Phone books to be recycled

Atlantic Telephone Membership Corp. customers can leave used telephone directories at ten recycling drop sites.

Phase II of the telephone book project sponsored by the Brunswick County Recycling Program excludes customers of Southern Bell.

Drop sites for those in the Leland, Southport and Oak Island areas were previously listed.

The front and back covers and inserts have to be removed and discarded from the books. Collection will begin Tuesday, June 1, and continue through Friday, July 2, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

They can be left in special containers placed at town halls in Boiling Spring Lakes, Holden Beach, Ocean Isle Beach, Sunset Beach, Calabash, Shallotte, at the Brunswick County Government Center near Bolivia, Longwood Post Office, Ash Post Office and the Atlantic Telephone Membership business office in Shallotte.

Businesses and industries with more than ten books can arrange for pickup by contacting Mary McCarley, recycling coordinator, 253-4488.

County residents received 62.5 tons of telephone books this year. "Let's not put material in the landfill that can be readily recycled," said Ms. McCarley.
