

Asheboro, N. C., March 10, 1910.

Local and Personal.

Miss May McAlister is visiting in Winston-Salem this week. Mr. J. A. Spence returned Monday from a visit to Charlotte. Dr. P. R. McFayden, of Randleman was in town Monday. Mr. J. E. Williamson, of Worthville was here Monday. Mr. A. N. Bulla, of Randleman, was here the last of last week. Messrs. J. O. and W. H. Pickard were here the first of the week. Hon. J. R. Blair, of Troy, was here between trainings day recently. Mr. J. M. Singleton, of Casdor was a visitor here one day recently. Mr. E. L. Auman, of Biscoe, was an Asheboro visitor Saturday and Sunday. Mr. E. H. C. Fields a prominent business man of High Point was here Monday. Mr. W. J. Armfield went up to Greensboro last Thursday returning Saturday. Mrs. Scott, of Burlington, is the guest of her sister Mrs. J. T. Moffitt on Sunset Ave. Misses Mary and Sallie Branson, of Seagrave Route 2, were in town yesterday. Miss Agnes Moring leaves Friday for Charlotte where she will visit friends for sometime. Miss Marjorie Slack, of Randleman, visited Miss Mozelle Redding several days last week. Mrs. Jessie Pickett Cox and little son, Fletcher, are visiting the family of Mr. O. R. Cox. Miss Rosa Stowe has accepted a position as stenographer in the office of the Randolph Chair Company. Misses Mamie Bulla and Juanita Redding, of Randleman, visited Misses Jessie and Fannie Birkhead Sunday. Mr. R. M. Noble, of Chicago, who at one time was engaged in gold mining near Asheboro, is here on a visit. The friends of Mrs. C. J. Clark will be glad to hear she has almost entirely recovered from her recent severe attack of grippe. The Courier contest is still any one's race. No one has so great a lead it cannot be overcome by a little extra hustling. The Courier special prizes for March are most attractive and there is much being done in many parts of the county to win these prizes. It is funny to hear the argument against the bonds—it is the same that was used before the war, and is out of date and out of point and will not stand the test of reason. The twenty-seventh annual session of the North Carolina Teachers' Association was convened in Asheville on the fifteenth of June continuing to the seventeenth. A failure to vote for good road bonds save through providential reasons, means a vote against the destiny of this rapidly growing town. Mrs. Jones Freeze and Miss Studie Harris, of Concord, and Mrs. J. B. King, of McBees, S. C., are visiting at the home of their brother, Roland Harris. Mr. T. G. McAlister is rapidly recovering from an operation for appendicitis in a Salisbury hospital. Mrs. A. W. McAlister, who was operated on for appendicitis is also on the road to recovery. Henry Lassiter, brother of Mr. B. H. Lassiter of Randleman, aged about 70 years died at his home in Charlotte one day last week. Mr. Lassiter was a Confederate soldier serving in the same company with Col. W. P. Wood of Asheboro and was a most excellent man. Julian Elder, special agent for a fire insurance company at Richmond, Va., was in Asheboro Tuesday on business. Mr. Elder is a son of Mr. W. N. Elder and is an old Randolph boy who has made a success in his business. All members of the W. C. T. U. are requested to attend a meeting of the Union at the residence of Mrs. Allie H. Worth this afternoon (Thursday) at 3 o'clock. A full attendance is desired, as important business will come before the meeting. A representative of The Courier asked Mr. W. E. Redding, secretary and treasurer of the Crown Roller Mills, "Do you favor bonds?" "Yes," said Mr. Redding, "of course I do. I want the farmers who bring grain to my mill to have better roads. Good roads will encourage farmers and will help us all and make our county a garden of Eden."

Mrs. Millard Aldred visited in Randleman Sunday. Mr. Joe Betta went to Lexington last Sunday. Mr. Robert L. Coltrane was here Monday on business. Mr. J. M. Allred, of Randleman, was in Asheboro yesterday. Miss Virginia Henley spent a few days in Randleman last week. Dr. Thos. Cummings, of New Salem was here one day this week. Mrs. Cox, mother of Mrs. J. M. Allen is quite sick with grippe. Mr. J. M. Millikan spent Friday at Sophia. Mr. P. Shamburger, of Farmer, was in Asheboro on business Saturday. Mr. S. Bryant, of Randleman, was here the first of the week on business. Mr. Thomas H. Swain, of Randleman, was a visitor in Asheboro Tuesday. A vote against the good roads bonds is a vote against home and happiness. Mr. J. T. Thornburg and J. W. Birkhead, of New Hope, were here this week. W. S. Lineberry, Esq., of Millboro, was here attending Commissioners Court Monday. Mr. M. W. Parrish has been away from home on a business trip for several days. The early morning train going North leaves at 4 a. m. instead of 4:30 as heretofore. Mr. J. Elwood Cox, a prominent citizen of High Point, was in Asheboro on business yesterday. There are only two farmers in Asheboro township who have declared themselves opposed to bonds. Mrs. F. L. Douthit and little daughter, of Danville, Va., are visiting Mrs. Douthit's parents in Asheboro. Mr. Fletcher King is greatly improving his home on South Fayetteville Street. Mrs. Fletcher Cox and little son are visiting Mr. O. R. Cox's family on Sunset Ave. Mrs. Julia A. Thorns, returned home Friday after a months visit to New Orleans and Panama. There will be a meeting of the Asheboro Betterment Society at the school building today at 3:30 p. m. Died of pneumonia in Mt Gilead, February 28, 1910, Mrs. Hattie Skeen Andrews, wife of Robt Andrews. She was an estimable lady, the daughter of Prof. B. H. Skeen, and granddaughter of the late Jao. A. Craven. She leaves a husband, four small children, a mother and brother to mourn their great loss. Miss Nannie Cagle, aged 17 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Cagle, died at her home near Why Not, March 3, 1910. Miss Cagle had been ill for some seven months prior to her death. She was buried at Why Not cemetery, Rev. J. A. Ledbetter conducting the funeral services. Ernest Williams, who at one time was a member of the Courier force, has just finished a course with the Southern Commercial Business College, at Greensboro has taken a position with the Southern railroad at Greensboro with a nice salary attached. Mr. Williams is a son of Mr. W. A. Williams of Randleman No. 2 and is a bright young man, in every way worthy of the good fortune that has come to him. Mr. Rochelle, who has been running a studio in South Asheboro for some time, has decided to close up and leave town. Mr. Rochelle's decision is to be regretted, as he is, not only a fine photographer, but a very clever gentleman and a good citizen. He will remain until the first of April, for the purpose of finishing all work on hand and for the accommodation of those wanting work between now and that time. Mr. Arthur Ross said, when asked by a Courier representative if he favored bond issue for good roads, "I want good roads so the saw mills can get their lumber hauled cheaper and the farmers can haul larger loads and get more for their day's work. It is true that there cannot be many miles built with the bonds to be issued, but there must be a beginning. When I was a small boy I heard the same argument used against good roads in Alamance county. There at first only a few miles were built out from Graham, but it was only a few years until the good roads extended to other parts of the county. Coming men and women will rise up and call us blessed for our action if we act wisely. Every man who does not vote for bonds will be in my opinion using his influence against the best interests of the community. There is no middle ground on this question. There is no standstill place."

Mr. Isham Nance, who recently moved to Asheboro from the western part of the county, has finished and moved into his new and elegant home on Fayetteville street in South Asheboro. Mr. Nance has also opened a grocery store in the building just north of the colored church, where he expects to do business only a short time, as he is building a new and complete store house, of his own, a little further down Fayetteville street, which he expects to occupy as soon as completed. Those in need of the service of the county organizer of the Farmers' Union for Randolph and Davidson counties will address L. L. Farlow, County Organizer for the two counties at Sophia, Route 1. Farmers are advised to get organized and buy their fertilizers through the Union. In order to do this they must organize once. Mr. Farlow says he will appreciate the co-operation of all members of the Union throughout the county and asks if you know of a community that needs a local to address L. L. Farlow, County Organizer, for Davidson and Randolph at Sophia, Route 1. The Randolph Club. The Randolph Club was organized on Monday night of this week. The organization was made under a recent charter obtained from the Secretary of State. By-laws were adopted. For the present the number of members were limited to 40. Mr. D. B. McCrary was elected president; H. M. Robbins, vice president; F. Ingold, secretary; J. M. Neely, treasurer. The board of governors is composed of Messrs. H. M. Worth, chairman; Seth W. Laughlin, H. B. Hiatt, T. H. Redding and Clarence Rush. The Club will occupy the four room in the second story of the law building. The chief purpose of the club is the industrial and commercial feature. There will be a reading and recreation room. If the club will adopt the business measures of other successful clubs much can be accomplished for the up building of the town. Washington's Birthday Celebration. Editor Courier:—On the night of the 22nd of February it was the writers' pleasure to be at Level Cross and listen to the speeches and dialogues recited by the school in honor of our beloved Washington, Mr. Smith, our splendid teacher at this place, only decided three or four days previous to this date that he would celebrate the birth of Washington in this way. The pupils all did credit to themselves and teacher which showed a spirit of aptness on the part of both teacher and pupils to get up so nice a program on so short a notice. Miss Lona Adams and brother and Mrs. McDaniel gave us some splendid music which added much to the enjoyment of all present. We are all looking forward with bright hopes to the day when our exhibition comes off, about the first of April, at which date we shall expect the editor of the Courier to be on hand and make a speech on anything he may see fit to talk about. Rambler Meet With Mrs. Penn. Mrs. J. T. Penn entertained the Ramblers book club at her home on North Fayetteville Street last Friday afternoon. Mrs. Chas. Fox read an interesting paper on "Country and customs of the Germans". Mrs. H. B. Hiatt read a very interesting paper on "Shelly and Goethe". Delicious refreshments were served and the club voted Mrs. Penn an ideal host.
Lewis Vuncannon Dead. Lewis Vuncannon, a substantial citizen whose home was near High Pine church in Union township, died at his home Tuesday night, March eighth, and will be buried at High Pine today. Mr. Vuncannon is survived by his wife, six sons and three daughters. Mr. Vuncannon was a good man and will be much missed in that section of the county.
Mule Sale on Monday. The 9 mules sold at auction brought more money than the county paid for them, after they had been worked from 2 to 10 years. This speaks well for the care which has been given the mules and for the business like methods in selling them.

On account of the financial condition of many of our citizens, the Board of County Commissioners courteously extended the time in which I should settle the County taxes, therefore I am enabled to make this special round for the convenience of tax payers throughout the county. Those who have not paid their taxes will appreciate the situation and meet me at the times stated above and settle their taxes, as I must settle with the County when this round is completed. After this round I will be forced to levy and collect the unpaid taxes in the manner prescribed by law. The time fixed for the settlement was February 1st, but as stated above, the Board kindly extended the time.
Yours respectfully,
S. L. HAYWORTH, Sheriff of Randolph County.

Leaving Town!
After April 1st I will remove from Asheboro and take this method of informing the public who wish photographs of any description that this will be your last opportunity to secure high-grade guaranteed pictures at reasonable prices. Remember, after April 1st, 1910, the studio will be closed.
