DUTY TO GOD

OUR REGULAR SUNDAY SERMON An Appeal to Put Forth the Best That is Within Us.

New York City.-Dr. H. Allen Tup-per, pastor of the Fifteenth Street Baptist Church, preached Sunday on "Mar-riage and Divorce." The Text was Matthew xix:4-6: "And He answered and said unto them: Have ye not read that He which made them at the beginning made them male and female, and said for this cause shall a man leave father and mother and shall cleave to his wife; and they twain shall be one flesh? "What therefore God hath joined together, let not man put asunder." Dr. Tupper said: Marriage was the first institutional gift of God to man; and the family was the first organization formed by God for the blessing of humanity. During all the centuries, amid the changes of governments, ceremonies and dispensations, the impress of divine favor rested upon these heaven-born establishments, and when their integrity has been maintained they have been the sources and centres of light and love: but when their integrity has been assailed untold sorrows and suffering have come upon mankind.

Christ wrought the beginning of His ering of families; and the pen of inspiration pictures Him as the Bridegroom and His Church as the Bride. The holy ordinance of marriage was crease human happiness, and to provide that through well regulated families truth and righteousness might be transmitted from age to age. The vio-

the cunning Pharisees attempted to entrap the divine Teacher by asking Him question: "Is it lawful for a man put away his wife for every cause?" In that day there existed two opposing schools. At the head of one was Shammai, who insisted that divorce should be allowed only in the case of adultery; at the head of the other was Hillel, who maintained that a man might put away his wife for any cause at all. The this terrible traffic. tempters of Christ thought that the was well set, for if He failed to Hillel, one of whose strong adherents averaged 31.28 to every divorce. was Herod, who had just beheaded John the Baptist. His first word is that the Christian must not force a separation. If the heathen husband or wife is willing to continue the union, the Christian most be willing to do so,

The marriage is legitimate and the children are legitimate. But the other word is this: Suppose the heathen usgand or wife is not willing to keep up the marriage relation and insists on separation, then what? Well, let the unbelieving husband or wife go, says Paul. He uses the word "depart" here, not the technical word "put away." It would seem that this is a case of voluntary separation, not a legal divorce. If this be true, there could, of course, be no re-marriage in such eases, for the marriage has never been legally annulled. This alternative is not even raised by Paul in this connection. It may be properly said, then, that Paul did not advocate divorce for anything save adultery, though he does not even indicate this exception save by This divine law is set forth in no uncertain sound on the pages of God's Word; and the disobedience of it must entail sorrowful results to the individual, the family, and the community, Illinois gives a fair illustration of the laws of almost all the States. After reciting a long list of grounds upon which a divorce may be granted, the law concludes by empowering the court to grant a divorce upon any plea which it thinks justifiable. The Western States, in order to increase their population, are making open and shameless bids for those dissatisfied with the married state to come to them and have it dissolved.

Statistics given by the Chicago Daily News Almanac, 1903, show the following number of divorces granted in leading cities of our country in 1901: Providence, 327; Cincinnati, 405; Bos ton, 406; Cleveland, 454; Philadelphia. 492: St. Louis, 573; New York, 817; San Francisco, 846; Chicago, 1808. The statistics of Carroll D. Wright, Commissioner of Labor, for twenty years, from 1867 to 1886, show 328,712 divorces granted in the United States in those years. In 1867, 9937 divorces were granted, while in 1886 25,535 di vorces were granted, making an increase of 157 per cent. The increase of population was sixty per cent. during the same period.

In 1867 Ohio granted 901 divorces and in 1900 the State granted 3217 divorces-one to every eleven marriages solemnized in the State. Indiana granted, in 1867, 1096 divorces, and in 1900, 4599-one divorce to every six marriages solemnized in the State. It gives four grounds for divorce-namely, adultery, attempt of either husband or wife on the life of the other; malicious, willful desertion and continued violation of the marriage heathen and vice versa. He has two vows. Both in France and Germany attempts are being made to escape threatening dangers by the enforce ment of stricter laws on marriage and divorce. In New England and Wales there were 176 divorces in 1870; 336 in 1880; 364 in 1900, and 727 in 1889; and the growing evil is at last attracting the attention of the lawmakers. We do not recognize the family at all in our na tional constitution. It appears in our State laws only as an object of some care, but not as an element of political power. Mr. Gladstone declared that his fear for our future centered very largely upon our ability to protect the family, for weakness here means disaster everywhere.

Realizing the perilous position in which we are placed by the increasing social evils resulting from divorces, number of public spirited men initiated a corrective movement in 1878 and what is now know, as the Natioial League for the Protection of the Family, founded upon a broad basis, was organized in 1881. The results from this and kindred organizations have been marked and encouraging. Radical improvements are noticed in th laws of New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin; divorces after residence of only three or six months are no longer permitted, as they formerly were, in North Dakota, Georgia. Thirty years ago none of our higher educational institutions gave any attention to the study of the family, but now the theological seminaries, the law schools and the universities are giving special care to this most important subject. We may be assured that our boasted civilization, our proud commercial greatness, our high educational attainments and our brilliant material developments will only hasten the day of our disaster unless we protect the family and honor the God of the home, who is the Father of us all.

In 1903 the total production was 10,045,615 bales and the ginning output, up to October 2,376,248; in 1902, the total was 19,827,168 and the output to October 25 was 5,683,006. Wednesday's report covered 26,364 ginneries, and the statements upon which it was prepared were supplied by telegraph by 702 special agents in the field, most

The fact that the bulletin was not ssued until 2 o'clock, two hours after the usual time, caused some complaint from brokers in different cities and some of these, which reached the bureau before the document was given to the public, were of a sensational character. Notes of Southern Cotton Mills and Other Manufacturing Enterprises.

Danville, Va .- The directors of the Dan River Power and Manufacturing Company have decided to double their plant of 43,000 spindles and 1614 looms, the Dan River Cotton Mills It may now be stated that the construction work will begin at once and be pushed as rapidly as possible to completion. This enlargement is merely the completion of the plant in accordance with the original plans. The first outlay was for mill No. 1, weave shed, cloth hall, dye-house, cotton houses, etc., with the equipment of textile machinery above mentioned. The No.2 mill will now be built and the second half of the weave shed will be completed. With the new installation tthe company will have a total of 86,000 spindles and over 3.000 looms, of which about 1.000 will be narrow looms. Messrs. That it will probably be necessary to send a delegation into Washington to urge the passage of a bill abolishing the tax on industrial alcohol was the belief of the diretors of the Chamber of Commerce at a meeting held to consider correspondence carried on with French representatives of the artificial silk company. The letters from France indicated that wood alcohol could not be used as a substitute for the grain alcohol which has been used in the European factories of the company.

Columbus, Ga .- The Swift Manufacturing Co will build a 5,000-spindle addition to its present plant of 13,000 spindles and 423 looms. The company has now closed contracts for the improvements. The company has two mills in operation, and its original plans called for eight mills and a bleachery. Its spindles now number $8,448 and its leoms number 2,587.

Cutleura For 75c. "My little daughter was a mass of sores eaten away, and her cars looked as if they would drop off. I had three doctors, but she grew worse. Neighbors advised Cuticura, and before I had used half of the cake of soap and box of ointment the sores had all healed, and my little one's skin was as clear as a new born babe's. I would not be without Cuticura if it cost five dollars, instead of 75 cents, which is all it cost us to cure our baby. Mrs. G. J Steese, 701 Coburn St., Akron, Ohio."

At the risk of killing himself to prevent running over a child, a Boston automobile enthusiast directed his big machine into a ditch. It turned completely over, and he had a narrow escape from death, being quite severely injured. The child was unharmed. The man may have been operating the automobile too fast, comments the Buffalo Courier, but he thought quickly and acted heroically.
