Moved!

The office of The Bulletin has been moved down stairs in the Stedman building and our friends are cordially invited to pay us a call in our new home.

Any more bargains?

We got the salary system all right—just like we get any other sort of system under this good Democratic government.

Down evidently does not mean the same thing to Woodrow Wilson and Webster—judging from the way the cost of living is going "down".

With our new linotype machine, the Bulletin is the best prepared of any office in the county to handle your job work and printing of all sorts to the very best advantage.

We want to thank our several correspondents for the splendid help they have given us during the year past in making the Bulletin a good readable sheet. We hope the number will increase.

Paid your taxes yet? Did you notice that LITTLE raise? Well its there all right enough and WHY?

If the commissioners actually needed the money to help build these new roads why didnt they come out and say it was for that purpose?

The County Board of Education does not meet often enough when it does meet it is not in session long enough to transact all the business that should have its attention. The other day we heard a mighty good citizen paying his respects to the members because some matter that concerned him was not completed. It would not be bad for the board to meet every first Monday, especially during the winter months while all the schools are in session.

It is probable that the year 1913 has made more political history for Randolph county than any recent year. The year has been marked with events of all sorts that must be sifted out at the coming election.

Whatever the result is we believe that it means an era of cleaner and better politics than the county has seen in many a day.

The day of machine control and boss rule and of petty ward politics is past, not only in Randolph county, but it is true everywhere. The elections of the past year have set the pace and bossism is on the run.

The fight of W. C. Hammer goes along topsy tervy, first one side up and then the other, but he hasn't landed the appointment yet and it looks as tho' the fun will continue for some time to come—and here's hoping, for the matter has given the town of Ashboro more free advertising than she's had in many a day.

The Associated Press let the story out from Washington the other day that his appointment was coming soon, but the report was denied forthwith and immediately.

Mr. Hammer has sent to Washington, through Senator Overman, another batch of indorsement but this would appear to a man on the fence as a mighty late day for anything like that. However we confess that its no fight of ours and so we hand it up—

MANY PARENTS
Are Incompetent to Raise Their Children

Wherever there is a wayward boy there will be found parental incompetency. "That is practically the general verdict of judicial courts, probation officers, social workers and "Big Brothers" the country over.

"Seventy-five per cent of fathers believe when they have properly fed, clothed and housed their boys and furnished them with a little pocket money they have done their duty. Fifty per cent of mothers believe their duty is done if they have drilled into their boys a smattering of politeness, the mumbly of a prayer and the propriety of washing the backs of their necks. These things are good for the lad as far as they go—but they don't go far.

"Every boy has needs which the teaching of politeness does not touch. The boy has a character to develop. In other words he has a soul, and right here is where parental responsibility rests most heavily. Developing the character of a boy is harder and more difficult work than earning a living or teaching him to memorize certain pious phrases for use on special occasions.

"Fatherhood and motherhood are the greatest professions. Parenthood is an exacting business which demands of those who would succeed in it the same thought, patience, labor, concession, denial and judgment necessary to success in any other business. And it demands constant enthusiasm.

"Let me ask, Mr. Busy Father what are you going to do for your twelve-year-old boy tonight? What do you know about your boy's plans for tonight? Has your boy been running with an unruly gang you don't like? What are you going to do for your boy tonight?

"When anything is wrong with a man's business he stays right with the trouble until he has found the cause and decides upon the remedy. When something is wrong with the running of the home the mother is in a fever of energy until it is made right; but a boy going wrong, while always the occasion for grief and worry, is a problem which often receives less thinking and less action than those of business and the household.

"Parental policy is not inquired into closely to ascertain wherein it has been faulty.

"Resourcefulness and initiative are not called upon to amend that policy and adapt it to the boy's case. The blame is laid upon the boy. He is condemned as ungrateful, whereas the blame should be placed on the school, the modern standards of living and the whole general trend of things. The parent is prone to blame everything and everybody but himself.

"The father of this kind is a quitter and a defaulter. He is laying down on the biggest job he ever undertook. It is he and not the boy who makes juvenile courts and probation officers necessary.

"Be more than a father to your boy. Be his pal, his 'Big Brother.' Be his friend—that's it, his friend."

Mrs. James Watson Dies Suddenly.

On Wednesday night before Christmas, about midnight Ida May Watson, wife of James Watson, residing in Level Cross township, about 4 miles above Randleman, died suddenly at her home soon after retiring for the night. There was some suggestion that there was foul play. Dr. Sumner was given a special commission in the absence of the coroner to hold inquest. The facts that developed before the coroner's jury are that her husband who is now in the Federal prison in Atlanta had left four or five of his own prescriptions at home and it appeared that she had been taking this medicine and had probably taken too much and it may be that this caused her death. Nunnally King, who had been at her house for several days, was in the house that night and claimed that he was putting Santa Claus in the stockings of the children and hearing an unusual noise by Mrs. Watson went to her and found that she was dying. The deceased was a daughter of Marian Wall.

Three Children Scalded at Rameur.

A telephone message from our correspondent at Rameur this morning tells of the accidental scalding of the three little children of Mr. Philmore Kirkman, of that place. It seems that there was a kettle of water on the fire and that in some manner it was turned over on the little tots, who were playing nearby. All are seriously burned, but will recover.

West Bend

Christmas tree and play "The Christmas Ship."

The rainy weather had but little effect on the Christmas services at West Bend last Wednesday evening. The play, "The Christmas Ship" in which Santa Claus appeared in the last scene and delivered the treat and presents from the tree, to the delight of the children especially, was one of the main features of the evening.

The music also was of a high order and was well rendered by the choir. The church was simple but artistically decorated and the glow of the brilliant colors and lights was a cheering contrast to the gloom that prevailed outside. We are all glad to hear of the people cooperating together and bringing the church to the front, and hope to find them in the coming New Year carrying out their work to their greatest destiny.

The Same in Seagrove.

Seagrove Residents Speak Out for the Welfare of the Public.

It is just the same in Seagrove as here in Ashboro; our friends there speak out in the same glad, earnest way as so and women have spoken in these columns for years past.

Mrs. D. A. Dorsett, R. R. 2, Seagrove, N. C., says: I spent a great deal of money in an effort to rid myself of kidney complaint but I did not seem to improve. I lost greatly in health and strength and could scarcely walk a hundred yards. The kidney secretions gave me great annoyance and I became despondent and nervous. I regained my strength and weight since I used Doan's Kidney Pills and I have not suffered from the least symptoms of kidney complaint. I am glad to give Doan's Kidney Pills the entire credit for this cure.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Heavy, impure blood makes a muddy, pimply complexion, headaches, nausea, indigestion. Thin blood makes you weak pale and sickly. For pure blood, sound digestion, use Burdock Blood Bitters, $1.00 at all stores.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running ear or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circular free.
