INTERESTING NEWS FROM CAPITAL CITY

Theodore Roosevelt's Star of Destiny is Falling

While he was in the South dickering for the support of Republican delegates to the 1912 convention, a vigorous movement was started among the "genuine" progressives of the West and Middle West looking toward the withdrawal of all support from the former president. Some of the leaders of the Congressional delegation of progressives quietly talked the situation over and decided not to permit Roosevelt to run away with the leadership of the national progressive movement.

The New York platform squarely describes the Payne-Aldrich law as a fulfillment of Republican promises, because it states there was an average reduction of all duties of 11 per cent, which, if true, would constitute revision downward. This is in contrast to the Wisconsin Republican platform which states unequivocally that "the Payne-Aldrich tariff is not a compliance with the pledge of the Republican party."

The Roosevelt-made platform contains still another paragraph which makes T. R. impossible as leader of the genuine progressives in 1912, to-wit: "We enthusiastically indorse the progressive and statesmanlike leadership of William Howard Taft."

MAKING TARIFFS

Senator Beveridge Exposes a Few Tricks of the Trade

Methods of the Head Senatorial Log Roller--Men Who Would Like to Be Fair Brownstems--How Selfishness Interferes With Honest Government.

Senator Beveridge, Indiana's insurgent representative in the senate and who knows whereof he speaks, tells the readers of the Saturday Evening Post a few of the tricks of the tariff making trade. Mr. Beveridge is a thorough believer in "honest" protection, though if what he tells us be true it will be hard for him to show that any tariff bill can be honest.

"Take the last tariff session as an example of all others, but the very last example, thanks to the intelligence of the American people and the demand of the average American producer. Let us say there are four or five enormous interests that have exercised dominant influence in building our tariffs, influences that have been seen in both great parties--for example, our old friend of the Wilson-Gorman tariff, the American Sugar Refining company, known as the sugar trust, or the American Wool company, known as the wool trust; the American Tobacco company, known as the tobacco trust, or the New England cotton combination, known as the cotton trust, or the International and Northern Paper companies, known as the paper trust, or the Weyerhaeuser lumber enterprises, known as the lumber trust, and its associate concerns.

"Very well. Let us say that there are five senators who do not want the sugar schedule touched, ten who do not want the wool schedule touched, ten more who want the cotton schedule increased, ten more who think that the internal revenue laws affecting tobacco should not be altered, and so on. Perhaps these various groups of senators do not greatly care about any schedules other than the one which they are supporting, though it is a fact that there is a curious sympathy among all of them.

"The Roosevelt-made platform contains still another paragraph which makes T. R. impossible as leader of the genuine progressives in 1912, to-wit: "We enthusiastically indorse the progressive and statesmanlike leadership of William Howard Taft."

"If our prohibitive tariff were made more competitive, if it were actually lowered," declares the Massachusetts democratic platform, "more goods would be imported, prices would fall and yet the revenue would increase. We demand the removal of taxes upon foodstuffs and other necessities of life, a tariff low enough on all manufactured articles to prevent the control of our market by the trusts and to impose the check of competition upon inordinate profits of capital."

Behind Mr. Butler's campaign for the capture of the next Legislature a believed to be the deep-laid purpose of the New York holders of repudiated bonds of North Carolina to force their payment at this late day. Indeed, a committee of these bondholders has written an insolent letter to the people of North Carolina, threatening that if they are not paid, the State's credit will be attacked and ruined by them and their allies.

TAX ON CLOTHING

Costs the Average Man Twenty-six Dollars a Year

HOW THE TARIFF PINCHES

Striking Illustrations of the Effect of High Protective Duties on the Cost of Living--Manufacturer, Not the Government, Gathers the Profit.

How much does the tariff cost a man on his clothing in the course of a year? The minority committee on wages and prices of commodities has in its report compiled a table which shows approximately that a man earning $1,000 a year might be expected to pay for a year's clothing, etc., about $26.40, of which no less than $20.22 would go in tariff taxation.

That the reader may see for himself the reasonableness of this calculation we give the various items as follows:

Table with columns: Retail price, Tariff tax. Items include 2 pairs shoes, 12 pairs hose, Underwear, 2 suits (wool), 6 shirts, 4 nightshirts, 12 handkerchiefs, Wool suit, Wool trousers, Wool overcoat, 12 collars, 2 ties, 2 hats, 1 watch, 1 chain.

Total $26.40. (a) One in two years costing $25, the proportionate annual cost of which is given above. (b) One in ten years costing $25, the proportionate annual cost of which is given above.

Of course the above calculation is based upon the assumption that the goods are imported. The amount paid to the government in that case by the purchaser would be as above stated. If the goods are not imported, but are homemade, the $25, or something approaching that sum, would still be paid by the purchaser, but it would be paid not to the government, but to the protected manufacturer, for the manufacturer always tries to raise the price up to the level of the tariff and generally succeeds in doing so.

So that here we have a measure of the exactions of the tariff brought down to the comprehension of the average man and strikingly illustrative of the effect of this one influence in enhancing the cost of living. Remember, however, that families and not individuals are the social units and that if we were to take the average family expenditure into account we should probably find that the exactions of that tariff are three times as much on articles of wearing apparel alone. Mr. Byron Holt estimated in 1903 that the tariff tax then in force was about $111 per year for each family, of which $94 went to the protected interests and the remainder to the government.

A Hindrance, Not a Help.

With a high tariff bobble skirt it must be hard to stand pat.

The Tariff Grant The tariff is the grandest ploy that ever was invented. For man to rob his fellow man, yet leave him quite contented.

It fills the pockets of the few With plunder for the many, Who fancy that to it are due Their earnings, every penny.

The rooster gazing in the pool, Who saw his form reflected, Was not a mere confounded fool. Then he saw in "protected."

The foolish fowl saw in his form The visage of a stranger, And died to death amid a storm Of self-created danger.

So when our tariff dips is made To give up all his money, The foreigner, he thinks, has paid, And that to him is funny.

And still the game of booby thrives And brows across their plunder, And will the common sense approve, When will it be, I wonder?
