New Peas After Wheat is Cut.

With a better knowledge of agriculture, people are beginning to see the importance of growing leguminous plants. These plants are valuable for two reasons: First, they gather nitrogen an expensive plant food needed in almost all soils from the air, and second, they are among the most nutritious of all our forage plants. If these facts were fully appreciated, says Dr. Butler in Progressive Farmer, there would be five times the amount of legumes grown that ever have been. Our soils badly need the humous and nitrogen to be supplied by these plants, at the same time they furnish food rich in the elements especially necessary in the growing of young animals the production of milk, and the feeding of work stock.

Now is an excellent time to sow cow peas or some other legume on the oat and wheat stubble; even if the seed cost as much as $3.50 or $3.00 per bushel, it will not pay to neglect the matter. Dr. Butler says:

"First, one-half bushel of cow peas, costing $1.50, will plant one acre in drills 30 inches apart, and this acre of average land will produce 8 to 10 bushels of peas, probably, and a ton of hay almost certainly. In case only the ton of hay is secured, it will be secured at a cost not to exceed $6 or $8 at the outside figure, and will contain $10 worth of fertilizer; while the stubble and roots will also contain plant foods worth $2 or $3 additional. If all this be left on the ground to be plowed under as soon as mature, or to be pastured, the cost of producing the crop will not exceed $5 per acre including cost of seed and all labor. If the crop be plowed under there will be at least a profit of 100 per cent in the value of the nitrogen added to the soil. In addition, the beneficial effects upon the mechanical condition of the soil, from the plowing in of needed organic or vegetable matter, will largely increase the yield of the succeeding crop, independent of the benefit to be derived from the nitrogen added.

When it May Pay to Plow Under a Crop

As a general rule we do not approve of any crop that is suitable for feeding being plowed under; but on many Southern soils of medium or low capacity, due to lack of humus, an investment of $6 or $8 per acre for vegetable matter to plow under, will frequently pay handsome profits in increased yields of succeeding crops. In such case it should be looked upon as an investment of a more or less permanent nature and not as a general farm practice to be followed every year.

If peas are $3.00 a bushel, why not plant them and reap the benefit of the high price? The soy bean is another legume which may be planted on oat or wheat stubble with good results. It yields about double the amount of seed which this year cost from 50 cents to a $1 a bushel less than cow peas. A half bushel will plant an acre in 30-inch rows.

ONLY ONE "BEST"

Asheboro People Give Credit Where Credit is Due.

People of Asheville who suffer with sick kidneys and bad backs want a kidney remedy that can be depended upon. The best is Doan's Kidney Pills, a medicine for the kidneys only, made from pure roots and herbs, and the only one that is backed by cures in Asheville. Here's Asheville testimony:

Mrs. M. L. Steed, Salisbury St., Asheville, N. C., says: "I have no hesitation in recommending Doan's Kidney Pills, as I know them to be a remedy of exceptional merit. I suffered a short time ago from severe pains in the small of my back, extending at times into my head and neck. I also had dizzy spells and often had to grasp something to keep from falling. The different remedies I used brought but temporary relief. At last I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at the Standard Drug Co., and they soon drove away the pains in my back, together with the other symptoms of my trouble, in fact improved my condition in every way. I attribute my present good health solely to the use of Doan's Kidney Pills."

SENATOR DANIEL DEAD.

Great Virginian Passes Away—Short Sketch of His Life.

John W. Daniel, senior Senator from Virginia, died June 30, at the Lynchburg sanitarium, having suffered some time from paralysis. The immediate cause of death was cerebral hemorrhage attacking the right side of his brain.

Senator Daniel was born in Lynchburg, in 1842. He was educated in the private schools of Lynchburg, Lynchburg College, and Dr. Gessen's University school, taking a course in the law school of the University of Virginia after the war. Senator Daniel, like his father, was a distinguished lawyer. He served in the Confederate army and was quickly promoted to the rank of Major and chief of staff of General Jubal A. Early. He was often mentioned officially for gallantry and daring bravery. In 1884 he was elected to the House of Representatives, was four times elected to the United States Senate, was six times a delegate at large to the National Democratic convention, and was at one time an elector at large.

Senator Daniel is survived by his wife, four children, Mrs. Fred Harper, Edward M. Daniel, John W. Daniel, Jr., Miss Julia Daniel, and one sister, Mrs. Don P. Helsey, of Washington, D. C.

A New Cure for Cancer.

While medical men are still in the dark as to the cause of cancer, they appear ready to admit that the embryonic cell theory no longer holds good, and are inspired to fresh efforts.

Many scientists are interested in a cure reported by Hodenpyl. This surgeon put into practice what some American physicians had learned from experiments with white rats. They discovered that the blood of a rat which had cured itself of cancer, infused into another rat suffering from the disease would effect a cure. They came to the conclusion that the blood of the rat, which had been spontaneously cured contained some property which rendered him immune.

"Hodenpyl was fortunate enough to discover one of the fifteen recorded cases of spontaneously cured cancer in man, and he transfused peritoneal fluid from this person to a person suffering with a very malignant form of the disease. The result was a cure.

It will be very difficult to find persons who have been cured of the disease and will give their blood to others, and it will be still more difficult to get peritoneal fluid in the circumstances, but it is not unlikely that persons who have been cured after a partial operation for cancer may have this same immunity and may, therefore, be able to immunize others. Let us hope that this is the case, and that the next few years will see the fulfillment of all that the scientists hope—the conquest of cancer and happiness to millions of sufferers.

Saved at Death's Door.

The floor of death seemed ready to open for Murray W. Ayers of Tryon Bridge, N. Y., when his life was wonderfully saved. "I was in a dreadful condition," he writes, "my skin was almost yellow; my eyes sunk; tongue coated; emaciated from losing 40 pounds; growing weaker daily. Virulent liver trouble pulling me down to death in spite of doctors. Then that matchless medicine, Electric Bitters, cured me. I regained the 40 pounds lost and now am well and strong." For all stomach, liver and kidney troubles they're supreme. 50c at J. T. Underwood's, next door to Bank of Randolph.

Bitten by a Snake.

Chatham Record.
Mrs. Ann Eliza Johnson, widow of the late John Johnson, of Oakland township, was bitten on the hand by a copperhead snake Saturday in a peculiar manner. She was in the act of taking some eggs from a hen's nest under the flooring of a house when the snake bit her. As a result of the bite, her hand became very much swollen. Mrs. Johnson hurried to town and Dr. Chapin was called on to administer medical relief. We are pleased to learn that she has about recovered from the effects of the snake's bite.

NEGRO FOR COLLECTOR.

Taft Will Appoint Kentucky Negro to be Collector for Georgetown—White Man Likely to be Ousted.

Unofficial reports from the White House say that President Taft will appoint a negro, probably from Kentucky as Collector of Georgetown, which is practically a part of Washington, D. C. Sidney Bieber, Republican National Committeeman of the District, who has been strongly endorsed for the position is thus turned down. Residents of Georgetown are indignant over the report and claim that the appointment will make the negroes arrogant and be liable to cause trouble.

1910—1911.

The Poem Read Before the State Press Association at Wrightsville by Mr. D. S. St. Clair, of the Sanford Express Poet for the Year.

Like a bowing young page on an old castle stair,
The year just ahead stands sweetly smiling.

But he tells not the joys that behold for our share,
Nor the gloom of the room where may lurk our despair.

Though we follow his beckon beguiling,
Will he labor to bless us, the gallant young page,

And conduct us through gardens of pleasure?
Will he lead to the sbrines of the good and the sage?

Will he help us to honor our State and our age
And to give forth our heart's richest treasure?

Need we fear that he smiles at our credulous haste
To discover the fate he's concealing?

Will he jeer if before him our hopes should lie waste?

Will he prove, like fair fortune, a friend double-faced?
Will he open old wounds that are healing?

But why question him thus? Let us still follow on,
For the Lord of the page rules above him,

And the Lord of the page is the infinite One
Who will lead to a rest when the journey is done.

All the spirits of the juit scribes that love him,
If come gladness or grief 'tis an interval brief

That this page shall our spirits be leading,
Should he give not success for our labor's relief

We must wither and die like his own summer's leaf,
And we'll look to the pages succeeding.

And when a low bowing young usher of earth
Shall herald the year of our dying,

If but failure we've had since the day of our birth,
We'll hope the dear Lord may discover some worth

In the courage we've had to keep trying.

Teething children have more or less diarrhoea, which can be controlled by giving Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. All that is necessary is to give the prescribed dose after each operation of the bowels more than natural and then castor oil to cleanse the system. It is safe and sure. Sold by all dealers.

Thomasville Leaders.
Thomasville Davidsonian.

One of the remarkable things about Thomasville is the large number of young men who are leaders in our industrial and commercial life. We have no loafers. Public sentiment will not stand it. Our boys are busy all the time, and their brains are clear and their heads level. They are not misers nor sports. They are reasonably economical, but they are broad gauged; public spirited and patriotic. The town has every reason to be proud of its young men.

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets expertly stimulate the liver and bowels to expel poisonous matter, cleanse the system, cure constipation and sick headache. Sold by all dealers.

Mr. Editor: The statement made in your paper last week that I was in Asheville "last Thursday to see the Bloomer girls play ball," is a mistake. I think it justice to myself and the county Sunday school executive committee (who held their meeting the same day) that I make this statement. If I could have been at the committee meeting I would. I certainly left town before seeing the game of ball.

Yours respectfully,
E. O. WILLIAMSON,
Worthville, N. C., July 1, 1910.
