are all reflected in the increase in hospital charges. Plans are in the talking stage for the expansion of the physical plant and facilities, the speaker reported. During a question and answer period, a question as to the status of the emergency room was asked. Yaskell, who is chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Hospital, gave the causes leading to the decision to close the emergency room as a free clinic operating 24 hours a day. The emergency room still is fully equipped, and a staff member is on duty and the room is available for any critical emergency.

Mr. Yaskell, in turn, asked a question of the Woman's Club, "Why is there no Hospital Auxiliary?"

After Mr. Yaskell's talk, the regular business of the club continued. Mrs. Landis G. Brown announced that the "Old Fashioned Flower Show", to be held with the Southport Garden Clubs, will be Saturday, May 11, in the Club building.

Under new business, Mrs. E. C. Blake proposed the club send a personal note to Margaret Harper, club president, expressing confidence, interest and support of her candidacy for Lt. Governor. A motion was made and seconded that such a note be sent.

Horticultural schedule in cooperative's tax payments were in addition to the thousands of dollars more paid by the cooperative's member-owners in their own names on property and income.

"North Carolina's electric membership corporations are taxpaying, locally-owned, locally-managed electric systems that taxpayers run for themselves," Hubbard said.

"They pay taxes on the same basis as the private power companies, even though their ability to pay is far less than that of the power companies. They have revenues of only $500 per mile of line compared with $6,000 per mile for the power companies."

"Had the co-ops operated on a profit-making basis as the power companies do," Hubbard said, "they also would have collected from their consumers an amount to pay income taxes. As non-profit electric systems, they left this money in the hands of their consumers."

in selecting a winner, but the amount of the stipend, which may be from $250 to $1500 per year, depends upon the students need.

He is also a finalist in the National Honor Society scholarship competition, was selected to receive an Angier B. Duke Scholarship and a Stanford University scholarship. In addition, he was awarded a scholarship by Harvard University, where he will study biochemistry.

As a sophomore, McKeithan won first place in the North Carolina State Academic test in chemistry and has received honors in French, biology and physics. He also received the Rensselaer Mathematics and Science Medal, is a member of the National Honor Society and last summer attended the National Science Foundation Summer Institute at the University of North Carolina.

In addition, he served as a chemistry laboratory assistant, a geometry tutor, and a judicial marshal; on various committees; and in the debating club.

Presently McKeithan is serv-
