American Industries for December 1st, is largely devoted to papers or the faundamental prosperity of the United States, among the contributors being Henry Clews, George J. Gould, E. H. Gary, J. J. Hill, Joseph G. Cannon, Hon. James Bryce, Thomas L. James Lucius Tuttle, James T.Harrahan, J. H. Webster, James McLean, Leslie M. Shaw, Andrew Carnegie, George T. Oliver, Frank Seaman, Theodore P. Shonts, Samuel S. Dennis, Theodore Armstrong, William H. Truesdale, Charles A. Schieren, Jr., John F. Wallace and George H. Barbour. It is a symposium of prosperity and a return of business confidence. In an interesting summary, the editor says that American people as a whole are the richest on earth. Their visible assets exceed $1,500,000-000,000. This valuation does not include our lands nor the estimated valnations of our mines and standing timber. As a comparison it may be pointed out that Great Britain's visible assets are $500,000,000.000. Each revolution of the globe sees us richer by the sum of $10,500,000. Our increase in riches in each two months is somthing in excess of the aggregate banking capital of all the banks in Great Britain and Ireland. In each ten days we roll up a national gain in riches that is the equivalent of the capital and the reserve of the Bank of Eugland. We have 22,000,000 workers who earn $14,000,000,000 during a year, which does not include dividends on any form of stock or incomes from bank deposits. If the were divided into per capita allotments it would figure at $1,768. All the riches of our millionaires in the aggregate pale into insignificance when contrasted with the people's money in our saving's banks, which contain seven times as much money as is held on account of all the crowned heads and nobility of Europe and Asia. We possess one-fifth of the world's money though our country has but one-sixth of the world's population and only one-seventh per cent

The industries of this country which consume agricultural products as the principal materials employ 37 per cent of all persons engaged in manufacturing and the capital of those industries is 42.5 per cent of the capital of all manufacturing plants. The value of the capital invested in our railroads is almost $14,000,000,000. The total length of the roads is 226,000 miles of double and single track lines. Adding sidings and trackage in railroad yards, the total line of tracks measures 314,000 miles. The annual yearly haulage of freight is 1.650,000 tons. For instance, when carefully stalking a bird or a man, as in the ease of a kitten or a lion, the tip of the tail is never still for a moment-ever curling and uncurling. We may compare this to the nervous tapping of the foot or fingers in a man. When an angry lion is roaring his loudest, his tail will frequently lash from side to side, giving rise among the ancients to the belief that-he seourged his body with a hook or thorn which grew from the end of the tail.

When a jaguar walks along a slender bough, or a house cat perambulates the top of a board fence, we perceive another important function of the tail—that of an aid in balancing. As a tight-rope performer sways his pole, so the feline shifts you cannot spend years and dollars learning by experience, so buy the knowledge required by others. We offer this to you for one, the cents. You want them to pay their own way even if you merely keet thing about them. To meet this want we are selling a book giving the experier of a practical poultry raiser for (Only 25c.) twenty-five years. It was written a man who put all his mind, and time, and money to making a success of Chick en raising—not as a pastime, but as a business—and if you will profit by his twitty-five years' work, you can save many Chicks annually, and make your Foyns earn dollars for you. The point is, that you must be sure to detect trouble in the Poultry Yard as soon as it appears, and know how to remedy it. This book will teach you. It tells how to detect and cure disease: to feed for eggs and also fer fattening; which Fowls to save for breeding purposes; and everything, indeed, you should know on this subject to make it profitable. Sent postpaid for twenty-five cents in slamps. BOOK PUBLISHING HOUSE, 124 Leonard St. New YorkCt.
