

The Randolph Bulletin.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

October 27th the big day in Ashboro. Everybody is coming to town Saturday.

N. F. Davis of New Market, was in town Monday.

H. B. Martin spent Sunday at his old home at Winston-Salem.

November 6th something is going to drop.

Carl Herndon is visiting his sister Mrs. J. T. Moffitt.

Come to the basket picnic Saturday October 27th.

W. L. Freeman, of Ether, was a business visitor in town Tuesday.

Work on the school building has been retarded by the bad weather.

Mrs. J. B. Ward and Mrs. C. J. Cox spent last Tuesday with relatives at Spero.

Enterprising citizens of Ramseur have organized a bank for that thriving little city.

Misses Esther Ross, Nannie Bulla and Mrs. E. E. Kephart saw Mme Nordica in Raleigh Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe D. Ross, P. H. Morris and Ed Morris went to Tarboro Monday to attend the marriage of C. S. Morris.

E. E. Vuncanon came home from Guilford College to spend Sunday with his father, J. M. Vuncanon, of near Holly.

The many friends of John H. McDaniel who has had a serious attack of pneumonia, will be glad to know that he is recovering.

We are sending out quite a number of sample copies of the Bulletin this week. If you receive one, read it, and if you like it send us a dollar for a year's subscription.

Misses Bertha Josephine Hall and Ruth Freeman, who attended the Elkin-Hendricks wedding, returned to their homes on the north bound train Monday.

Zeb. B. Sanders and W. C. Hammer, republican and democratic candidates for solicitor for the 10th judicial district, have agreed to meet in joint debate at Randleman October 27, at night.

The Southern railroad will sell round trip tickets to Ashboro at greatly reduced rates Saturday October 27th, on account of the Republican grand rally and basket picnic.

J. W. Jolly has moved his stock of undertaking supplies to his new apartments in the second story of the new wholesale grocery building. He will be better prepared now than ever to supply his trade.

We beg the indulgence of our faithful County correspondents. Our table is full of newsy letters which we cannot publish for lack of space. After the election we will take care of our correspondents.

From exposure and speaking in the open air last week Mr. English is not physically able to go out in the joint canvass this week. His physician ordered him to remain at home till his health improves.

Col. J. E. Walker has sold his residence property on Walker avenue to O. R. Cox of Cedar Falls. The price paid was $7,250. This is one of the most valuable and handsome residence properties in town and by the transfer Mr. Cox has come into possession of a very beautiful home. Ashboro welcomes Mr. Cox to citizenship here.

Dr. J. O. Walker returned to Concord Monday after a prolonged stay with his father, Col. J. E. Walker. The doctor was called here some weeks ago on account of the serious illness of his little son James who is now on the road to recovery.

Rev. Henry Sheets, of Lexington, has been called to the pastorate of the new Baptist church which has just been organized here, and will enter upon his new duties the third Sunday in November. His congregation will use the Presbyterian edifice until they can build a church home for themselves.

We call special attention to the new ad. of the Ramsauer Store Company in this issue. These enterprising merchants have made great preparation to meet the demands of the fall trade and no doubt you can find what you want on their counters.

The Great Revival. Last week there was conducted at the M. E. Church one of the greatest revivals of religion ever held in Ashboro. More than a hundred were converted or reclaimed and about one hundred accessions to the various churches. Never before has the town been stirred so religiously, and the great revival commenced at the M. E. Church last week continues at the M. P. Church this week with equal zeal and earnest work.

Elkin-Hendricks. The surprise wedding of Miss Florence Anna Hendricks and Mr. Robert L. Elkin was solemnized Monday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Hendricks. The simple and impressive ceremony that bound the young couple together was said by Rev. W. E. Swain, pastor of the M. P. church. The parlor of the residence in which the ceremony took place, was tastefully decorated with palms, ferns and other potted plants. The bride and groom descended the stairs and entered the parlor to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, which was well rendered by Miss Bertha Josephine Hall, of Clemmons.

Only a few relatives and near friends were present to witness the ceremony and to congratulate the happy couple. Among those present were Miss Ruth Freeman, of Archdale; Miss Bertha Hall, of Clemmons; Miss Esther Auman, Rev. and Mrs. W. E. Swain, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Spoon, Messrs. A. O. and T. S. Ferree, of Ashboro.

The bride is one of the most popular young women of the city, and has qualities of disposition that has won her a large circle of friends.

Mr. Elkin, the efficient and popular telegraph operator at Franklinville, is a clever and genial gentleman, who numbers his friends by the score.

Mr. and Mrs. Elkin left on the north bound train and will be at home to their friends at Franklinville.

Notice. On account of the grand rally and Basket Picnic at Ashboro on Saturday Oct 27th, and as all our friends are expected to attend, the Republican Candidates will not speak at Bethel on this date.

G. G. HENDRICKS, Chairman.
