

The Randolph Bulletin.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

PRICE ONE DOLLAR A YEAR

U. S. HAYES, Editor,
F. A. WOODDELL, Publisher.

Entered as second-class matter June 2nd, 1905, at the post office at Asheboro, N. C., under the act of Congress of March 3rd 1879.

Let every republican attend the township primaries next Saturday and send a good delegation of representative men to the county convention July 7th. This is republican year and all members of the party should get busy.

It is significant that William H. Taft, Secretary of War, will attend the Republican State convention at Greensboro July 10th. It is well known that Taft has his eye on the nomination for president in 1908 and his speech at Greensboro may be the launching of his presidential boom. Taft would be a worthy successor of his worthy chief.

The congressional convention for the 7th district will meet in Asheboro July 11th to nominate a man to succeed the present incumbent R. N. Page in the house of Representatives. A number of candidates are aspiring to the nomination and the convention will make no mistake in the selection it makes. Naturally the Bulletin would like to see Hon. L. D. Mendenhall, of Randolph, receive the nomination. Mr. Mendenhall put up a good fight two years ago and although defeated, he beat down the democratic majority to a minimum.

Who will be the Republican candidates for the various county offices, has often been asked at the Bulletin office. To this question we are not in position to give a definite reply. The selection of candidates will be left entirely in the hands of the county convention. Randolph county has a large number of good, loyal, worthy and capable republicans who will fill any office within the gift of the people with entire satisfaction. When the convention meets, a strong county ticket will be nominated and the people will ratify the nominations at the November election.

One of the important questions that will come before the State convention at Greensboro is the election of a State Chairman. Judge Spencer B. Adams, of Greensboro, is the leading candidate, as a large number of counties have already instructed their delegates for him. As Judge Adams has never been closely identified with either of the so-called "factions" he should be the best "compromise" chairman the convention could select. With Judge Adams as chairman, party harmony will be restored, and an aggressive campaign will be waged against the hosts of democracy.

Select Good Men.
The State Republican Convention has already been called. Soon the people of each County and Congressional District will hold Conventions, nominate County officers, candidates for the Legislature and candidates for Congress. The people should in every County and District insist upon their very best men accepting the nominations and making the race. The success and progress of the party in each County and District will depend more largely upon the force and work of the man nominated as standard-bearer than upon anything else. Therefore, let us pick the best men and then let us appeal to them on the ground of duty to accept the nomination and make the race.—Caucasian.

A Republican county convention for the purpose of selecting delegates for the Judicial and Congressional conventions, was held in the court house in Troy Saturday. A creditable number of the leading Republicans of the county were present and resolutions endorsing Theodore Roosevelt, Spencer B. Adams and perhaps others, were adopted. The party leaders seem to be very hopeful of electing their county ticket in the coming election.—Montgomery.

Every form of distressing ailment known as Piles originates internally. The real cause of the trouble is inside. Manzan is not up in collapsible tubes with nuzzle, so the medicine can be applied where it will do the most good and do it quickly. If you are suffering with Piles you owe yourself the duty of trying Manzan. Sold by Asheboro Drug Co.

PLEA FOR THE INSANE.

No man needs more than the knowledge of the particulars in any case where a person in North Carolina goes insane to convince him that the tardiness of this state to provide room for such unfortunates is nothing short of criminal. It is horrible enough, this disease of insanity, but it becomes a thousand times more so when an unfortunate human being must either be kept at home to the suffering and sorrow of the family, or confined in a prison built for malefactors, where there is no comfort, no treatment, no anything that would tend to improve the unfortunate's condition, but where, on the contrary, the surroundings are such that the trouble deepens. North Carolina can lay claim on nothing with boastful pride nor can she count herself progressive, enlightened or great in any sense until she provides for every unfortunate person within her borders. There is no more heart-rending sight than an insane man guarded with conflicting fear and love in his home barred from the proper place for him by a miserable spirit of so-called economy and niggardliness. Out upon it all! Let us make our hospitals adequate or go out of business as an enlightened Christian state. During the past few days we have seen one case of scores in this state and if those obstructionists could see one like it, they would stand no longer in the way of humanity.—Davidson Dispatch.

True, every word of it! If the members of the general assembly would remember their duty to the people and their oath of office, and think less about jockeying for position and gaining some petty advantage, they could soon find a way to enlarge the asylums and build reformatories and have the money to support them with. The unfortunates of the state—the Nalls who have been done to death and those who have not—should be considered as prime charges and their support should be a first mortgage on the state's resources. But it takes money when you tack an extra thousand on the governors salary and build him a fine mansion; it takes money to pay superfluous officers, who are appointed to pay political debts; it takes money to hire big lawyers to do work the Attorney General ought to do and it takes money to defend democratic election thieves, and there is none left to feed, clothe and care for the mentally unsound, the morally unfortunate! The brightest mind, under unusual stress, may go out in darkness; the brightest boy or girl may, under wrong influences go astray, and they must perish, or worse, while the average legislator dickers for a pass, or trades votes to get his favorite henchman appointed magistrate, or his boss elected to the senate.

Republicans Alert.

There is one feature of the political situation worthy of note in North Carolina. The factional fight if it may be so termed without offence, has served to stir the rank and file of the Republican party. The condition of the party is in marked contrast to that of the Democratic party. As has been observed, there is great apathy among the Democrats. There are loud and grievous complaints against Democratic management and legislation of recent years. The people have grown weary, tired, sick and impatient. They are indifferent. There is notable lethargy in Democratic ranks everywhere. It will take a supreme effort on the part of the silver-tongued Hackets to stir the people of that party. It cannot be said that the same condition prevails in the Republican ranks. There has never been a time in an off year when the Republican party was more alive, alert, active.—Tar Heel.

Magistrate a Blockader.

In the Federal Court Monday, L. H. Boykin, of Johnson County, was sentenced to serve one year in the Federal prison at Atlanta, and to pay a fine of $200 and cost for running a blockade distillery. Boykin was a Democratic magistrate in O'Neal's township, Johnson County, and was off on official business when he was arrested by Deputy Marshal James Jordan. Prior to this time Boykin's blockade distillery was destroyed by Deputy Collector J. P. H. Adams.

Wonder why the Democratic sheriff of Johnson had not learned that his deputy was running a blockade distillery? He had the same power to destroy this blockade distillery as the Revenue officers.—Exchange

PLAN OF ORGANIZATION.

Of the Republican Party of North Carolina.

1 County Organizations. The election precinct shall be the unit of county organization. Each precinct shall have an executive committee consisting of three active Republicans. They shall be biennially chosen by the Republican voters of the precinct, and shall elect one of their number chairman. They shall convene at such time and place as the majority of them may elect. They shall biennially elect a county executive committee to consist of not less than five members, who shall elect a chairman from their number. Vacancies in precinct committees shall be filled by voters of the precinct, and in the county committees by convention of the precinct committees duly called; provided that in case a vacancy occurs within thirty days prior to an election, such vacancy may be filled by the vote of the remaining members.

2 Congressional, Judicial and Senatorial district committees shall be composed of no less than one member from each county nor less than seven members biennially elected by the several district conventions, each of whom shall elect a chairman from their number; provided that a senatorial committee shall only be elected in districts embracing more than one county. Vacancies occurring within thirty days of an election may be filled by the vote of the committee.

3 There shall be a State Executive Committee composed of one member from each Congressional district in the State to be designated by the district delegation at State Convention assembled, six members at large, to be elected by the State convention and shall also include the chairman of the convention at which election is held, and said committee are required to call a State Convention of the Republican party at least sixty days prior to every election for members of the General Assembly, and officers if necessary in the interest of the party. Members of the State Executive Committee shall be biennially elected at the State Convention, and shall elect a Secretary, who is not a member, and the chairman of said committee shall be elected by the State Convention.

4 The chairman of the respective County, District and State Executive Committees shall call their conventions to order and act as temporary chairman until a permanent organization is effected, with the power only to appoint and receive the report of a committee on credentials.

5 No Executive Committee shall have power to elect or appoint delegates to any convention whether County, District State or National.

6 No member of an Executive Committee or delegate, or alternate duly chosen, shall have power to delegate his trust or authority to another.

7 Representation in county conventions shall consist of one delegate for every twenty five Republican votes, or fractional part thereof cast for the candidate of the Republican party for governor at the last general election in the counties in the State. Provided, that each county shall be entitled to at least two delegates to the Republican State, Congressional, Judicial and Senatorial conventions.

8 Delegates and alternates to the county convention shall be elected only by a vote of the Republicans of each precinct meeting assembled, and delegates and alternates to the District, State and National conventions shall be elected by a convention of delegates duly elected and sent by the people for that purpose, after notice and publication of not less than fifteen days of the time, place and purpose of such convention, and not otherwise.

9 The certificate of the chairman and secretary of the meeting, setting forth the regularity of the primary meeting, or convention and the election of delegates and alternates therat, shall be accepted, when uncontested, as a good and sufficient credential for such delegates and alternates.

10 The chairman of the State Executive Committee shall, for sufficient cause, have power to remove any county chairman at his pleasure, and to appoint some suitable successor; provided however, that the chairman so removed shall have the right of appeal from the action of the State Committee to the State Convention, whose duty it shall be to pass upon the question as to whether or not there was sufficient cause for such removal.

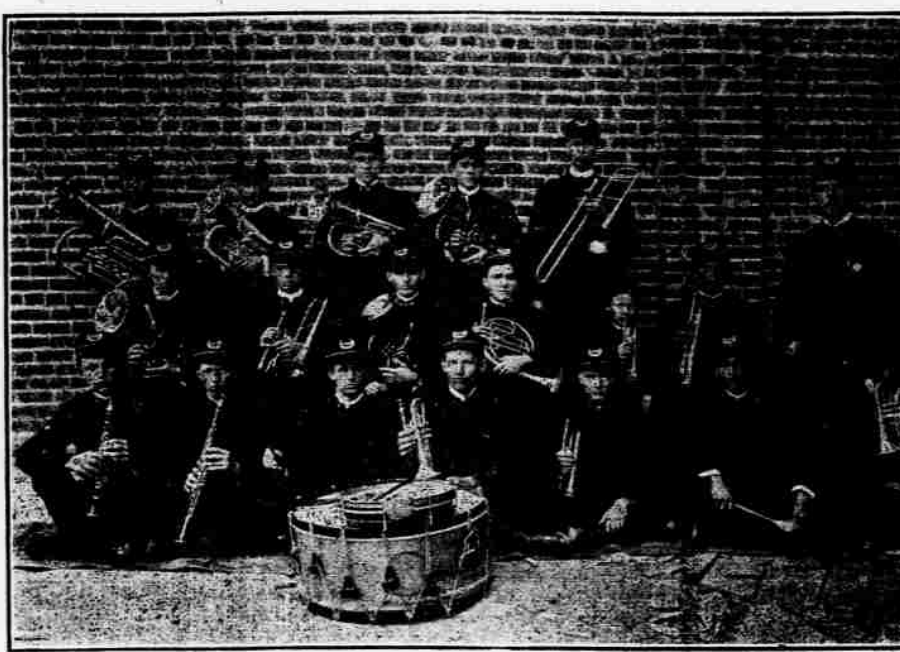

11 It shall be the duty of the State Committee to prepare a temporary roll of the delegates elected to the State convention, and such temporary roll shall be used for the purpose of affecting a temporary organization.

12 There shall be a Campaign Committee appointed by the State Chairman to consist of five members and said committee shall assume management and control of the campaign in such sections of the State as may be designated by the Chairman, said committee, shall at all times be subject to the direction of the State Executive Committee.

13 This plan of organization and procedure shall continue in force until changed or abrogated by subsequent Republican Convention.

THOMAS S. ROLLINS,
Chm. State Rep. Ex. Com.

A convention of the Republicans of Randolph county is hereby called to meet in the court house in Asheboro on Saturday July 7, 1906 at 1 o'clock p. m. for the purpose of electing delegates and alternates to the State, Judicial and Congressional conventions. All persons who believe in the principles of republicanism are requested to assemble at their voting precincts on Saturday, June 30th, 1906, at 3 o'clock p. m. to elect delegates to the County Convention. This June 6th, 1906.

G. G. HENDRICKS,
Chm. Rep. Co. Ex. Com.
Seth W. Laughlin, Sec.

The democratic primary for Ashboro township met in the court house last Saturday and elected delegates to the county convention which meets here the 30. Resolutions were passed endorsing Senator Simmons, Congressman Page and Solicitor Hammer. We understand there were no instructions for county officers.

A Good Manners Code For Boys.
Never play with a knife, fork or spoon.

Use your handkerchief unobtrusively always.

In the dining room take your seat after ladies and elders.

Rise when the ladies leave the room, and stand till they are out.

Eat as fast or as slowly as the others, and finish the course when they do.

Do not look toward a bed room door when passing. Always knock at any private room door. Special rules for the mouth are that all noise in eating and smacking of the lips should be avoided.—Selected.

You can see the poison Pine-ules clears out of the kidneys and bladder. A single dose at bedtime will show you more poison upon rising the next morning than can be expelled from the system in any other way. Pine-ules dissolve the impurities, lubricate the kidneys, cleanse the bladder, relieve pain and do away with back-ache speedily, pleasantly, permanently. Sold by Asheboro Drug Co.

Republican Congressional Convention.
