

Powell Bill Pays $140,000 To Towns

Brunswick County towns will receive a substantial share of funds provided by a one-half cent gasoline tax, according to an announcement by Lauch Faircloth, chairman of the State Highway Commission.

The Powell Bill funds, based on 1960 population and non-state mileage, are returned annually to North Carolina cities and towns.

This year's state total is $11.9 million, more than $700,000 above last year's allocation.

Brunswick County towns that qualify for the Powell Bill funds, and the amount each receive, are Bolivia—$1,312.81; Boiling Spring Lakes—$53,138.14; Holden Beach—$3,361.37; Long Beach—$47,668.77; Ocean Isle Beach—$5,144.33; Shallotte—$4,940.80; Southport—$15,359.05; Sunset Beach—$4,534.49; and Yaupon Beach—$5,339.05.

The total for Brunswick County is $140,798.81.

The amounts for Long Beach and Boiling Spring Lakes are among the highest in southeastern North Carolina: only Wilmington, Jacksonville and Lumberton receive a larger share of the Powell Bill funds.

The two Brunswick County towns rank high because of the extensive network of roads in the Tranquil Harbour and Boiling Spring Lakes developments.

Officials Visit Brunswick Board

Two officials of the Economic Development Administration, together with three board members of Southeastern Economic Development Commission, met Monday with members of the Board of County Commissioners.

John L. Frailey, of Huntington, West Virginia, regional director, and Ronald Ingle, of Raleigh, head of the State Planning Division for EDA, told the board of the interest their organization has in the Brunswick county area and reported on some of the projects in which there has been participation. Both had spent the weekend in Brunswick and had visited several points of interest.

Also present for the meeting were Mrs. A.P. Henry, Jr. and Orrie Gore, Brunswick county representatives on the board of directors for SEDC. Earlier that day the commissioners had appointed V.A. Creech, Jr., to fill the unexpired term of John L. Barbee, who recently resigned as one of the Brunswick representatives.

Mrs. Henry and Mr. Gore asked the board to pass a resolution designating SEDC as a regional planning and economic development agency representing this county. It was made clear this would not be in conflict with affiliation with the Cape Fear Council of Governments, a 4-county operation. After a lengthy discussion of the various factors involved, the board voted by a 4-1 margin to endorse the resolution which previously had been passed by all 10 of the other counties comprising SEDC.

The Board received a petition for improvement to the road leading off Road No. 1523, Town Creek Township. It was approved and ordered sent to State Highway Commission.

Memorial Fund Receives Gifts

Checks are coming in for the Katie Blake Memorial Fund for Doshier Memorial Hospital and the people heading this project have been very much encouraged with early response to the announcement made last week.

Arrangements have been made to set up a special account at Waccamaw Bank and Trust Co. in Southport where checks made payable to this fund may be mailed.

The project was conceived to honor Mrs. Katie H. Blake, a former nurse at Doshier Memorial Hospital, whose death occurred on July 11. Friends who wanted to do something in her honor have decided that funds contributed to a memorial fund will be made available to Doshier Memorial Hospital for use as the sponsor's share in providing a modern obstetrics unit. Cost for the completed project is estimated to be $80,000.

L.T. Yaskell, chairman of the Board of Trustees for the hospital, said this week "We are very much pleased with the response to this undertaking and we at Doshier Memorial Hospital are very grateful that this has been chosen as a plan to honor Katie Blake. We need this facility very badly."

Anti-Poverty Budget Reduced By $62,000

A cutback of $62,000 in federal funds has caused Sencland Community Action, Inc., to tighten some of its programs and drop nine persons from its staff.

The budget change was made public Tuesday night when he agency board of directors held its regular monthly meeting. The revisions were okayed by the executive board before approval by the other directors.

The program hit hardest by the cutback is Neighborhood Centers. The board agreed to eliminate six aides from the staff at a savings of $23,400, reduce fringe benefits by $2,808, cut travel expenses by $3,960 and reduce consumable supplies by $450.

Reduction in the Neighborhood Center budget was $30,618—about one-third of the proposed amount for the program.

The total budget request for $514,000 was approved last month by the Sencland board but the federal OEO agency would allow only $451,442. The amount Sencland asked for was the same it received last year, but executive director Charles Mumford said anti-poverty agencies throughout the nation have received less money for this program year.

The Sencland agency, which was started in 1966, serves Columbus, Bladen and Brunswick counties.

Next hardest hit program was Emergency Food and Medical Service which was cut back $22,479. Included in the budget revision were reductions for fringe benefits, $935; travel, $4,800; consumable supplies, $300; postage, $60; three telephones, $1,080; utilities, $180; and school lunches and medical services, $7,324.

Two Outreach workers were eliminated from the Emergency Services staff, saving $7,800.

No adjustments were made in the Family Planning and Planning budgets, which remained at $35,230 and $10,752, respectively.

Other programs affected by the fund reduction were Administration and Manpower. The salary of the executive director was cut $600 and the deputy director's pay was trimmed by $400. Fringe benefits were reduced $120; travel was cut $480; and other costs (publications and two vehicles) were reduced $1,280 for a savings in the Administration program of $2,880.

Savings in the Manpower program, which amounted to $6,581, were made possible by the reduction in the director's salary, $300; the assistant director's salary, $300;

Time And Tide

Dillon Jenrette, young white man of Waccamaw township, had been indicted for the murder of Louis W. Ganus. That was headline news in our issue of September 18, 1935. Four Brunswick county officers working on the case had been mistaken for bank robbers while on a trip to Whiteville during the investigation. The Whiteville Tobacco Market was going strong and had set its sights on a 20,000,000-lb season.

Rough roads had led to the postponement of school opening in Brunswick; Oak Island Coast Guard Station had been mentioned in an article in Motor Boating; and Sears was offering a $10 reward for
