Hello there!
Here it is the middle of June, and soon the month will be all gone and then so goes the time. Where does it go so fast? It seems just a few days since June 1. And you know this is Dairy Month, when we should favor all the milk products in our grocery shopping and diets for the family.

We used to have a dairy princess for the county, but that is long past. We have about five dairy farmers left, but they produce enough milk for most of us. I think it would be fun and educational to again have a Dairy Princess Contest, don't you? Maybe the Extension Home Economist could help on this one. We've had several folks mention it to us during the past two or three weeks. Think about it.

Practice drinking your correct amount of milk. Use dairy products in your cooking in many, many ways. If you would like some more advise, call Mrs. Mary Russ, Brunswick Home Economics Extension agent, at 754-4446, and I feel sure she will help you.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Hewett and children Rita, Keith, and Wendy of Savannah, Ga., are here with the Vance L. Hewetts and the Elbert S. Clemmons family this week.

July 4 is just around the corner and don't forget to plan the Southport July 4th Festival in your weekend's activities. There are many attractions for the young and old. We attend each year and enjoy it thoroughly. I take someone new each year along with the family and then they in turn go back each year with their families. This is an increase in number from this area over the years. And it is fun!

Mrs. Iris Bellamy is a surgical patient in New Hanover Memorial Hospital and we wish her a speedy recovery.

Commencement exercises for the Shallotte First Baptist Bible School will be held Sunday night with many of the young folk eagerly looking forward to displaying their accomplishments in Bible education and handicrafts.

We were visiting with the folks at Antioch Church Sunday night and enjoying the fine singing and fellowship. The choirs from Antioch, Mill Creek, and Shallotte First along with quartets, duets and soloists rendered an evening of wonderful gospel singing. On June 27, there will be a gospel sing at Shallotte First and all these groups are invited along with the Young Spirituals, Gospel Echoes and many more for another evening of good singing. Come out and join us.
