both sessions.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fan Harrelson of Southport and the grandson of the late Sheriff and Mrs. I. D. Harrelson.

Primary Grades Books Available

Books for supplemental reading in the primary grades are now available through all facilities of the Brunswick County Library service, according to Mrs. Barbara L. Ganey of the Southport Junior Woman's Club.

Mrs. Ganey, Education Chairman of the Club which is sponsoring this project, says that it is designed to make available books recommended by teachers for remedial summer reading in the first 3 grades of school.

A limited number of pre-primers and primers have been purchased and are available, on request, through the public libraries in Southport and Shallotte and on the Bookmobile. Parents and children should ask for the "summer readers for primary grades", as these books will not be on the regular shelves of children's books, included in the groups are the Cowboy Sam, (Continued On Page Four)

Set Up Funds To Construct Keepers House

By REP. ODELL WILLIAMSON

The most important piece of legislation that passed the General Assembly this past week was the appropriations bill. There was a lot of people who were interested in knowing what was in this bill. The State employees were waiting to see whether or not the money for their 10 per cent pay raise was included. Of course, I am glad to report that this has been taken care of, plus a 10 percent increase for the school bus county mechanics. The bill also provided for the funds to carry out the Governor's recommended increase for the school teachers. This appropriations bill provided for the most money being spent of any appropriations bill that has ever passed the General Assembly.

I was able to get an appropriation of $15,000 for a residence building at Brunswick Town. With the contract being let this coming week for the museum building, it should not be very long before a contract can be let for the attendants quarters. These two buildings should do a lot toward making Brunswick Town a fine attraction for helping promote more tourists in our area.

This past week the House killed a Senate bill that would have required a person between the ages of sixteen and eighteen to have at least a ninth grade education prior to the time he could take the driving license test. The sponsors of this measure contended that this was a safety measure, plus it would help to keep this group in school. The opponents to this bill contended that we already have our school laws and that if a person could not pass the ninth grade and could pass the driving license exam, there was no need of penalizing this person for that. If by getting his driver's license he could help his father or family, he should be able to do so. This was my feeling on the matter, and I help kill the bill.

The bill setting up the Brunswick and New Hanover Maritime Commission for the purpose of promoting Eagles Island as an industrial area ran into quite a bit of opposition in the Senate from the Committee of One Hundred in Wilmington, but as of this time the bill has now been approved by the Senate committee, and I expect it will have passed prior to the time you have read this article.

More Bids On Ferry Project

Bids for the dredging of slips and approach channel on both sides of the Cape Fear river for the ferry from Southport to Fort Fisher were scheduled to be opened today (Wednesday) in Raleigh.

The Highway Commission also has advertised for bids for the construction of ferry docks on the east bank of the Cape Fear river at Federal Point and on the west bank of the Cape Fear river at a point about 2 miles above Southport.

During the past few days there has been some speculation regarding possible delay in inaugurating ferry service across the lower Cape Fear river, but the report Tuesday was that all activities in this connection will go on as scheduled, with completion possible sometime during the early fall.

Miss Brunswick In Charlotte

Sandra Corbett, Miss Brunswick County, is in Charlotte this week competing in the Miss North Carolina Pageant.

This morning the 20-year-old Leland beauty made the AP release with the statement that this is her first visit to the Queen City. She confessed to having butterflies but protested that she is not afraid of the competition which she faces through the coming week.

The five foot eight inch, 130 pound county title winner is expected to make a good showing in the statewide contest, according to Mrs. Shirley Ward, local pageant director who will accompany Miss Corbett to Charlotte.

Miss Corbett, who played the piano in the Miss Brunswick contest, has elected to dance in the talent competition. She has been attending the Betty Chess studio in Wilmington and has been practicing a performance to the lauded tune "Tequila". This dance she is expected to do in Charlotte with a professional touch.
