TEN YEARS OF PAIN.

Unable to Do Even Household Tasks because of Kidney Troubles.

Mrs. Margaret Emmerich, of Clinton St., Napoleon, O., says: "For fifteen years I was afflicted with kidney trouble. My back pained me terribly. Every turn or move caused a sharp shooting pain. My eyesight was poor, dark spots appeared before me, and I had dizzy spells. For ten years I could not do housework, and for two years did not get out of the house. The kidney secretions were irregular, and doctors were not helping me. Dr. J. C. Williams' Pink Pills brought me quick relief, and finally cured me. They saved my life." Painting for Profit

No one will question the superior appearance of well-painted property. The question that the painter asks is: "Is the appearance worth the cost?" Four points are for temporary appearance only. Paint made from Pure Linseed Oil and Pure White Lead is for lasting appearance and for protection. It saves repairs and replacements costing many times the paint investment. The Dutch Boy trade mark is found only on kegs containing Pure White Lead made by the Old Dutch Process.

To Pour in Coffee When It Acts as a Vicious Enemy. Fasteners have gone without food for many days at a time, but no one can go without sleep. "For a long time I have not been sleeping well, often lying awake for two or three hours during the night, but now I sleep sound every night and wake up refreshed and vigorous," says a Calif. woman. "Do you know why? It's because I used to drink coffee, but I finally cut it out and began using Postum. Twice since then I have drunk coffee, and both times I passed a sleepless night, and so I am doubly convinced coffee caused the trouble and Postum removed it. "My brother was in the habit of drinking coffee three times a day. He was troubled with sour stomach, and I would often notice him getting soda from the cap to relieve the distress in his stomach; lately hardly a day passed without a dose of soda for relief. "Finally he tried a cup of Postum and liked it so well he gave up coffee, and since then has been drinking Postum in its place, and says he has not once been troubled with sour stomach. "Even after this lady's experience with coffee her brother did not suspect for a time that coffee was causing his sour stomach, but easily proved it. WILL SET THE PRICE

Southern Cotton Growers Will Fix a Minimum WAREHOUSE PLAN SPREADING

President E. D. Smith, of the South Carolina Cotton Association, Sends a Call to All County Presidents to Assemble So That the Opinion of Palmetto Farmers May Be Found Out and Considered When the Southern Cotton Association Meets to Fix a Minimum Price for the Staple.

Columbia, Special. — Mr. E. D. Smith, president of the South Carolina Cotton Association, and organizer for the general organization, has issued a call for a meeting in Columbia, August 30th, of the county presidents of the State to get at the consensus of opinion among them as to what the minimum price should be set at by the executive committee which meets in Jackson, Miss., September 5th. In a statement issued for publication, Mr. Smith stresses the importance of the farmers standing together solidly for the association's price particularly during the months of September, October and November which are the months in which the mills and exporters make their greatest efforts to get hold of enough cotton to control the market.

Mr. Smith's Statement.

Mr. Smith's statement in full follows: September 5th the executive committee of the Southern Cotton Association will meet at Jackson, Miss., to canvass the situation and fix the price for which this organization will stand for the present cotton crop. I am issuing a call for a meeting of all of the county presidents in Columbia, S. C., on August 30th, to get the opinion of the South Carolina division as to what price, in their judgment, will be proper. It is needless to say that the demand for cotton is steadily and collectively does not cooperate with conditions to obtain the best results promised by favorable conditions. If there is not an agreement among the men interested in the cotton crop as to what price they will stand for, if there are no means devised by which this agreement can be carried into effect, then conditions will avail little. The critical time, as I have constantly urged, for determining the price of cotton is to refuse to market it, under any circumstances, in September, October and November, unless the price is as fixed by the association. These are the months when the greatest necessity is placed upon the producer by the demand for cotton, and these are the months when the buyer and spinner gets in a sufficient supply to control the market for a period of four to six months subsequent thereto. Therefore, the work of the association, in order to benefit themselves and the cotton grower, is to make an agreement to prevent the rush of the crop to the market at a price other than that which the association has fixed in its contract with the buyer and spinner.

In Good Shape.

The condition of the organization throughout the South was never so flattering as now, business men, including both the farmers and others, are coming to a full appreciation of the work being done by the association and the benefit that has been and is being derived from it. The world at large has recognized and is recognizing the power of the Southern Cotton Association as evidenced by the very flattering reception given the delegates at the annual conference held in Vienna, Austria, last May. Surely those who have not given their support to this organization, after the three years of our work and the undeniable success of it, will now cooperate in increasing an organization which has been instrumental in bringing about a condition in the South that has been of benefit to every man, woman and child, regardless of their occupation in life. The Southern Cotton Association is an organization that the cotton is the currency of the South and that the volume of that currency depends upon the price and the price depends upon the intelligent and united action of the cotton producers. The cotton is the life of the South and the volume of that currency depends upon the price and the price depends upon the intelligent and united action of the cotton producers. The cotton is the life of the South and the volume of that currency depends upon the price and the price depends upon the intelligent and united action of the cotton producers.

Several Hundred Out of Work.

New York, Special.—Several hundred employees were thrown out of work by a fire which destroyed a four-story warehouse and factory building in Furman street, Brooklyn, last May. The loss will reach $200,000. The fire broke out on the third floor and the building which occupied nearly an entire block, was a mass of flames when the firemen arrived. Four firemen were overcome by illuminating gas while fighting the fire. The building was occupied by the New York & Baltimore Office Company and several manufacturing firms.

Took a Few Drinks and Died

San Francisco, Special.—An automobile containing two men a young woman and the body of a girl who had been a companion on a round-trip visit to Beach resorts, arrived at the Park Hospital. The three were arrested and a girl held until the cause of the girl's death is fully explained. The dead girl was Francis Ear, No. 1411, Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco. Her companions were George W. Ford, Harry McHenry and Pearl Shelton. The men stated that the girl had taken several drinks, fainted and soon expired.

Operators Resign Positions.

Denver, Col. Special.—Judge Riddle granted a restraining order on the application of the brokerage firm of Otis & Hough, forbidding Fred Westwell, president of the Telegraphers' Union and C. A. Adams, secretary of the same organization, to call a strike of operators in that office. This order compelled the operators in the office of Logan & Bryan to furnish a list of names to the court. Otis & Hough with market reports. The men employed by Logan & Bryan thereupon resigned.

Commissioner Neill at Home.

Washington, Special.—Commissioner of Labor Charles P. Neill arrived home from Chicago where he went on a visit to effect a settlement of the telegraphers' strike. He decided not to see visitors and as soon as he reached the city went to his home. For the present he is taking no part in the telegraph strike situation, but says he is ready to act as mediator if called upon.

The Crop Short.

Recent advices from Texas, Arkansas, Mississippi, Louisiana and Alabama are to the effect that the crop in these States is far below the condition existing at this date last year, and that the damage is such that no condition from now on may repair it. Last year the exact reverse was the case; the States east of the Mississippi had a poor prospect, while the Western States had a comparatively fine one. Information is being received by me to the effect that these Western States are determined to stand for a higher price because the cost of the cotton crop has been very heavy and the yield will be light, and unless a fair price is obtained the obligations incurred cannot be met; so we have the promise this year, by a necessity of circumstances that Texas will not sell her cotton so fast.

I hope this year will be one in which those who have disregarded the principles involved in our struggle for union and maintaining a price for cotton and have sold ahead for future delivery around 10 cents per pound.

FICTION'S LIMITS.

"Do you like fiction?" the girl asked. "Well," he responded, "that depends. Now, something probable, as the Arabian Nights; for instance, is all right; but I draw the line at a Nevada mining prospect."—Philadelphia Ledger.

EVERY LITTLE HELPS.

One night when the sun had disappeared and birds had tucked their heads beneath their wings to rest, one of the night birds flew close to an electric light. "Of what use are you?" asked the bird. "You give so little light compared with the sun." "Think how dark this corner would be if I were not here! People walking and driving might run into me and someone might get hurt." "That's true," said the bird, and again he came near a gaslight, stranding apart from houses and busy streets. "Of what use are you?" asked the bird. "You do not give as much light as the electric light?" "Do not you see that steep bank just beyond? If I were not here someone might fall to see it, and fall!" "That's true," said the bird, and again he flew close to a lamp. "Of what use are you?" asked the bird. "You give so little light as a lamp." "I do the best I can," said the bird, and again he flew close to a candle. "I do the best I can," said the bird, and again he flew close to a candle. The improvement was noticeable in a few days, and before I had used one box of the Cuticura Ointment her feet were well and we have never troubled her since.
