

Symphony will tune up for holidays in concert

A family-oriented concert for the holiday season will open the North Carolina Symphony season in Brunswick County.

The concert will be at 8 p.m. Monday, November 30, in Hatch Auditorium at the North Carolina Baptist Assembly, Fort Caswell.

An old-fashioned Christmas sing-along is a highlight of the concert. The program will feature a variety of holiday music including Bach's "Ave Maria", Prokofiev's "Winter Bonfire" and Leontovich's "Carol of the Bells", as well as a Christmas medley arranged by Carmen Dragon.

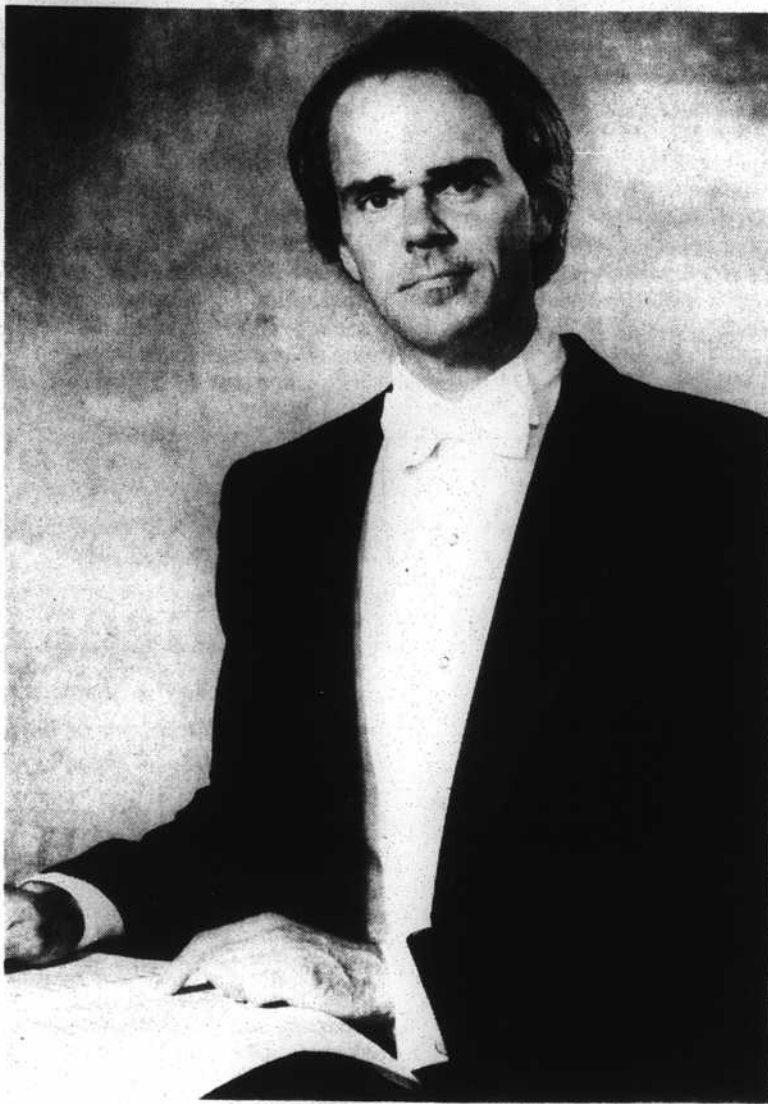

Jackson Parkhurst, director of education for the North Carolina Symphony, will conduct the evening's performance.

Those attending from the South Brunswick Islands, Shallotte and Supply areas of the county will be able to take chartered buses to the concert. The bus schedule is: 6 p.m. Security Savings and Loan Association in Calabash; 6:30 p.m. United Carolina Bank in Ocean Isle Beach; 7 p.m. South Brunswick Islands Chamber of Commerce; and 7:15 p.m. Supply Baptist Church. Bus seats can be reserved by calling Gelene Russ at 754-6237. The cost is $1 per round trip, to be paid directly to the bus driver.

Subscription tickets for the North Carolina Symphony are available through volunteers and at both chambers of commerce, the Southport and Shallotte branches of the Brunswick County Library and the Blue Dolphin Gallery.

The subscriptions, $18 for general admission and $14 for senior citizens and students, include a ticket for the May 10 concert planned as the gala opening of the Odell Williamson Auditorium at Brunswick Community College.

The price of the subscription also funds two children's concerts to be held in April. These educational concerts are arranged through Brunswick County schools and are free of admission costs to all third through sixth grade students.

Single tickets for the holiday concert only will be available at the door the evening of the concert. Prices will be $10 for general admission and $8 for senior citizens and students.

More information can be obtained by calling Stephanna Tewey at 457-5656 or Etherine Butler at 754-6706.

Tewey, president of the local chapter of the N. C. Symphony Society, reminds volunteers who are selling subscriptions to turn in their ticket subscriptions and contributions to the libraries as soon as possible.

'Noise's Off' next theater production

Brunswick Little Theater will present its fall production "Noise's Off" on November 27-28 (in conjunction with the Robert Ruark Festival) and December 4-5.

The production is a British comedy that provides the audience an entertaining view of what goes into a little theater production. Act I is a dress rehearsal, Act II goes behind the scenes and Act III is the actual production.

Tickets are available at the chamber of commerce office and Sweettreat Ice Cream Parlor. Discounts are available for groups.

Curtain time is 8 p.m. Funding for the production has been provided by the Grassroots Arts Program.

New deadlines for Pilot reports

Deadlines for some news items submitted to The State Port Pilot have been revised.

Weddings and engagements are due on Fridays for inclusion in the next week's newspaper. Only weddings and engagements of individuals with direct ties to Brunswick County will be published. Wedding forms are available at the Pilot office and should be submitted within two weeks of the ceremony.

Recreation-related items, including senior citizen programs, and school news must be submitted by noon on Fridays.

Church news, including sermon topics and programs, arts and crafts, special community events, entertainment news, business news, club meetings and reports must be submitted by 5 p.m. Mondays.

Items brought to the Pilot office after the deadlines will be held for publication the following week.

KAB mascot

The Keep America Beautiful Committee of Brunswick County Parks and Recreation Department needs a mascot.

The public is invited to design a mascot or come up with a name for one and send it to the recreation department at P. O. Box 249, Bolivia, NC 28422.

The deadline for entries is December 4. Keep America Beautiful will judge the entries and select a mascot. The winner will be recognized.

More information can be obtained by calling Kelly Fields at 1-800-222-4790 or 253-4357.

Lakes resident, Guys & Dolls club recognized by extension

A Boiling Spring Lakes resident was recognized as "member of the year" by the Brunswick County Extension Homemakers at the group's annual awards luncheon.

The Guys and Dolls Club was recognized as the 1992 Brunswick County Extension Homemakers Club of the Year.

Julia Bailey, a member of the Boiling Spring Lakes Extension Homemakers Club, was awarded an engraved silver bowl. Her name was added to a plaque featuring past honorees on display at the county extension office at Bolivia.

During the past year Mrs. Bailey donated 547 hours of her time in educational and service type efforts, reaching 9,886 people. Included in this was teaching heritage skills, working with 4-Hers, assistance with the educational issues committees, helping on District Day, serving on the county council and participating in many of her club's community service projects. Mrs. Bailey also serves as a first vice-president for the extension homemakers' county organization and is chairman of the global issues educational committee.

"If she earned $5 an hour for her volunteer work Mrs. Bailey would have contributed nearly $3,000 worth of time to help others in her club and Brunswick County," it was pointed out.

Nominated for member of the year were Jean Mears, Reva Ferguson, Edith Ogden, Rosemary Whaley and Debbie Greiner.

Members of the Guys and Dolls Club are active in their community, in the leadership of extension homemakers and the Volunteers in Extension Education Program. Benefactors of the club's service projects include Brunswick Adult Day Care, the American Red Cross bloodmobile, the Adopt-a-Highway program and Brunswick County Senior Games. Members are active in community appearance groups and nursing home projects. They participate in leadership opportunities sponsored by extension homemakers and promote many educational issues.

Several awards were given to extension homemakers clubs for their attention to different issues. The Town Creek club was honored for family issues, Boiling Spring Lakes club for environmental issues and global issues and the Supply club for special projects.
