VOL. 6. NO. 17.

ONE DOLLAR A YEAR

Why You Should Vote the Republican Ticket.

By A. NEWMAN.

The Democratic Hand Book of North Carolina, from which all the Democratic stump speeches are taken, contains what might be termed a chapter on Democratic economy (?) and republican extravagance.

They take the last four years of the Roosevelt Administration with its expenditure of very near four billion dollars, and compare it with—I am sorry to say it—but they compare it with Grover Cleveland's last administration! They complain because the Roosevelt administration appropriated four times as much for the Navy as Cleveland did. They complain because the army received over three times as much under the Republican Administration as under the Democratic administration. That is the Democratic way. They look behind instead of before. They look back at the past but do not look forward to the future. The late war with Spain taught the American people a valuable lesson. It taught them the Roosevelt idea that a nation is best prepared for peace when best prepared for war. Would you have the Naval appropriations cut off and bring our Navy to a stand still when all the Nations of the earth are continually increasing theirs? On the Navy rests the future of our country. Would you in any way impede the progress of your country?

Republican extravagance! Is it extravagance to buy that which you need? Is it extravagance for Congress to prepare for the peace of our Nation, and for the safety of her Ninety Millions of people? No, Grover Cleveland did not spend over one half as much as did the Roosevelt administration, and he added $262,000,000 to the National debt to spend as much as he did.

I submit to you voter that if Grover Cleveland's administration was worth half a billion dollars a year, that the Roosevelt administration was worth a billion dollars per year.

Is it not good policy to have an ample Navy when over sixteen billion dollars of our wealth lies within gun shot of the Atlantic Coast? Think it over voter.

BUTLER.

Just forty three pages of the valuable (?) Hand Book is consumed in cussing, dis-cussing, and re-cussing Marion Butler. If Butler is the dare devil they would have people believe why do they not meet him on the stump and tell him about it? There is now a standing challenge for any man in the State to meet him in joint debate.

Why do not some of the greater luminaries such as Glenn, Aycock, Kitchen, and our own Hammer (?) Who claim distinction as orators, meet him in joint debate and tell him of his wrong doing?

Butler! Bonds! Boodle! Extravagance! Help! Fire! Murder! Nigger! Nigger!! Nigger!!! Such are a few of the choice words dished up by Democratic speakers to draw the voters attention away from the unsavory record of the Democratic party.

About the worst thing they bring against Butler is that he 'uster' be a demmycrat, and even that does not reflect discredit on him, for does not the good book tell us that we must be regenerated?

The cry of Butler is no go, and the Democratic party will be forced to look elsewhere for an issue if they expect to stay the tide of popular opinion that is fast engulfing the Democratic party.

BONDS.

Butler, bonds and boodle is the favored term of democratic near Orators. They cuss Butler because he left the democratic party. They have a perfect right to discuss bonds, because they are used to issuing them, and as for boodle, oh well they are post graduates along that line! The mind of the reader probably goes back to last spring when a call was issued for the Legislature to convene to dispose of a little matter of bonds that had been issued and which the State could not float at par. The credit of the State is great under the rule of democracy. Of this there is no doubt, but somehow or other the State could not dispose of that issue of bonds, by the way only a little over three million dollars? But what was to be done? Was the good credit of our State to be thus lowered in quagmire of perdition? No it was not.

Brave men, both Democrats and Republicans, came to her rescue, and took up the entire issue and thus saved the State the unnecessary expense of an extra session of the legislature. But who was the largest buyer of those bonds? Put that question to a Democratic politician and he will turn red around the gills, and the next thing you know he will be out of sight around the corner.

It is a well known fact that the American Tobacco Company (a Corporation) put in a bid for a cool million dollars of those bonds, but for what purpose? Do you suppose for a single instant that they bought them because of their patriotic spirit? Or was it to insure such laws as would best suit their interest to be enacted? At any rate the present Anti-Trust law is one that is said to be without teeth. A baser lie was never told when the democrats claim that if the Republicans triumph in North Carolina, they will try to pay those fraudulent bonds.

The Constitution of the State plainly says that they can never be collected. The Republicans could not pay them if they wanted to—they would not pay them if they could. The Democrats are hard pressed for an issue, and there is no better evidence of this than the way the present campaign is conducted. It is the same old song from the same old stump, and the same old bird and the people in the meantime are getting tired of such methods.

I submit to you voter that the American Tobacco Company holds the present Democratic Administration in a bond of a million dollars for the enactment of such laws as will best suit their interest.

PROHIBITION.

It was not my intention to have anything to say in regard to the present prohibition law. But after reading the Democratic hand book I changed my mind at once. The people were led to believe that the present prohibition law was a non-partisan one. The Democratic party is very inconsistent. They will advocate any measure that they think will be popular with the larger element. In the South they are prohibitionist, in the North they are for booze and plenty of it. Have you heard from Maine? That is a question that is now asked by Democratic near Orators from

Hon. Thos. Settle's Speech.

Last Tuesday was Settle republican day in Randolph county and judging from the speech, the large number of republicans present and their enthusiasm, it looks like democratic chances for carrying the Nov. election is settled. The audience was composed mostly of republican voters, filling the court house audience room almost to its capacity. Mr. Settle's speech of two hours was clear cut, clean, logical, argumentative, inspiring convincing and unanswerable. His portrayal of what the republican policy of protection has done for Dixieland should have convinced any unprejudiced mind that the democratic doctrine of free trade is business suicide. The speaker's arrangement of democratic hypocrisy in both state and nation was fearful. He showed up in plain words what kind of good governm-e-n-t the democrats of this state are giving us. His disposition of the local self-government plank in the republican platform was lucid and satisfactory to all his hearers except a few democrats.

Mr. Settle's speech was without doubt the best ever heard in Asheboro and will do much good for the republican cause in this county. Space forbids us even giving an outline of this brilliant effort in the cause of republicanism and free government.

The Confederate Soldier and His Pension.

John W. Hancock a confederate veteran, says that he served more than three years in the civil war. That he believed that he was entitled to a confederate pension and made application for the same some years ago, passed and received the pension regularly until two years ago. He says two years ago at the election, two leading democrats of his township come to him and said "if you don't vote the democratic ticket your pension will be stopped, but he did not vote the democratic ticket and his pension was stopped. He says when he failed to receive his pension he come to Asheboro to see about it and was told by the clerk of the court "There is no pension for you". He says that he come to Asheboro twice afterwards, and the last time he come the clerk of the court was told by his Colonel (Col. McAlister) that because he was a republican his pension should not be cut off. He says that he told his Colonel that he would spend half of his pension as attorney fee and the Colonel told him not to do it, that he would get it for him without feeling an attorney. He says the pension has been coming regularly since.

In witness hereto I set my hand and seal this the 25th, day of October 1910.

A DEMOCRATIC SPEAKING.

Saturday night Oct. 22 1910 the big guns of democracy opened fire on about 17 democratic voters, a few women and children and a few republicans who went to see the fun. Willie Hammond seemed to have charge of the circus, he made a very short and somewhat blunt speech of course it was about pensions, he tried to tell us what he and the sheriff did for an old soldier we all knew but he had forgotten so much of it we could scarcely get the meaning of it. He informed us that he was a very busy man and had to be "Johnny on the spot" with his pencil already trimmed. I guess that accounts for so much of his forgetfulness about pensions. He informed us before he sat down that the new court house was completed at a cost of something over $31,000 dollars and that the republicans said it would cost $60,000 dollars two years ago but by the county commissioners using the strictest economy it had been built at a saving of nearly half to the "dear pepul". He then cleared the ring and the various candidates were presented to the audience among them was one they called "J" a clownish kind of fellow who tickled us all with his boys and smiles. Next come O. R. Cox with a roll of parchment which had figures and "ritin" all over it. He kept this in his hand all the time for ready reference. He started out by saying he didn't want to make the run now but they couldn't get any one else to take it and run so a committee and the "ring bees" waited on him and he decided to run with it if he didn't get 30 votes (cheers) he had Mr. Carter's a running too, he stated further that the run hadn't cost him any thing yet and he hoped it wouldn't and he let loose a few telling blows at the tariff, saying if the dems could but get control of the thing they would save $10,000 000 per year to the old North State alone. Oh! you democrats, you would make us all rich in two years time if you could but get control of congress for three months.

He stated further that new industries would cease to spring up and people from other states would quit investing money here if the republicans got control of the affairs of this state and his voice grew husky when he said the "nigger" was liable to march up to the ballot box and kill his vote. We all knew when he said "nigger" he was about through, when he sat down Willie again hit the floor and closed the performance thanking us all for our attention.

The whole performance was so thin it wouldn't have made a visible shadow on a moonlight night without one of Willies "specks" to have looked through.

Kills A Murderer.

A merciless murderer is Appendicitis with many victims. But Dr. King's New Life Pills kills it by prevention. They gently stimulate stomach, liver and bowels, preventing that clogging that invites appendicitis, curing Constipation, Headache, Billiousness, Chills. 25c. at J. T. Underwood's.

We are of the opinion that if we were a public official against whom the record shows we had taken fees not lawfully belonging to us, we would not have so much to say about republican county officials being dishonest.
