PRICE ONE DOLLAR A YEAR

U. S. HAYES, Editor,
E. A. WOODDELL, Publisher.

Entered as second-class matter June 2nd, 1905, at the post office at Ashboro, N. C., under the act of Congress of March 3rd 1879.

Judge Parker has undoubtedly heard from the election of 1904. At Charlotte recently he stated in his speech before the manufacturers club that the democratic party suffered the worst defeat in its history in that year. Strange how fast news travels these days.

It is announced from Washington that Congressman Elliott of South Carolina has been appointed commissioner to mark the graves of confederate soldiers, who died in northern prisons. North Carolina had at least two candidates for the position, but the South Carolinian had the longest pole and consequently knocked the persimmon. We would have been glad if our own general after dinner speaking Colonel from Ashboro had gotten the place.

One part of the grand jury's report which will be found in another column, has a very pathetic side to it. We refer to the part which states that seven insane people are confined in the County home. It is a great misfortune for any human being to become insane, and wander through life in darkness and gloom. The very best equipped insane asylum affords poor enough accommodations for these poor unfortunates. It is a shame and disgrace to the State to allow its indigent insane to languish in jails and county homes. There is absolutely no excuse for such a state of affairs. The State is rich and prosperous and amply able to care for all of its insane. For the sake of humanity, something should be done to mitigate the sufferings of its most unfortunate class of subjects.

When the factory hands were paid off at High Point Saturday, thirty factories notified their men that after April 2nd, all employees belonging to labor unions would be discharged. About fifteen hundred men will be effected by this order. Naturally the union men resent this as an injustice to them, and what the outcome of the rupture will be is hard to foresee at this time. Labor unions have been gaining strength in all industrial centers for a number of years, and now nearly all the working men in the mining regions and manufacturing cities are organized, except in the South. However, the Southern manufacturers may just as well prepare to meet the conditions which union labor will bring, because it is coming. Gradually and little by little the unions will gain ground until union labor will be recognized in the South as it is in the East, North and West.

Randolph County is now spending over six thousand dollars annually on her convict system of road working. This large sum of hard earned cash which the taxpayer puts into the county slot is practically wasted so far as any permanent improvement to the county roads is concerned. The people generally see and know that their money is being squandered and they cry out against it, but to no purpose. No move has been made to change the system which has proved itself to be a failure. The people are willing to pay six thousand dollars a year or even more for road improvements but they are not willing to continue an antiquated system which has cost the county already nearly $100,000, and has not added one rod of permanently improved road in the county. Citizens of Randolph County, call a county convention and discuss the subject. Ask for what you want and you will get it.

Doctors Are Puzzled.
The remarkable recovery of Kenneth McIver, of Vanceboro, Me., is the subject of much interest to the medical fraternity and a wide circle of friends. He says of his case: "Owing to severe inflammation of the Throat and congestion of the Lungs, three doctors gave me up to die, when, as a last resort, I was induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery and I am happy to say, it saved my life." "Cures the worst Cough and Colds, Bronchitis, Tonsillitis, Weak Lungs, Hoarseness and Lagrippe. Guaranteed at Ashboro Drug Co. and Standard Drug Store. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

A CLEAN CAMPAIGN.

Much has been said along the line of corrupt politics and we have seen evidences in other states that the people at large are in favor of cleaning out the old political rings and grafters. In the coming campaign in this state it will be the duty of every law abiding citizen to see to it that the law is enforced and that the buying and selling of votes be stopped. If our free institutions are to continue, every American citizen should exercise the right to vote without fear of punishment, or the hope of reward. Any one who sells his vote, should be disfranchised and every one who buys a vote is a corruptionist and should be dealt with according to law.

Coming directly to the campaign in Randolph County, we hope to see the contest carried on in such a manner that no fair minded person can say that any irregularities have been practiced. Why not make this a clean campaign, free from all political corruption and corrupting influences? Free from all bitterness and malice? Every voter should inform himself on the issues and then go to the polls and there exercise his right as an independent, freeborn American citizen. Every man who does this belongs to that vast army who are fighting for clean politics. Let purity and honesty be the motto, this fall and let all lovers of law and order see to it that the result of the election will record the will of the people and not the will of a ring of corrupting politicians.

THE REPUBLICAN PARTY.

The Prospects for the Near Future Discussed by a Looker-On in Venice—The Difference Between the Two Parties—Changes Needed.

"What is the news, old fellow?" asked an Observer man of a well-known but sleeping Republican yesterday.
"I have none; I am a Looker-on in Venice," was the reply.
"Yes but I have never seen the day that you did not have an opinion about the party of your choice and its prospects?"
"O, I have been thinking of the present row and its possible results," he admitted.
"Well, what do you think will be the final outcome of it all?"
"I believe that it will result in the complete re-organization of the party machinery and the ignoring of all factions at the next State convention. The rank and file of the Republican party is not different from that of any other party, and the voters are looking for a deliverer.
"The Republican party does not want to go back to the days of the old moss-back, such as a writer in The Statesville Landmark recently referred to, when the railroads controlled the party. It then represented the classes and not the masses. The situation has changed, but I do not know that things have improved much, for the asses have taken the place of the classes.
"The strength of the party today rests in its young men, many of whom are strong-minded, upright fellows, who would follow an honest, bold leader. These young men want a party with a policy that will upbuild the State and make for better things; they stand for fixed principles and honest convictions, and a party to hold and inspire them must stand for something good."
"Do you think that your party has any chance to win in North Carolina at any early date?"
"Yes, with the right sort of changes. The Republican party is said to be composed of rascals. The difference between the two parties in the State is that the Democrats are not exposing and indicting their rascals while the Republicans are making a clean sweep. I say this in view of the facts of certain things that have happened in the State in connection with a certain railroad, and in this and other counties. I have come to the conclusion that if all scamps in both parties were indicted and prosecuted the State convention would be held at the same place the next time.
"The Democratic party has degenerated into a local organization. Your leaders are divided between Hearst and Bryan, and the conservative element has no more show than a Republican would have in your party.
"Therefore, I say that we have a chance. The young men of the Republican party wish to make a clean house, a fit place for the conservative men of the Democratic party. It looks to me like we were in the same boat—the small men are running the party machinery. The Republicans have never rallied since the dictatorship of Senator Prichard. "But, as I said at the beginning, I think there are hopes for us.—Charlotte Observer.

Druggist Must Pay the State Tax. State Auditor B. F. Dixon recently issued a notice to the druggists of the State in answer to many inquiries, giving a list of alcoholic compounds labeled medicines and held out to the public as remedies for diseases, to sell which, after April 1, it will be necessary for the druggist to take out regular government license, the list of so-called "medicines" requiring liquor license having been made by the United States revenue department last September. Here is the notice, which Auditor Dixon asks State papers to copy:

THE OFFICIAL NOTICE

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS' SOLILOQUY.

By SHAKESPEARE, JR.

To build or not to build—that is the question!

Whether it would be better for us to obey The commands of the judge and grand jury.

To build a new court house and place Fire-proof vaults therein to protect the County records, or to disregard these Foolish mandates and thus continue our Party in power—'tis a consummation Devoutly to be wished.

To build—to die—

To die—perchance politically aye there's the rub!

To build would raise the tax rate and then These pesky Republicans would join with A few disgruntled Democrats who Have never had any office and would Send us to that political grave—

That undiscovered country, from whose bourne No politician ever returns—puzzles the will, And makes us rather hold on to what we have, Than to experiment in things we know not of. Thus expediency does make cowards of us. Who are the servants of the people. We fear

To build, lest it would be unpopular and We fear not to build lest that also will Be unpopular. Consequently we will Bid farewell to our consciences and our duty, Until we feel the popular pulse and until After the next election, when if we are satisfied That our political lives will not be In jeopardy, we will proceed

To build and further fasten our hold On posterity and a suffering public.

Republicanism Popular

The Sub-Committee of the Senate has recommended the confirmation of Mr. Holt's nomination to succeed himself as District Attorney. This ends the fight. While we doubt the wisdom in the third term appointments, it is the duty of every loyal Republican to accept the result in good faith, turn his eyes to the future and make the best fight possible. It is time for factional strife to cease. We must present a solid front to the enemy in the coming campaign.

Let no man put personal interest above the great principles of Republicanism as espoused by Lincoln, Grant, McKinley and Roosevelt. There has never been a day in its history when the principles and policies of the Republican party were as popular. North or South, as they are today. If the party loses ground in the coming campaign, it will be due to factional folly and not to the strength of the enemy.—Shelby Aurora.

Artificial Silk.

It is reported that a company has been formed in Lyons, France with a capital of $300,000 for the manufacture of artificial silk (mercerized cotton). It is also proposed to open another factory, employing 400 operatives, in Northern France. A similar factory, with a capital of $500,000 has been organized in Brussels, Belgium. Much of the artificial silk produced in German and French factories is shipped to the United States to be used there in the manufactures of textiles of various sorts. As the profits of this comparatively new industry appear to be large, the attention of American manufacturers is invited to the matter.
