

THE STATE PORT PILOT

Volume 48 Number 14

October 20, 1976

Southport, N. C.

22 Pages Today

PATCHING THE ROOFS at high schools in Brunswick County is a project underway now, sponsored by the county Board of Education. The roofs at the three high schools have leaked since the buildings were occupied four years ago, and the Board of Education has ordered that they be fixed. The board will go to court and seek repayment from the contractors for the work done to correct the deficiency.

Planning Board Action

City Introduces Plan To Annex CP&L And Pfizer

By ED HARPER News Editor

Southport plans to annex a large area of land - including the CP&L nuclear power plant and Pfizer. Inc. in an expansion which Mayor Eugene Tomlinson described as "absolutely necessary and mandatory' for the continued progress of the area.

Tomlinson cited four major reasons for the proposed annexation: the integrity of planning, orderly growth, the interests of individuals and indusry, and a broader tax base to provide community services. The proposal, which would push the tax base of the town to over one-half billion dollars, was conservatively termed "one of the most farreaching" actions of the town in the past 25 years.

The Board of Aldermen voted unanimously Thursday night to hold a public hearing on the proposed annexation November 22 at 7:30 p.m.

Tomlinson said he had met with CP&L and Pfizer representaives prior to the meeting to outline the city's plans. The final meeting of the Annexation Committee was held Wednesday night. But the mayor emhasized

Site Groundbreaking Set On November 21

Three federal grants for Brunswick County were Phase I construction at the announced during the regular meeting of the county commissioners on Monday. Chairman Steve Varnam, the Leland Sanitary District.

Order had approved two grants for the Sheriff's Department, including

$15,000 to establish a juvenile unit. The second grant continues the drug program.

In other business, the board decided to hold groundbreaking for the new courthouse complex at Bolivia on November 21, which is a

County Manager Don

Flowers, Jr., reported that

Sunday.

which is already underway.

Jr., who made the an-

the board will open bids on complex at a special meeting October 28 at 2:30 p.m. He said he had been informed that the board can award the Commissioners Willie Sloan and Thomas expressed opposition to allowing New Hanover County to use landfills in Brunswick County. Flowers said he had been that the action "hasn't been done hastily." He said annexation has been considered for three years, and that the committee was appointed soon after the current board

John Nicholson of Pfizer,

Inc., who was instrumental in pressing no position of the firm; "I only found out today" about the proposal, he

area within the one-mile

Nicholson asked if some told the mayor.

took office last year.

extra-territorial zone is excluded from the proposed annexation. Yes it is, he was told, in order that the bulk of the land can be eligible for. annexation under the state law.

10 Cents

Nicholson suggested that the city proceed "carefully."

setting-up the company's "I don't want to see it opposed on legal grounds that may be justified," he told the operation here, was at the meeting Thursday night but only as a city taxpayer, he aldermen. said. He said he was ex-

According to the mayor, the effective date of annexation could be anytime within 12 months of the November 22 hearing. Then the city would have an additional 12 months in which to award contracts to provide the required services.

Nicholson pointed out that the proposed expansion of the city limits would increase the area of Southport anywhere from four to 16 times and this could affect the city's ability to provide services.

Tomlinson responded that Southport provides electric power in the area already; the city provides water to part of the area and the county to another part at the present time; and police protection already is available.

The major increase, he said, would be in garbage collection and sewer ser-

Could Be 'Gag Order'

By BILL ALLEN Staff Writer

The public actions taken by a member of the Brunswick County Planning Board were discussed during a special meeting of the board on September 30.

A new cause was added to the list of the ones for which the board can recommend to the Board of Commissioners that a member be removed from the Planning Board.

"If in the opinion of the majority of the Planning Board, a member is engaging in activities that are disruptive and widely harrassing in meetings and causes harrassment of the Planning Board in newspapers and any other source, the board can consider any of these to be grounds to request the County Planning Board. He requested a show of hands whether the meetings had been held in an informal manner to permit members and citizens to express their views, pertinent or not, openly and freely. All members raised their hands except Mrs. Kellagher.

Chairman Gore asked the members to raise their hands if they felt "Mrs. Kellagher

Bloodmobile Here Friday

Southport will host its first Red Cross community blood drive Friday at Trinity Methodist Church from noon to 5:30 p.m.

"Since the middle of July the Red Cross has been meeting the blood needs of Brunswick County," a spokesman said. "This bloodmobile is the first opportunity for area residents to donate blood through the new program."

Mrs. Leslie Emerson, associate regional director of Donor Resources Development, said the first Brunswick County bloodmobile visit was at Carolina Power and Light Company for the employees and the employees of Sunny Point on September 27. "It was most successful, with over 100 pints having been collected.

"The success of this visit was largely due to the tremendous amount of cooperation of the sponsoring groups, the eagerness of the em-

(Continued on page 2)

Commissioners to remove has shown you the due said member from the courtesy as a working member of this board." Mrs. Planning Board," said the motion.

The motion was approved on a split decision with member Eileen Kellagher, the target of the action, in opposition.

Chairman Edward Gore expressed regrets that Mrs. Kellagher had written letters and provided stories to newspapers critical of the while the others were in opposition. The chairman requested that the record of the meeting show that he personally did not feel that Mrs. Kellagher had shown due courtesy to Planning Board members. Mrs. Kellagher said she was concerned because other members don't attend their Township Committee meetings. Since each township has town members, Kellagher was the only she said she believed that one member to raise her hand could attend the committee meetings.

> Member Lacy Tripp said all the "commotion" in the newspapers about the Planning Board was getting his "dander up. Mrs. Kellagher made a be paid for attending the (Continued on page 5)

motion that the members not

County Against Effort To Delay US 17 Work

By BILL ALLEN Staff Writer

The Brunswick County Board of Commissioners has gone on record opposing any "restraint" on scheduled improvements to Highway 17 in Brunswick County.

Chairman Steve Varnam, Jr., produced a memorandum at the Monday meeting of the county commissioners in which a state official said the proposed Wilmington-Raleigh connector could be built sooner if the US 17 project were restrained.

Regional Planning Director William T. Reilly reported on statements made by Ted Walters, director of planning and design, Division of Highways, concerning US 17 and the Wilmington-Raleigh connector in the memo to Executive Director Beverly Paul of the Council of Governments (COG).

"One of the problems (obtaining funds for the Wilmington-Raleigh connector) is the high priority being accorded to improvements on US 17, based on iocal expression," Reilly reported that Walters said a meeting in Raleigh.

"He (Walters) privately expressed doubt that the Route 17 imporvements will bring the economic improvements that local people anticipate, and pointed out that Route 17 alignment through Brunswick County is NOT along the seacoast, and therefore cannot be expected to bring the type of Myrtle Beach and Grand Strand development that it does in South Carolina." Reilly said in the memo.

"If US 17 improvements could be restrained, more resources could be devoted to improvements and additions to the Raleigh-Wilmington connector," Reilly said about the meeting in the memo. "Much of the present N.C. Highway budget is now being expended in Southeastern

(Continued on page 2)

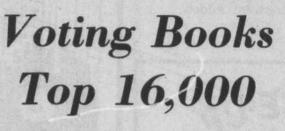

bids the same day nouncements, said the county

The board decided to allow has received $181,000 in county industries to use the Community Development landfills without extra funds for water tap - ons in charge. Landfill Director Kenneth Hewett said he had He said the Govenor's received a request from Commission on Law and DuPont > Landfill use "is one small area we can use to attract industry to our county, Commissioner Franky Thomas stated.

involved in duscussions about New Hanover County using the Brunswick County landfills for a fee. "But Brunswick County can't become the garbage can for New Hanover County," he added. The board agreed to allow the Landfill Department to require contract haulers to have vehicle stickers on their

(Continued on page 2)

Brunswick County has a total of 16,368 registered voters eligible to cast ballots in the November general election.

Board of Elections Executive Secretary Linda Babson, who made the announcement, said the county has 3,534 more registered voters than it had for the 1974 General Election.

The total registration in the county includes 12,026 Democrats, 3,712 Republicans, 597 Independents or No Party and 33 American party members.

The county has 12,777 whites, 3,581 blacks and 10 other minorities registered to vote in the November 2 general election.

The registration by precincts follows:

Woodburn: 552 Democrats, 72 Republicans, 9 Independents, 2 American Party, 438 whites, 196 blacks and 1 other minority;

Hoods Creek: 381 Democrats; 59 Republicans, 182 whites; 258 blacks.

Leland: 922 Democrats; 141 Republicans; 4 Independents: 13 American Party; 5 no party, 793 whites; 292 blacks.

Belville: 384 Democrats, 108 Republicans; 14 Independents; 335 whites, 171 blacks.

Town Creek: 725 Democrats, 210 Republicans, 23 Independents; 1 American Party; 1 no party; 719 whites; 240 blacks; 1 other minority.

Bolivia; 733 Democrats; 521 Republicans; 65 Independents; 1 American Party; 1 no party; 1,124 whites; 194 blacks, 3 other minority Southport 1: 813 Democrats; 323 Republicans; 124 Independents; 4 American Party; 1,172 whites; 90 blacks, 2 other minority.

Southport II: 806 Democrats; 175 Republicans, 69 Independents; 4 American Party; 621 whites; vices. Tomlinson said the federal government will give the city an "outright grant" to expand the waste treatment plant.

(Continued on page 4)

Nicholson said he hoped the board members realized the impact of what they were voting on.

Alderman Conley Koontz asked that once the city decided to annex, could the action be rescinded? The answer was "probably yes," but Tomlinson said the proposal has been made in good faith. Alderman Pierce Horne, who seconded Mary McHose's motion to call for the public hearing on the question, said the board action was a "resolution of intent.'

Tomlinson said that in his meetings with CP&L and Pfizer officials he stressed the point that the city has never been guilty of fiscal irresponsibility. He said he assured both firms that the city books were open to their inspection.

He said the city has always provided leadership for the area "and all of Brunswick County," and "just because we would be getting a larger tax base we won't be going hog wild" in spending.

He recognized F.C. Lennon CP&L regional manager who has retired and will live at Long Beach - "which makes him one of us."

Lennon said he remembered in 1954 when Mayor Gilbert (late husband of present board member Dorothy Gilbert) signed the contract with CP&L to provide Southport with electricity. He said he has watched the area grow, and pointed to the fact that people no longer have to move away to find job opportunities.

But he said the reaction of industry to the proposed annexation is a question the city must face.

Tomlinson, who said he could not point to exact figures, said the increased valuation would considerably lower the city tax rate. At 20 cents, combined with the county's 42.5-cent rate, Tomlinson said the total

(Continued on page 2)