Hello there!
From George Washington's diary in the year 1788 comes the following: "July 24th, Thermometer at 70 in the morning, 71 at noon, and 74 at night. A very high No. Et. wind all night, which, this morning, being accompanied with rain, became a hurricane, driving the miniature ship Federalist from her moorings and sinking her, blowing down some trees in the groves and about the houses, loosening the roots, and forcing many others to yield. . . and doing other and great mischief to the grain, grass, etc. and not a little to my mill race. In a word it was violent and severe . . ."
"And about noon the wind suddenly shifted from No. Et. to So. Wt. and blew the remaining part of the day as violently from that quarter."

So George Washington suffered the effects of a hurricane early in the season. This is something we do not like to think about, but we need to prepare ourselves before the hurricane season begins. Get plywood that fits the big window in your home and have it ready to nail up. And all the other necessities, get them together and be prepared.

We hear Mrs. Muriel Evans of Ash is in the hospital and we send her best wishes.

Mr. and Mrs. T. V. Smith and children Pee Wee, Anita and Vonda Kay of Decatur, Ga., were visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Smith of Ash, last week. David Reeves is in New Hanover Memorial Hospital recovering from an accident in the water near Ocean Isle. We hope he's soon feeling fine again.

Ruby Jane Bozeman is also a patient in New Hanover Memorial Hospital and we hope she's soon well again.

Sam Piver of Norfolk, Va., was visiting the Richard Pivers of Ash the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Formy-Duval have remodeled their home in the Ash area and it really looks nice, Marcelene.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Milliken are here from Key West, Fla., enjoying some of the semitropical climate that only Brunswick has to offer.

The Connors family of Kentucky is visiting Mrs. Conner's family, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Hawes of Shallotte, this week.

Mrs. Iris Marshall entertained her sisters from Charlotte and her mother, Mrs. Ward, also from Charlotte, during the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Bell of Wilmington were visiting the Wilbur C. Hewetts and Mrs. Evelyn Bell Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Oscar Gray is back in the hospital and we hope you're soon well again and can be back home with the family in the Red Bug Community. And we say Happy Anniversary to you, Mr. and Mrs. Gray.

T-View: Friday Night at the Movies: The Best Man. Henry Fonda stars in the 1964 film version of Gore Vidal's dynamic play about a man's struggle for a Presidential nomination.

Roy Rogers and Dale Evans lead Kraft Music Hall's Thanksgiving salute. The show was taped at Rogers' Apple Valley Ranch near Los Angeles.

Elvis Presley won't have guest stars sharing the NBC spotlight with him on Dec. 3. It'll be just Elvis and a singing-dancing chorus for an hour.

Jerry Lewis stands in for Johnny Carson on The Tonight Show, the week of Aug. 19, while Johnny does a night-club turn at Lake Tahoe.

We enjoy watching Joey Bishop . . . we just love Joey Bishop at our house. How 'bout you?

The little girls and boys at our house keep reminiscing about Disneyland and their trip years ago to the wonderland of California. They came to know well the fairyland whence all these dreams are made from the electronic storyteller of television. On Sunday evenings they watch the wonders of Disney unfold over and over again.

As dreams go, it was a cross between Oz and Wonderland, for we shook hands with Pluto, Pinocchio, Elmer Fudd and bumped against the rubber stomachs of the three little pigs who walk about on the premises considerably larger than life.

We sailed on the magic steamboat, submerged in a giant submarine, to see the giant clamshells and live mermaids, climbed the famed tree house of the Swiss family Robinson and went aboard the Isle of Tahiti for a cool refreshing native drink. It was a glorious day, and we thoroughly enjoyed it.

Old-fashioned buses and cars can be driven to the door of the Disneyland Hotel or just to take a ride. Or, quintessence of all joys, there is the Monorail, which stops and starts and whizzes into the middle part, not stopping until it reaches the rakish precincts of Tomorrowland.

When his Magic Kingdom was first dedicated in July of 1955, Walt Disney had the vision to prophesy, "Disneyland will never be completed. It will continue to grow—to add new things—as long as there is imagination left in the world." It keeps building every day.

We climbed aboard the pirate ship with buccaners chasing the village maidens in and out of doors, tying the governor in a barrel and dunking him into the village well. This must have been Blackbeard's headquarters.

There are days we play, "Remember the Time" summoning sugary recollections of the Magic Kingdom. Maybe someday we can return.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Leonard of Texas are visiting family and friends in the Shallotte Point area. Also Mr. and Mrs. David Leonard of Florida are visiting.

The Norwood Reynolds family of Huntington, Minn., has returned home after visiting the Ike Reynolds of Shallotte for a few weeks.

Miss Betty Moffitt, daughter of Col. and Mrs. F. G. Moffitt, is working at the News Reporter Office in Whiteville now.

MRS. WILBUR A. GOODEN

Miss Julia Kay Hewett Becomes Bride Of Wilbur A. Gooden

Miss Julia Kay Hewett and Mr. Wilbur A. Gooden of Woodside, Del., were united in holy matrimony Saturday, July 20 at 3:00 p.m. at Sharon Methodist Church, Supply. The Rev. Every R. Hewett officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Vera H. Hewett and the late Mr. O. Gaston Hewett of Supply. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Gooden of Woodside, Del.

Mrs. Freeman Hewett, sister of the bride, presented a program of nuptial music with soloist R. L. Hewett, cousin of the bride. The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Kenneth Hewett, wore a gown, designed and fashioned by her, of white satin, appliqued with imported French lace, featuring an empire waistline, slightly puffed, above-the-elbow sleeves and an appliqued train. Her elbow-length veil was of silk illusion attached to an illusion and satin rose. She carried a cascade of bridal white carnations surrounding a white orchid.

The maid of honor, Miss June McKenzie of Pinehurst, wore a full-length, sleeveless gown of green dotted-swiss, featuring an empire waistline and flowing panels at the back of the gown. Her headpiece was a jet veil of tulle attached to a bow of faille. She carried a cascade of yellow chrysanthemums.

The bridesmaids were Miss Lynn Hewett of Supply, niece of the bride, and Miss Alice Carraway of Elm City, N. C. They wore gowns of yellow dotted-swiss and headpieces styled like those of the maid-of-honor. Each carried a single yellow chrysanthemum.

The best man was Mr. William Keay of Newark, Del. Ushers were Jeris and Roy Hewett, brothers of the bride. A reception in honor of the

Party Honors Bridal Couple

A wedding party was held for Miss Julia K. Hewett and Wilbur A. Gooden and their wedding guests at Sharon Methodist Church Friday night, July 19.

A variety of sandwiches, chips and dip, cookies, nuts, and mints were served to the honorees and Miss June McKenzie and friends from Pinehurst, Miss Alice Carraway and friends from Elm City, R. L. Hewett, Durbin Varnam, Roy and Jeris Hewett, Kenneth Hewett, Mr. and Mrs. John Northrop of Pennsylvania, Bill Keay of Newark, Del., Mrs. Freeman Hewett and Mrs. John Carraway of Elm City.

Mrs. Linda Varnam, director of the wedding professional, and Mrs. Vera Hewett served as hostesses.

The bride-elect was also honored with a miscellaneous bridal shower at her home on Friday July 12.

Green and yellow, the bride's chosen color scheme for the wedding, was carried out in the refreshments and table decor.

Punch, cake, nuts, and mints were served. Mrs. Freeman Hewett, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Patty Jones were the hostesses.

After their marriage, the couple was honored with a reception at Sharon Methodist Church.

Green and yellow was again used in the table decor of an arrangement of white gladioli and yellow mums, centered with yellow snowflake candles. Yellow mum petals formed a cascade along the bridal table.

Miss Merle G. Hawes presided at the cake cutting and Miss Shirley Jones at the punch bowl. Official hostess was Mrs. Linda Varnam of Supply.

Giant in Woodside, Del. The couple will make their home in Newark.

Out of town wedding guests included, from Woodside, Del., Mr. and Mrs. Lester Gooden, Mr. and Mrs. Olin Gooden and children, and Kenny and Mary Bear; from Newark, Del., Bill Keay; from Pennsylvania, Mr.

Look into a Chevrolet pickup

See more truck for the money!

Start with the Chevy pickup's frame. If the gauge of the steel seems extra heavy—it is. To make it truck-tough. And notice the solid, tight double walls of the cab. Next: take a look at the truck-designed coil springs at all four wheels. A Chevrolet exclusive. And the independent front suspension for a ride that's just like a car's.

See how the fender liners are smooth as soup bowls inside. Road splash and dirt run right out. And check the engine compartment. Power plants go all the way up to 310 horsepower. And Six or V8, they all use regular gas. Pickups built this strong ought to be looked into. Your Chevrolet dealer's the man to see—today.

America's first choice every year since 1937.
