Nurses Draw Great Praise

Following the recent death of a member of her im-mediate family at Dosher Memorial Hospital, a niece of the deceased wrote the following letter to members of the staff:

'My Dear Ladies, "Words seem but a small expression of gratitude for the excellent care given to my aunt, Mrs. Delena Gantt. If Aunt Sis had been aware of your presence I know she would have loved each and every one of you. Her husband sends his thanks through me, as he is unable to write. He has praised you nurses to family and friends alike since returing home.

"Needless to say we were all quite impressed by your small hospital there, and are equally disturbed at the thoughts of its closing. Hopefully the people there in your own city will see what a worthwhile facility they have in their midst

'Mrs. Gantt's family, those of us who met you, have asked that in lieu of flowers contributions be made to J. Arthur Dosher Memorial Hospital. Though they will not amass any great amount of money, maybe it will show your board of trustees that many people outside of your town profit by the hospital's fine services.

"Continue the good work ladies, and may God bless each and every one of you. "Many thanks too for the kindness shown to a nurse 'on the other side of the fence'. I shall never forget you all.

"Susan Warren" Mrs. Warren is a registered nurse who has had wide experience while working on the staff of several large hospitals.

This is a photograph taken of the late Capt. Sonny Dosher, member of the U.S. Lighthouse Service, standing in the doorway of Bald Head Lighthouse, still the most famous landmark of this nearby tropical island. Capt. Dosher was another in the long line of local residents who spent their years protecting lives and property along the Atlantic coast. This picture is included in "Capt. Charlie and the Lights of the Lower Cape Fear," a volume authored by Mrs. Ethel Herring of Winston - Salem.

One fellow who was insidered to be among the most hazardous assignments in the terested in our recent account Navy during the early days of of a visit to Norway was Herman Sellers of Southport, the war, because the German who served aboard a U.S. bombers were close enough to home base to give them a destroyer on escort duty for the Murmansk run during fit.

Incidentally, we always held a special admiration for Remnal because he had volunteered for service when there was no threat of his being drafted. He was a veteran of World War I in which he served in the Army.

On Friday while fishing near the light tower aboard the Idle On II, Capt. Billy Potter reported losing the hatch cover from this Southport - based charterboat. Sunday while out with a party

For Heritage House

Early Tools Being Sought

Implements used to ease life in past years hand tools, farm tools, ingenious kitchen equipment - are needed to round out the display at Heritage House during the Fourth of July Festival in Southport.

Antique furniture, glassware and toys and period clothing are among the many items to be shown at the display. Momentoes of American wars also have been suggested as display items.

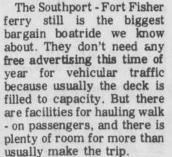

The loan of these and other treasures from the homes of Southport and neighboring communities is essential to the success of Heritage House, a joint project of Southport's two woman's clubs and three garden clubs.

The exhibit will be open from 1 to 5 p.m. July 2 and from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. July 3 and 4, at the Community Building on the waterfront. Admission will be free and noting will be for sale.

Larry Stubbs spotted the floating hatch cover, retrieved it and returned it to the sister vessel in the Watts fleet.

Larry said he found it about 12 miles from where it had been lost overboard three days earlier. What would you say the odds are against that ever happening again?

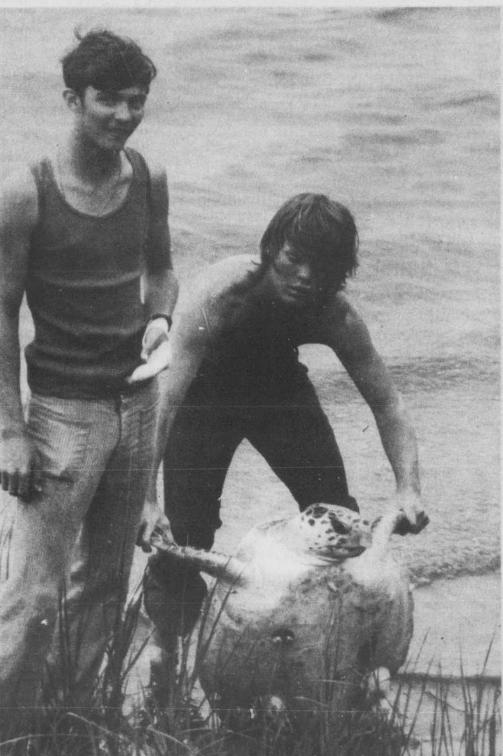

good in the Cape Fear River, for not in a long time have we seen so many boats working near the old U.S. Quarrantine Station and in the area between Battery Island and Bald Head. We never heard what they were catching.

We highly recommend this as an interesting thing to do, particularly for upstate visitors.
