PRICE ONE DOLLAR A YEAR

U. S. HAYES, Editor,
E. A. WOODDELL, Publisher.

Entered as second-class matter June 2nd, 1895, at the post office at Asheboro, N. C., under the act of Congress of March 3rd 1879.

Now is the time for the farmer to plan for their summer work. The mistakes of last year should be eliminated this year. There is no excuse for falling into the same blunder this year that you got into last. If you did not keep a record last year begin now and keep a complete diary of your work, weather conditions, when you did certain work and the result. A farmer should also keep a careful record of his outlay and his income. This is merely a matter of business. A few farmers we know have such records as we are speaking about. The man who has them can more readily compete with the other fellow because he does his work intelligently. The time when haphazard methods of farming will succeed has gone and the agricultural people must now use their brains. This puts the profession on a higher level than formerly. Brother farmer get your work started right this year.

Four persons having already announced their candidacy for the Democratic nomination for congress in the sixth district and the convention over five months off. Yet Democrats do not want office.—Lexington North State.

It is as natural for a democrat to aspire to office as it is for a young duck to chase a June bug. They just hunger and thirst after office—just any old office will do—anything from a road overseer to the presidency. Since the federal lunch counter is already crowded, the democrats must content themselves by taking what they can get from the state and counties, and from now on till the primaries and conventions are over, the old chronic office seekers will be bobbing up until the whole state will look like a political hotbed planted in mushrooms. If you don't think democrats (we mean the leaders and small fry politicians) want office, just watch the scramble for nominations.

The necessity for having something besides a jail in which to confine youthful offenders against the law has been emphasized in Greensboro. A boy fourteen years old, charged with forgery, had to be sent to a cell along with all kinds of criminals. Punishing a criminal is one thing, and saving a boy is another. North Carolina is slow about finding this out.—Weekly Tar Heel.

The necessity for having a state reform school to which boys convicted of crime may be sent is emphasized at nearly every term of superior court held in the state. Many boys are led astray by associating themselves with bad company and commit offenses for which they must be punished. Under present conditions they must be confined in jail, put on the chain gang along with colored men and hardened criminals, or be sent to the penitentiary. After a boy has served a term on the chain gang or in the penitentiary, he loses his self respect and all hope of ever becoming a respected citizen is gone. If these youthful offenders were put under restraint and at the same time instructed and encouraged in leading a better life, they might be reclaimed and become useful, christian citizens. Our boys should be saved from falling if possible, but if they do fall, they should be rescued and given christian training instead of placing them under cruel bosses, along with thieves and murderers.

Pinesalve is the best Salve for sores, burns, boils, tetter, eczema, skin diseases and piles. Sold by Asheboro Drug Co.

Experiments conducted by the United States Geological Survey have shown that a ton of bituminous coal converted into gas and used in a gas engine will produce nearly three times as much energy as the same coal would produce, if burned under a steam boiler. The day is not far distant when all coal will be turned into power at the pit's mouth. It will be transported only in the form of gas through pipe lines or as electric energy over insulated copper wires.

The season of indigestion is now at hand. Ring's Dyspepsia Tablets relieve indigestion and correct all stomach disorders. Sold by Asheboro Drug Co.

WASHINGTON ENTOMBED.

George Town, Dec. 20.

On Wednesday last, the mortal part of WASHINGTON the Great—the Father of his Country and the Friend of man, was consigned to the tomb, with solemn honors and funeral pomp.

A multitude of persons assembled from many miles round, at Mount Vernon, the choice abode and last residence of the illustrious chief. There were the groves—the spacious avenues, the beautiful and sublime scenes, the noble mansion—but, alas! the august inhabitant was now no more. That great soul was gone. His mortal part was there indeed; but ah! how affecting! how awful the spectacle of such worth and greatness, thus, to mortal eyes, fallen!—Yes! fallen! fallen!

In the long and lofty Portico, where oft the Hero walked in all his glory, now lay the shrouded corpse. The countenance still composed and serene, seemed to depress the dignity of the spirit, which lately dwelt in that lifeless form. There those who paid the last sad honors to the benefactor of his country, took an impressive—a farewell view.

On the ornament, at the head of the coffin, was inscribed SURGE AD JUDICUM—about the middle of the coffin, GLORIA DEO—and on the silver plate.

GENERAL GEORGE WASHINGTON.

Departed this life on the 14th December, 1799, Aet. 68.

Between three and four o'clock, the sound of artillery from a vessel in the river, firing minute guns, awoke afresh our solemn sorrow—the corpse was moved—a band of music with mournful melody melted the soul into all the tenderness of woe.

The procession was formed and moved on in the following order: Cavalry, With arms reversed Guard. Music. Clergy. The General's horse with his saddle, holsters, and pistols.

Cols. Simms, Ramsay, Payne, Citizens.

Cols. Gilpin, Marsteller, Little.

Mourners, Masonic Brethren, Citizens.

When the Procession had arrived at the bottom of the elevated lawn, on the banks of the Potomac, where the family vault is placed, the cavalry halted, the Mount and formed their lines—the Clergy, the Masonic Brethren, and the Citizens, descended to the Vault, and the funeral service of the Church was performed.—The firing was repeated from the vessel in the river, and the sounds echoed from the woods and hills around.

Three general discharges by the infantry—the cavalry, and 11 pieces of artillery, which lined the banks of the Potomac back of the Vault, paid the last tribute to the entombed Commander-in-Chief of the Armies of the United States and to the departed Hero.

The sun was now setting. Alas! the SON OF GLORY was set forever. No—the name of WASHINGTON—the American President and General—will triumph over DEATH! The unclouded brightness of his Glory will illuminate the future ages!

THE OLD TIME WAY.

Our Grandmothers gave us powders and teas because they knew nothing of modern medicine and methods. In this age of progress and discovery, nicely coated, compressed tablets are fast superseding the old time powders and teas. Rydale's Liver tablets are compressed chocolate coated tablets, easy to swallow, pleasant in effect, always reliable. They contain ingredients that cannot be used in powder or teas. In ingredients that have an effect upon the liver that is never obtained from the so called liver powders etc. A trial will prove their merits. Asheboro Drug Co.

Dear Mother.

"While out strolling last evening," says a reporter, I passed a house from which emanated the inspiring strains of a charming young lady. The only words the reporter caught from the song were something about "dear mother." Passing on and turning down a side street the reporter saw through the kitchen window the dear mother with her arms buried almost to the elbow in a pan of dough, the sweat streaming down her wrinkled face and the hot range enveloping her. She was singing: "We'll Work Till Jesus Comes."—Ex.

WHAT HARM OUR THOUGHTS MAY DO.

We should be appalled if we could see pass before us, in vivid panorama, the wrecks caused in a lifetime by cruel thought. A stab here, a thrust there, a malicious sarcasm, bitter irony, ungenerous criticism, a jealous, envious or revengeful thought, hatred and anger are all going out constantly from many a mind on deadly missions.

Servants have actually been made dishonest by other persons perpetually holding the suspicion that they were dishonest. This thought suggests dishonesty to the suspected perhaps for the first time, and being constantly hood takes root and grows, and bears the fruit of theft. The old proverb, "If you have the name, you might as well have the game" is put into action many times. It is simply cruel to hold a suspicious thought of another until you have positive proof. That other person's mind is sacred; you have no right to invade it with your miserable thoughts and pictures of suspicion.

Many people scatter fear thoughts, doubt thoughts, failure thoughts wherever they go; and these take root in minds that might otherwise be free from them and therefore happy, confident, and successful.

Be sure that when you hold an evil, unhealthy, discordant deadly thought toward another, something is wrong in your mind.

Learn to radiate joy, not stingily, not meanly, but generously. Fling out your gladness without reserve. Shed it in the home, on the street, on the car, in the store, everywhere, as the rose sheds its beauty and gives out its fragrance. When we learn that love thoughts heal, that they carry balm to wounds; that thoughts of harmony, of beauty, and of truth always uplift and ennoble; that the opposite carry death and destruction and blight everywhere, we shall learn the secret of right living.—Success Magazine.

Luckiest Man in Arkansas.

"I'm the luckiest man in Arkansas," writes H. L. Stanley, of Bruno, "since the restoration of my wife's health after five years of continuous coughing and bleeding from the lungs; and I owe my good fortune to the world's greatest medicine, Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which I know from experience will cure consumption if taken in time. My wife improved with first bottle and twelve bottles completed the cure. Coughs, colds and money refunded. At Asheboro Drug Co. and Standard Drug Store, 50c and $1.00.— Trial bottle free.

All Kinds of Milk.

The Wilmington Messenger and other Democratic papers in the State, are finding fault with Governor Glenn. They fear he will hurt his party by going around in this and other States and publicly patting and milking the old Prohibition cow. Glenn has an eye to business. He is preparing for a big political shucking this fall. He knows that while he is making friends with and milking the old Prohibition cow in the front yard, his lieutenants, J. W. Bailey, Wilmington Messenger and others, are in the back yards, mountain caves, and dark cellars making friends with and patting and milking the dispensary heifer, saloon bulls and blockading steers. He knows that this fall when all this milk is placed before the voters, it will be so mixed that as one's taste is, so be it unto him. If he is actually a prohibitionist, it will be prohibition milk, if he is for a dispensary, it will be dispensary milk; if for saloons, it will be saloon milk; and if for blockading, it will taste like mountain dew milk. Boys! don't be bold in your foolery; the people may detect the flies and flavoring in the milk.—Hickory Times-Mercury.

Any one suffering from Kidney pains, backache, bladder trouble or rheumatism who will take a dose of Pine-ules upon retiring at night shall be relieved before morning. Sold by Asheboro Drug Co.

A number of financiers, including presidents of life insurance companies, bank presidents, United States Senators and others who have engaged in "frenzied finance" and who have lost their fortunes, and whose dishonesty and thefts have been exposed, have died or are dying from broken hearts. But Cassie Chadwick, the immortal Cassie, who astonished the world with her financial antics, still lives and thrives and is able to take in washing. A woman's heart is more flexible than man's.

The reason Dr. Dade's Little Liver Pills give perfect satisfaction is due to their tonic effect on the liver. They never gripe. Sold by Asheboro Drug Co.

PUSH! DON'T HANG ON.

Many a man, in a good position to push, forgets to do so and simply hangs on. He adds his weight to the burden and "kicks" because things do not move faster. It costs less muscular energy to hang on than it does to push, but you can't get more money for it unless you cheat somebody.

The five dollar man who pushes is of more value to a business than the hundred-dollar man who hangs on, but the hundred-dollar man who pushes is worth infinitely more than twenty times the five-dollar man because of the value of space. A forty-thousand horse power engine may drive a boat at twenty knots an hour that forty thousand horses, having the same power, could not move at all and would sink with their very weight. Some men are like some automobiles—it takes all their power to move the machine.

Don't attach yourself to any business or any position as a hanger-on. You are never welcome and you never grow. It takes effort to induce growth, and it takes growth to qualify for bigger things. If you fail to exercise and use your energy, you stagnate and become not only useless but diseased. Push! Push! Push!!! Don't be satisfied unless you are pushing every pound possible. Help the business, and at the same time help yourself by growing stronger with every effort.—Ex.

A Healing Gospel.

The Rev. J. C. Warren, pastor of Sharon Baptist Church, Blair, Ga., says of Electric Bitters: "It's a Godsend to mankind. It cured me of lame back, stiff joints, and complete physical collapse. I was so weak it took me half an hour to walk a mile. Two bottles of Electric Bitters have made me strong I have just walked three miles in 50 minutes and feel like walking three more. It's made a new man of me." Greatest remedy for weakness and all Stomach, Liver and Kidney complaints. Sold under guarantee at Asheboro Drug Co. and Standard Drug Store. Price 50c.

IN MEMORIAM.

J. W. Conner, husband of S. J. Conner, was born Feb. 21th, 1836, and died at his home near Spero Nov. 15th 1905. He is survived by his widow and one son. All that was mortal of him was laid to rest in the grave yard at Giles Chapel followed by a concourse of friends and loved ones. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. James A. Webster, taking for the subject of his discourse Revelations 14:13. The writer having known Mr. Conner from early childhood can say that he was of a bright disposition and always met his friends with a hearty greeting. In early life he gave his heart to God and ever lived a consistent christian as was evidenced by the manner in which he bore his long suffering. He was confined to his bed for over three months previous to his death and during all his affliction did not murmur or complain but many times would say "Let the Lords will be done" and these words seemed to be imprinted on the face as it lay in the casket. Doubtless the departed soul has found that immortal throng whose robes have been washed in the blood of the Lamb. To the bereaved wife and loved ones we would say, "Emulate the example of Mr. Conner; walk in the way that he trod; trust in God; then when to the gates of heaven you come he will stand with the angels to welcome you home, on the other shore."

"And I heard a voice from heaven saying unto me, Write Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord from henceforth: Yea, saith the spirit, that they may rest from their labors; and their works do follow them."

By a Friend.

"KENTUCKIANS' HOME COMING WEEK."

The programme for "Home Coming Week" in Louisville June 13 to 17, when one hundred thousand former Kentuckians are expected to go back to their native heath, is rapidly taking shape.

The first day, Wednesday June 13 will be known as Reception and Welcome Day; the second June 14, as Foster Day; the third June 15, as Daniel Boone Day; the fourth, June 16, as Greater Kentucky Day, and the fifth Sunday, June 17, as "Until We Meet Again."

The address of welcome is to be delivered by Henry Watterson, and responded to by David R. Francis, of Missouri. Others on the programme are Wm. Lindsay, John G. Carlisle, John M. Harlan, Thos. T. Crittenden, Adlai E. Stevenson, etc.

There will be a civic and military parade on the first day, and every county in the State will establish headquarters in the new Army, which is the second largest building of the kind in the United States. On Foster Day there will be several events in memory of the author of "My Old Kentucky Home," including the unveiling of a statue of Foster, which will later be cast in bronze and placed in the new Capitol of Frankfort. Daniel Boone Day will be one of the features of the week, during which there will be sewing bees, apple parings, corn huskings and old-fashion dances. The Commercial Club has offered a handsome medal to the person present on Daniel Boone Day who can prove the closest relationship to the great pioneer. On Greater Kentucky Day there will be barbecues, campfires, etc. and orators will be given the opportunity to tell how Kentuckians have helped make other States greater by their former lived in them. On Sunday former Kentuckians will fill all the pulpits in Louisville.

In the midst of its enjoyment of bountiful harvests, this country is called upon to contribute toward the relief of the people of Northern Japan. Owing to the failure of the rice crop and the depression in the silk industry a large population has been reduced to a state of destitution and thousands are reported to be in danger of starvation. On account of the heavy drain of a costly war the Japanese people and government have not been in a position to afford prompt and sufficient relief to the suffering population on the distant borders of the island empire, and while they have made no appeal to others for help they have allowed the need to be made known, and it is such as to excite the sympathy of a friendly nation. The case is one which will doubtless appeal strongly to American sympathy and serve to open American purses.—Charlotte Observer.
