4th Of July Plans Are Taking Shape

Plans for the biggest 4th of July Festival in history at Southport are shaping up and Independence Day will be a time of busy activity here this year.

The parade will almost double the size of the one held last year, with 32 units already committed. Some units are coming from as far away as Hopewell, Virginia, and the youngsters along the parade route will delight in the antics of the nationally-known Dunn Clowns. There will be two bands in addition to the Shrine Drum and Bugle Corps, the calypso that was so popular last year will be back again and several antique autos including a 1904 Reo will be featured. The parade marshals will be a pair of Green Beret soldiers just returned from combat duty in Vietnam, and who were just recently decorated for bravery in action in that country.

The three-day festival will begin on Saturday, July 2, and will be climaxed on the evening of July 4th with a gigantic fireworks display over the waters of the Cape Fear River. The fireworks this year will double those of previous years. Events during the three-day festival will include two art shows, one on the sidewalk between Leggett's Variety Store and the post office, and the other sponsored by the Junior Women's Club at the City Hall. The Heritage House Antique show is another popular event that will be repeated this year.

There will be a boat show at the Boat Harbor and a musical interlude of popular songs by the Court Comets, also at the Small Boat Harbor. Sky Divers will bail out of their plane high over the Cape Fear River and will land in the water offshore near the city dock.

The U. S. Marine Corps will present their colorful and stirring Pageant of the American Flag; the Sixth Naval District Band will present a concert in the grove under the spreading limbs of the moss-covered oaks that have provided shade for 4th of July festivities for many generations; the Jaycees will sponsor a donkey baseball game.

The main attraction for thousands will be a U. S. Navy destroyer that will put into the harbor from active duty in the Atlantic for the long holiday weekend. Tours will be provided throughout the ship.

The parade will start at 11 a.m. on Monday, July 4th, and the band concert in the park will begin at 2:30 p.m. according to the present tentative plans. Honored guests will include Admiral Rhonke of the 5th Coast Guard District, Congressman Alton A. Lennon, Mayor O. O. Allbrook of Wilmington, all of the mayors of all of the towns in Brunswick county, the Brunswick county commissioners and many more well-known personalities of this area.

And, once again this year, a deluxe boat and motor, complete with a boat-full of extra equipment, will be given away by the Southport Jaycees.

Time And Tide

Thirty years ago this week lights were being installed on the tennis courts at Southport. That information came from a front page story in The Pilot for June 17. Two Southport youths, Tommy Thompson and Harris Sentelle, had sailed from Southport to Wrightsville Beach the hard way--outside.

Charlie Doshier of Southport had been the first World War I veteran in Brunswick to receive his bonus bonds; on the society page there was an account of the wedding of Miss Virginia Dodson to Colonel Mintz; and in the advertising section there was a description of a kerosene-burning refrigerator, a real luxury for people who lived where there was no electric current available. This was the year 1936.

On the front page of The Pilot for June 18, 1951, there was a photo of the graduating class from the School of Nursing at James Walker Memorial Hospital. Two girls from Brunswick County were included: Ada Marie Bennett of Shallotte and Mucille Alberta King of Freeland. Capt. W. H. Barnett and 10 men of the crew of Oak Island Coast Guard Station had been transferred, leaving A. E. Huntley in charge of the local unit.

A party fishing with Capt. Victor Lance aboard the Moja had brought in the first sailfish of the season; the Southport Volunteer Fire Department had run into a perplexing problem when called to put out a fire in a privy; and J. J. Hawes had a special on "E. V. Stock & Cattle Powder" at his store in Supply: You could get a 1-1/2-Lb. package for 35-cents.

Tobacco curling already was in progress in some section of

George Gold Has Job With C & D Office

George Gold has resigned as secretary of the Whiteville Merchants Association to accept a position with the North Carolina Department of Conservation and Development.

Gold will become regional division representative of the department July 1. His base of operations will be in Lumberton.

He tendered his resignation as Merchants Association Secretary, a post he has occupied for the past eight years, at a Monday meeting of the Board of Directors.

Board members accepted the resignation with regret. They pointed out that the appointment to the new post was a promotion, well deserved, and that Gold is well qualified by experience and knowledge for success in the new venture.

The board expressed thanks for a job well done during the past eight years.

Gold's district will encompass 13 counties in the south-east running from Scotland, Hoke, Cumberland, Sampson, Duplin, Jones and Onslow.

His immediate task will concern the coordinating of industrial development in the 13 counties, as well as other tasks, and working with industrial representatives in counties that have such representatives and lending assistance to counties that do not have industry hunters.

Gold said that he and his family will move their residence to Lumberton later in the summer.

First Session Of Baptist Assembly

The North Carolina Baptist Assembly opened its summer season this week with a camp for members of the Girls Auxiliary from throughout the state. From 250 to 300 persons are attending the sessions.

Miss Nancy Cousins, state GA Director, is in charge of the program for this week and several visiting missionaries are assisting with the instruction. Included in this group are the Rev. and Mrs. Earl Martin of East Africa and Miss Marjorie Spence.

The girls attend classes during the morning, engage in recreation and attend outdoor vesper services on the battery overlooking the Atlantic Ocean in the evening.

Next week will the first Training Union session, with a large attendance expected to come from all over North Carolina. The assembly program will continue through July.

Brunswick Boy Going To Camp

KENNETH HEWETT has been selected as the 4-H Club representative from Brunswick county to attend the annual 4-H Forestry Camp at Camp Millstone near Rockingham. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Hewett of Shallotte.

One-hundred boys -- each a 4-H Club forestry leader in his county -- will converge on Camp Millstone in Richmond county for the annual 4-H Forestry Awards Camp during the week of June 13, 14, 15 and 16.

Bell will again sponsor the camp in cooperation with the Extension Forestry Department and 4-H Club Department of the North Carolina State College Extension Service. The purpose of the camp program is to further develop, among the young people of our state, forestry knowhow and leadership in the conservation and development of one of our priceless natural resources -- our forest.

Special features of the camp program are training in forestry skills such as planting and caring for trees, identifying trees, proper cutting of forest for timber purposes, proper use and care of forestry equipment, and other forestry skills.

In many respects the camp resembles a "lumber jack, on-the-job training camp." It's a "working" camp -- where the boys learn by doing. There are a few lectures, but most of the learning takes place in outdoors as experts skillfully guide the boys in actual forestry skills.

Citizenship and character development are stressed throughout the week's program. But it is not "all work and no play." Anytime you get a hundred healthy, energetic boys together it is necessary to program an outlet for the tremendous energy such a group generates. This is channeled into such recreational activities as baseball, swimming, and other sports.

The 4-H Forestry Camp is held annually at Camp Millstone in

Summer Months Library Hours For Shallotte

Effective June 13, patrons of the Shallotte Library will receive an additional 12 hours of service per week. This expanded summer schedule is to permit wider use of the library facilities by summer visitors to the beaches, and by out-of-school students.

Hours of service at Shallotte throughout the summer will be: Monday, Wednesday, Friday from 9:30 to 12:30 and from 1:30 to 5:30. Saturday hours will remain from 9 a.m. to 12 noon.

Miss Linda Cheers, acting librarian, will be assisted during June, July and August by Miss Gail McBride of Waccamaw.

Gail, a student of the University of North Carolina at Greensboro, will also assist Mrs. Esther Robinson on the Brunswick County Bookmobile. To take care of the tremendous increase in bookmobile use during the summer months, Mrs. Robinson has added one and one-half days to the winter schedule. The extra hours of service provide longer stops in the Meco, Northwest, Phoenix areas, and at the beaches.

During the 3 summer months of 1965, county residents borrowed from the Shallotte Branch during the same period, with the library open only 12 hours weekly. It is expected that with the increased hours of service, book borrowing at Shallotte will probably double this year. Patrons of both the bookmobile and the Shallotte Library have access to the main book collection housed in Southport.

The county headquarters library is open every day except Thursday.
