Outdoors Club Visits Brunswick Town

This group of boys and girls paid their annual visit to Brunswick Town this week, their tenth visit in as many years. The youths are members of the Junior Outdoors Club of Greensboro, which camps out each June at Long Beach.

Heritage House Features New Look This Year

The Heritage House and Hobby Show sponsored by the Southport Woman's Club will be open from 10 until 6 o'clock on Wednesday and will open immediately following the parade on Thursday to remain open until 6 o'clock. Many interesting items have been entered for exhibition, among them a 1736 Kentucky rifle, exhibited by David Kincaid. Items from Southport's historical past are being shown and visitors will delight in seeing the many collections which will be displayed for the first time. Those members of the club who arranged the building are Mrs. Philip King, Mrs. Laura Roughton, Mrs. Mary Bellows, Mrs. Landis Brown, Mrs. Frank Hardy, Mrs. James Wolfe, Mrs. George Williams, and Mrs. James M. Harper, Jr.

Arranging the Homemakers exhibit room were Mrs. Mary Russ and Mrs. Beth Sell. This year during the Festival the six Brunswick County Homemakers Clubs will have a display at the Heritage House. In cooperation with the Southport Woman's Club, the clubs have representations of work from all the organizations in the county and from all the workshops held during the past two years. There will be finished products such as a mattress from the mattress workshop, suits and coats from tailoring classes, burlap pocketbooks, knitted and crocheted pieces, ceramics and a table and chair from a refinishing workshop.

Brief Bits Of NEWS

STATE PRESIDENT COMING
The Brunswick County Board of Realtors will have President David Godwin and Executive Vice-President James Bichsel of the North Carolina State Board of Realtors as guests when they meet on July 11 at Jones Tranquil Harbor Restaurant.

Outdoor Club On Annual Excursion

A large group of boys and girls from Greensboro paid their annual visit to Brunswick Town this week, their tenth in as many years. They were members of the Junior Outdoors Club for whom a June camping trip in this area has come to be an important event. The Junior Outdoors Club, Inc., has as its purpose Conservation-Education-Character building for boys and girls ages 8 through 15. In April of 1957, 21 boys and girls were taken on an afternoon fishing trip to Battleground Park, Greensboro. From this day, it was realized that a program for conservation education was needed for boys and girls.

Through the summer of 1957, a trip of some type was arranged for each Saturday, hiking, game farms, museums, etc. Each week the original group was enlarged until in September of 1957 there were approximately 60 children participating.

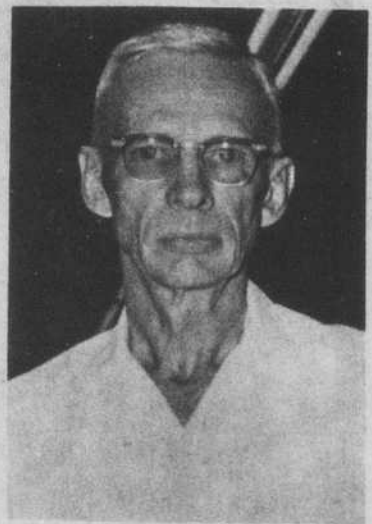

In November of 1957, the group organized as the Junior Outdoors Club with a membership of 61 boys and girls from ages 8 through 15 years and a seven member volunteer board of adult directors. This is an independent organization that was born and grew in Greensboro.

The directors applied for and received our charter in January of 1958.

The members of this Club are participating in soil and water conservation projects, forestry, wildlife food and cover, trapping, tanning, bird and fish mounting, rocks and minerals, shells, bird houses and feeders, dove banding, insect world, reptiles, photography, first aid, firearm safety, wild plant terrariums, wildlife habitats, squirrel nesting boxes, spiders, spider web collecting, thinning out a section of forest, camping and many other outdoor activities.

Each year in June, members camp out at Long Beach for a period of one week. During this week, each day is spent in some form of activity.

One day is spent on an annual trip to Brunswick town and Fort Anderson. This year was the 9th visit. For the same period of years, the club has visited Town Creek Indian Mound, Mt. Gilead, and Fort Fisher.

James A. Crutcher is new contractor for the Star Route handling mail out of Southport to Yaupon Village, Long Beach and Boiling Spring Lakes.

Open House At Local Hospital

Dosher Memorial Hospital will observe open house between the hours of 8 and 11 on the morning of the Fourth of July.

The public is invited to visit the hospital at this time and see for themselves the progress that has been made. The first floor hallway has been paneled and painted. The business office and lounge have also been painted. New furniture has been placed in the lounge. Visitors will be able to see the new processor in the X-ray department and the new office that has been added for the radiologist, plus the youth and children's room that has been recently set up on the first floor.

An oxygen room for all inhalation equipment has been opened up next to the children's room. The office of the administrator has been completely renovated. A private room is now located on the first floor. On the second floor, a new X-ray department has been opened up.

Winners Chosen In Art Contest

One hundred and fifty-two paintings were presented for registration on June 30 in the Southport Junior Woman's Club Art Show. The exhibit this year has a fine selection in five mediums. The winners in each medium are as follows:

Graphics -- "The Strength of Years", (A Dry Point), Robert C. McAdams; "Pier Series No. 7", Claude Howell; "Florida Sketch", Eleanor Davis.

Water Color--"Signals--Go", Dean Barber; "Moonlight", Dixie B. Browning; "Rocks and Weeds", Lamarr Brigman.

Oils--"After Clarence Died", Dixie B. Browning; "Landscape V", Keith Lambert; "Contemplation", Mary Jane McKnight.

Best-In-Show -- "Explanation", Grace Freund.

Crafts--"Bowe", Keith Lambert; "Guitar Strip", Mary Jane Funston; "Untitled", John Malion.

Junior Division -- "Lonely Drifter", Sandy Gottlieb; "Untitled", Timmy Bell; "Untitled I", Alison G. Beasley.

"After Clarence Died" by Dixie B. Browning won the Junior Woman's Club $175 purchase award in Oils and "Signals--Go" by Dean Barber won the club's $75 purchase award in the water color medium.

Judge Wesley Crawley of the East Carolina University School of Art completed making his decision on the winners Monday. The exhibit will be open each day during the festival until five o'clock. There are many paintings remaining for sale. This show affords an opportunity to see representation of work by local and area artists and perhaps purchase a painting for home decorating.

Time And Tide

For a long time it has taken a poor alligator to miss making the front page of The Pilot. That is the case now, and it held true during the last days of June, 1938. It even went back 30-years before that time, for Postmaster W. R. Holmes reported having taken measurements that long ago of a 14-foot gator that still is rated to be the largest ever taken in Brunswick county. W. A. Frink had been the captor. There was grim news that on the following Friday Bill Payne and Wash Turner were to be two of the three victims of the electric chair at the State penitentiary in Raleigh.

The front page out of Ft. Johnston, the occasion being the emplacement of a highway marker; the editor was charging his readers to become more history-minded and cited the wealth of

1968 Festival Queen

Miss Helen Faulk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Faulk of Southport, was selected Saturday night to reign over all activities at this year's Fourth of July Festival in Southport. Miss Sarah Barnes and Miss Pat Brown tied for first runner-up honors. (photo by Spencer)

Helen Faulk Is Festival Queen

Helen Faulk, 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Faulk of Southport, was crowned Miss Fourth of July at the pageant held Saturday evening at Southport High School auditorium. This was the first event of the 1968 Fourth of July Festival and got this year's celebration off to a successful start. Competition for this year's pageant was unusually keen, with a tie developing for the position of first runner-up. Pat Brown and Sarah Barnes were deadlocked for this honor in the opinion of the judges.

George Deaton served as master of ceremonies and at the conclusion of the competition the new queen was crowned by Kathy Joyner, who won this honor last year. The pageant director was Mrs. Connie Young.

Competition was in evening gown and bathing suit, with a final appearance in which the candidates for the coveted crown were given an opportunity to answer a question posed by the master of ceremonies.

The question asked Queen Helen was "If a visitor to the Fourth of July Festival asks you what is interesting to see or do around Southport, what will you tell him?"

"I'd tell him to go to Brunswick Town", was her quick reply, and it brought down the house. Her father is in charge of this historic site.

Contestants and their parents are as follows: Pamela Ann Floyd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas G. Floyd; Barbara Helen Faulk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Faulk; Kathy Louise Dudley, Mr. and Mrs. Troy Dudley Jr.; Harriett Ann St. George, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald F. St. George Jr.; Patricia Ann Garner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley T. Garner; Patricia Ann Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Edgar Brown; Sarah Jane Barnes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James T. Barnes; Frances Jorgensen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neils Jorgensen; Jane Carolyn Styron, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Styron; Marilyn Victoria Aldridge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold F. Aldridge; and Ruth Ann McHose, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mac McHose.

Fourteen On Honors List

Fourteen Brunswick county students have been named to the spring quarter Dean's List for maintaining a 3.0 quality point average on their studies during the quarter at Wilmington College.

Five Southport residents were cited for their scholastic

Change In Chairmen

At a meeting of the Brunswick County Board of Education Monday night Delmas Babson resigned as chairman and was succeeded by Norman Bellamy, who previously had served as vice-chairman. Homer Holden was elected to fill the vacancy as vice-chairman. Babson remains as a member of the board.

Bolivia Man Dies Suddenly

BOLIVIA -- William A. Kopp, Sr., 63, of Bolivia, died in New Hanover Memorial Hospital, Wilmington, Saturday. He was a native of Southport, the son of the late Albert Henry and Daisy Rourke Kopp. Mr. Kopp was a member of the New Hope Presbyterian Church and a member of the Pythagoras Lodge, No. 249 AF and AM.

Final rites were held Monday at 10 a.m. at New Hope Presbyterian Church by the Rev. R. R. Childs with burial in the Church cemetery. Active pallbearers were Charlie Taylor, William Harris, Jr., Malcolm Knox, Allen Maultsby, Jr., Joe Savage and Harold Willett.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Sarah Johnson Kopp; two sons, William Albert Kopp, Jr. of Raleigh and John Richard Kopp of Bolivia; two daughters, Mrs. Robert P. Sneed of Durham and Mrs. Douglas G. Reynolds of Wilmington; two half-brothers, Robert H. Maultsby of Arlington, Va. and Rustic Maultsby of Bolivia; a half-sister, Mrs. William J. Harris of Durham; and two grandchildren.
