Heart Disease Almost Fatal to Young Girl

"My daughter, when thirteen years old, was stricken with heart trouble. She was so bad we had to place her in bed near a window so she could get her breath. One doctor said, 'Poor child, she is likely to fall dead any time.' A friend told me Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy had cured her father, so I tried it, and she began to improve. She took a great many bottles, but she is spared to me today a fat, rosy cheered girl. No one can imagine the confidence I have in Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy." A. R. CANON, Worth, Mo.

The unbounded confidence Mr. Canon has in Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy is shared by thousands of others who know its value from experience. Many heart disorders yield to treatment, if the treatment is right. If you are bothered with short breath, fainting spells, swelling of feet or ankles, pains about the heart and shoulder blades, palpitation, weak and hungry spells, you should begin using Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy at once. Profit by the experience of others while you may.

Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy is sold and guaranteed by all druggists.

Refused to Ride in a Hearse Yet Awful or With His Own Coffin.

Here is a plain "unvarnished" story that happened here a few days ago. Last week Walter Liles, colored, of Bennettsville, came to visit friends in Wadesboro. On Sunday he suffered a slight stroke of paralysis and his son was telegraphed the news and asked to come for his father. Thinking the stroke fatal, the son immediately expressed a coffin for his father and sent a hearse and undertaker all the way through the country to bring the body home. Liles was better Monday morning and when the coffin reached here, he immediately notified the son and every effort was made to stop the hearse on its long journey but it reached here together with the undertaker Monday afternoon. The coffin was shipped back to Bennettsville over the A. C. L., but Liles refused to ride on the same train, taking the S. A. L. instead. The hearse and undertaker returned through the country.—Wadesboro Ansonian.

Readers of the Bulletin have been told again and again of the merits of that old reliable, time proved kidney remedy—Doan's Kidney Pills. The experiences told are not those of unknown persons, living far away. The cases are Asheboro cases and told by Asheboro people.
Mrs. D. B. Kendall, Church St. Asheboro, N. C., says: I have used Doan's Kidney Pills, secured at the Standard Drug Store, and I consider them a most reliable remedy for regulating the kidneys and curing backache. Doan's Kidney Pills have also been used by others of my family and the results have always been satisfactory.

WILMINGTON BOUGHT MUCH LIQUOR IN 1913

Report of Chief of Police for Fiscal Year Shows 51,894 Gallons Were Received

The annual report of the Wilmington police department, as submitted by Chief of Police Williams last week shows that for the fiscal year ending June 1, a total of 1,864 arrests were made by the police. A total of 110 arrests were made for the violation of the prohibition law. While the sale of intoxicating liquor in Wilmington is reported to be at a minimum and this is borne out by general appearances, yet Chief Williams has ascertained from the records of transportation companies that during the year ending June 1st, 1914, a total of 51,894 gallons of whiskey, 2,019 barrels of beer and 1,509 gallons of wine, consigned to different parties in Wilmington.

EDITORS TO MEET AT WRIGHTSVILLE

Arrangements for the Press Meeting Are Now Practically Complete.

Arrangements for the annual meeting of the North Carolina Press Association to be held at the Oceanic Hotel, Wrightsville Beach, June 24th and 25th, are now practically complete, according to John B. Sherrill, of Concord, who is planning the gathering and looking after the details. Indication are that the press meeting this year will be one of the most successful ever conducted and editors all over the state are planning to attend.

A business session will be held Wednesday morning, June 24th. In the afternoon the editorial party will be given an automobile ride over the good roads of New Hanover county. On Wednesday evening, the annual oration will be delivered by Mr. R. F. Beasley, to be followed by a Dutch supper at the Oceanic Hotel. Thursday business sessions will be held, and at night, an address will be delivered by Mr. Norman Haggood, editor of Harper's Weekly. This will be followed by a dance at Lumina.

On Friday the editorial party will be given a trip down the Cape Fear river on Captain Harper's boat. A visit will be made to the government quarantine station, Fort Caswell and Southport. Dinner will be given the party at Southport as guests of the Southport Commercial Club. The steamer will leave Wilmington at 9 a. m., and special cars will be provided to take the editors to Wilmington from the beach.

RECORD WHEAT CROP, 900,000,000 BUSHELS

137,000,000 More Than Ever Grown Before—Half the World's Supply.

Nine hundred million bushels of wheat, almost half of the average world's wheat production and a new record for the United States, is the prospective total yield of the farms of the country this year, the Department of Agriculture announced in its June crop report.

The enormous crop will be 137,000,000 more than ever before was grown in the United States in any one year. Excellent weather for the growing crop and an increase of 6.4 per cent in the acreage planted to wheat are responsible.

There will also be large yields of oats and barley, probably second in size in the history of the nation.

Bosh

From the melodramatic interview which President Wilson gave to the Saturday Evening Post we take this:

"I challenge you (he said) to cite me an instance in all the history of the world where liberty was handed down from above. Liberty always is attained by forces working below, underneath, by the great movement of the people. That, leavened by the sense of wrong and oppression and injustice by the ferment of human rights to be attained, brings freedom.

This passage from Wilson's utterances gives the clue to what is the matter with him. "He tries to make words take the place of facts," and, in the slang of the day, so far, he gets away with it. We have watched carefully the newspapers of the United States for their comments on this interview, and, with the single exception of the Louisville Courier-Journal, they have, as men say, fallen for it. Some hundreds of editors have uttered quite lyrical praise for a statesman with sentiments so noble and a historian so rich in knowledge. And right here is Wilson's trouble. Through a skill in words which is in part, we think, over-subtle and in part autohypnotic, he has created a figure of himself, and a world, both of which are false, both of which are made up of words and have little relation to facts. In creating this false personality, shallow newspapers, which have not the intellect to put the acid test to his words, are as responsible as he is himself. Of course this figure and world of words is bound to come to smash sooner or later.

It would be difficult to compress more false history and bad statesmanship into so few words as are contained in the paragraph quoted from Wilson's interview. To take the most obvious example, consider human slavery. It was once practically universal; it is now practically unknown. We can't recall—and it would be entirely safe to challenge Wilson to recall—a single square foot of the earth's surface upon which slavery was abolished by rebellion on the part of the slaves. (The island of Haiti may be a possible exception.) The abolition of slavery has invariably been "handed down from above." If these words of Wilson's were true, slavery in the United States would have been abolished by rebellion on the part of the slaves. It suits Wilson to invent this sort of history and this sort of philosophy for justification when he finds himself, against his intention, identified with Villa's bloody uprising. And so far as the newspapers are concerned he gets away with it.—Collier's Weekly.
