Shanking: cause and cure #1

Making contact with the hosel of the club instead of the club face is called shanking. It's a serious detriment to proper hitting and has four possible causes. Here's one:

Cause

Your weight may move onto your toes in the downswing, causing your body to tip forward. The club will hit improperly.

Cure

Your weight should be on the balls of both feet at all times. To learn this try the following:

- Place a head cover just beyond the ball.
- Do not hit the head cover on the downswing.
- If you hit the head cover, you have lurched forward or are swinging on an improper swing path.

GOLF REPORT

Double-eagle highlights event

The Fox Squirrel Men's Golf Association team traveled to Shallotte on May 19 to play the Brierwood MGA in an interclub golf match.

Fox Squirrel came out on top in a very close team match, winning by the score of 52-44.

Several of the Fox Squirrel players scored shutouts during their individual matches, including Jack Hall, Fuz Clark, Og Parrott, Elmer Schorzman, Steve Barthold, Jim Jefferies, Jerry Call and Mike Williams.

This was the second match between these teams this year, with Fox Squirrel having won the initial match in April.

One of the highlights of the day was when the Brierwood pro Charlie Webster scored a rare double-eagle on a par-five hole to beat Fox Squirrel pro Rick Vigland, who made an eagle on the same hole.

The next interclub match for the Fox Squirrel Men's Golf Association team is scheduled for June 8 at home against Oak Island, a team that beat Fox Squirrel both matches last year.

Hole-in-one aids victory

Bob Whiting's hole-in-one contributed to victory in the Oak Island Linksters round-robin tourney May 15-16.

Whiting, teamed with Charlie Roberts, aced the 160-yard, par-three 16th hole for a net zero.

Roberts and Whiting topped Flight C in the tourney, two points ahead of Red Hinchcliffe and Doug Horton.

Terry Vereen and Hannon Templeton ran away with Flight A, five points ahead of Bill Montross and Bill Ozanne.

The all-Irish team of Joe O'Brien and Jack Shea took Flight B by two points over Milt Reece and Bob Slockett.

Net 58 wins FOP tourney

The second annual Brunswick County Lodge #53 Fraternal Order of Police Easter Seals Golf Tournament was held on May 22 at The Gauntlet.

The first-place team of Tim Fowler, John Gore, Austin Heath and Will White shot a 58 in the captain's choice format. Second place was captured by Wayne Wright, Scott Ward, David Leach and Dale Brannon with a score of 60.

They beat out the third place team of Lee Aldridge, Jerry Spencer, Philip Presson and Davis Herring Jr., who also shot a score of 60. A tie-breaker was used to decide second and third place.

The team batting average was .406 with 121 hits in 298 times at bat. Fennell believes the middle school baseball and softball programs should be taught like the high school coaches will teach them.
