

Dropsy— Given up by Doctor

"I had dropsy, and was told by my family physician that there was no chance for me. My family also gave me up. My limbs and body were swollen one-third larger than natural, water collected around my heart and I had to be propped up in bed to keep from smothering. I took Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy until I was entirely cured. This was in 1902, and I am now able to do any kind of work on my farm. My cure was certainly marvelous."

THE PRESENCE OF THE SON OF MAN

Matthew 24:32-44—November 13
"Watch and pray, lest ye enter into temptation."—Matthew 26:41.

FOR various reasons many Bible students understand that our Lord referred to the Jewish nation under the symbolism of a fig-tree. He had been telling his disciples what might be expected in the end of this age, when he would come again to receive his faithful to himself and to give them a place as his Bride upon his Throne and to establish his Kingdom under the whole heavens for the blessing of Israel and all the world through Israel. In this study he tells us that amongst the prominent signs of the closing of this age and the opening of the new will be the budding of the fig-tree—the springing forth of new life and new hope in the Jewish nation. And is not this condition of things manifesting itself today? Behold the Jews awakening and listening to the voice of Moses and the Prophets calling them to Palestine and to fresh hope in God and in the glorious promises to which they still are heirs as the natural seed of Abraham! "For the gifts and calling of God are things he does not repent of" (Romans 11:29).

"This Generation Shall Not Pass"

The generation which witnesses the signs promised in the verses preceding our lesson and which witnesses this putting forth of the green leaves of hope by Israel will see to the full the accomplishment of the glorious change of Dispensation so long foretold. They will witness the passing of the reign of the Prince of Darkness and the inauguration of the glorious reign of the Prince of Light—Messiah with his glorious Bride class; not, however, that mankind will see Messiah with the natural eyes, nor see even his glorious Bride, except with the eyes of their understanding. "Flesh and blood cannot inherit the Kingdom of God; neither can they inherit it by marriage; neither yet by carnal connections; but they which are baptized into Christ, and are clothed with him, shall inherit the Kingdom with him." (1 Cor. 6:17-18). The present ecclesiastical heavens and the present social earth will, indeed, both pass away in the great time of trouble with which this age will end; but following these, supplanting them, will come the new heavens and the new earth—the new religious institutions of the Lord—the Church in glory and the new social order amongst mankind under the regulations for which we still pray, "Thy Kingdom come; thy will be done on earth." Then the words of the great Teacher will surely have fulfillment.

The Day and Hour Had Not Been Foretold

The day and the hour of the great change no one knew; not even the angels in heaven. The Master himself declared that he did not know—but the Father alone. This should not, however, be understood to mean that the Son of God would not know about the matter later on. In due time, before he would begin his work of establishing the Kingdom. Neither would it prove that the angels of heaven would be in ignorance up to the last moment. Neither would it prove that God's people, living at the time for the establishment of the Kingdom, would not know. In fact, the Master declares that all living in proper harmony with him would be kept informed respecting the Father's Plans as they became due. He declared that if they would partake of the things of God and follow after them, that then they should have meat in due season.

IN THE DAYS OF NOAH, THEY LAKE THEY PLANTED, THEY BUILT, AND KNEW NOT

In this very study the Great Teacher illustrates this principle, referring to Noah and Lot. Noah was informed respecting the coming change of Dispensation when he was instructed to build the ark one hundred and twenty years before the flood. Lot was instructed respecting the disaster coming upon the city in which he lived long enough in advance to escape from it. Therefore the Church of Christ in this age will be kept informed of the things which are to befall it. The Master says, "I will send the sign of the Son of Man into the heaven, and will send the angels, and will gather together my elect which are scattered abroad upon the face of the whole earth." (Matthew 24:30-31). The Master says, "I will send the sign of the Son of Man into the heaven, and will send the angels, and will gather together my elect which are scattered abroad upon the face of the whole earth." (Matthew 24:30-31). The Master says, "I will send the sign of the Son of Man into the heaven, and will send the angels, and will gather together my elect which are scattered abroad upon the face of the whole earth." (Matthew 24:30-31).

have attained the necessary character likeness of Christ and will have stood the necessary testings. As no one of the Jewish priests could ever serve as High Priest if he had a superfluous finger or toe, it is thus shown in the type that the antitypical High Priest, the Messiah, will have only a definite, fixed number of members in his Body—neither one too few nor one too many. Later on, the foolish Virgins came to the "door," but found it forever shut. They lost the great prize. They were foolish in that they did not give attention to getting the oil in time; foolish also in that they cared too much for the things of this present life; but they were Virgins, nevertheless. They finally got the oil, which represents the holy Spirit, but too late! The door was shut! They could not be of the Bride class. The Master answered, I know you my friend, I could not recognize you as my Bride.

RESTORED HUMAN RACE ACTS 3:19-21. GRADES OF GLORY. Eph. 1:2-10.

In view of this the Lord exhorts that his consecrated followers of the Church or Virgin class be constantly on the alert, because they know neither the day nor the hour of the Master's coming and of the invitation to go in to the wedding. The parable shows, however, that although the time of the Master's coming could not be known in the past, nevertheless, it would be known to all of the Virgin class "in due time." It will be announced, as indicated in the cry. The cry will be so loud that all of the Virgins will hear it, even though the world will have no knowledge of it. The Master merely wished us to understand that the great event would not be foretold in advance.

The parable does not show how the foolish Virgins, excluded from the wedding and from membership in the Bride class, will be treated. Other Scriptures, however, show that this foolish virgin class will share with the world in a great time of trouble, which will then come to every nation. In that time of trouble these foolish virgins will suffer severely and "Wash their robes and make them white in the blood of the Lamb," and thereafter be accounted worthy to "serve God in his Temple," though not worthy to be of the Temple. They will be accounted worthy to serve before the Throne, though not worthy to sit in the Throne. They will be accounted worthy to have palms of victory, but not be accounted worthy of crowns of glory. The lesson to God's people is to awake, to hearken, to have our lamps, the Word of God, trimmed and burning, and to have all the holy Spirit, in our vessels—to be living in an attitude of full consecration to God (Revelation vii. 9, 14, 15).

Suggestions as to Conny Homes.

In Lee county in his charge to jury Judge Allen suggested that the county buy one of the best farms to be had upon which to build its home for the poor. He advocated the county home being made a reformatory for young criminals—boys guilty of larceny and other petty crimes; that if they are put on the chain gang they grow up to be hardened criminals. This is the last term of court that Judge Allen will hold in Lee county. At the recent election the people of the State elected him to succeed Judge Manning, Gov. Kitchin's appointee, on the Supreme Court bench. He will go on the Supreme Court bench about the first of the coming year. That Judge Allen will fill this exalted position with credit to himself and to the State, no one who knows him doubts.

Should the South Grow Pork for Market?

Certainly the South should grow pork for market if she can do so at a large profit than she finds in some other products for market. Opinions differ widely on this question. By market we mean home market. The South cannot even consider distant marketing. It costs about as much to grow pork in the South under the most favorable conditions as anywhere in the United States. And should she find a section of territory where she could sell at a profit, the West can lower the price and still sell at a profit. While pork retails at higher figures in the South than in the West just the reverse case governs the selling of beef. Beef retails more cheaply in the South than in the West for the reason that the trusts are not so situated as to control the local supply. What the trusts would put into sausage and canned goods or cold storage is thrown on the market while on the other hand pork is easily preserved by the farmer and marketed with some degree of control.

Who weighs this question must not be influenced by the temporary drop in price of beef and pork caused by the Western farmer rushing the market with what he does not care to winter.

We see that pork is selling for higher prices in the South—not so much because of freight rates but because the trusts cannot control the home supply. Necessarily the trusts cannot control the marketing in the South for some years. The Southern farmer is saved freight and other incidental expenses,—at least a two cent per pound gain over the Western market. Thus with odds at twenty per cent we afford to supply the homemarket demand? This may best be answered by determining the relative cost of corn growing here and in the West. Is corn grown as cheaply here as in the West? We think it is not. Can it be grown as cheaply here as in the West? It can. The West grows corn; we plant corn and suffer it to grow. Those who have given corn culture and corn cultivation attention for years are growing it at Western figures.

Let no advocate of alfalfa, the clover, and the legumes think because these feeds have not entered into this discussion, that we have ignored them. For if these are better adapted to our soils and climate and are the economical substitute for corn as a hog feed we have quite strong grounds for the affirmative answer to our interrogation.

Thus the solution finally sifts down to this: Can the aggregate hog diet be produced as cheaply here as elsewhere? Nor is it, but can it? And a balanced ration can be produced here at a cost the equal to that of the West. Within a few years the intelligent farmer who gives his attention to it will be marketing his pork at a profit.—Union Farmer.

An Antiseptic Child.

Little Walter was always carefully guarded against germs. The telephone was sprayed, the drinking utensils sterilized and public conveyances and places were forbidden him. "Father," he said one night in a tone of desperation, "do you know what I am going to do when I grow up?" "What?" asked his father, preparing himself for the worst. "I'm going to eat a germ."—Success Magazine.

ALL WRONG.

The Mistake is Made by Many Asheville Citizens.

Don't mistake the cause of backache. To be cured you must know the cause. It is wrong to imagine relief is cure. Backache is kidney ache. You must cure the kidneys. A resident of this vicinity shows you how.

H. H. Hill, Main Street, Randleman, N. C., says: "Several years ago I had kidney trouble and though I used various remedies, I was unable to get relief. I had severe pain in my back and the kidney secretions plainly showed by their unnatural appearance that my kidneys were at fault. When I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills, I immediately procured a supply and I had taken them but a short time before I noticed a decided improvement. I continued their use until entirely relieved and I have had practically no kidney trouble since. I take a few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills occasionally, however, as they serve to keep my kidneys in a normal condition. I heartily recommend this reliable remedy." For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

County Good Roads Associations.

Dr. Joseph Hyde Pratt, State Geologist, discusses the work of the county associations: "It is not possible to state in specific terms just what can be accomplished by Good Roads Associations, but it is an undisputed fact that a great work can be done by them in arousing and stimulating interest in the question of improved roads. Our people are already beginning to realize the great value of good roads to county and State, but many of them have not yet begun to realize the necessity of showing their interest in this important work by individual action. By the formation of County Good Roads Associations and through their co-operation with each other and with the State Good Roads Association, it is believed that a decided benefit will result to the cause of good road construction and maintenance throughout North Carolina. In the first place, the best results in any movement can only be obtained through organized effort and this is especially true of the good road movement. We hear too often the exclamation, it is impossible to get good roads! and yet if these same people would band themselves together, they could very readily obtain good roads in their community. The State Association, co-operating with other good road forces at work throughout the State, will be able to send literature to the members of the County Associations which will give valuable information regarding the good road movement together with suggestions for the improvement of the highways in their respective sections of the State. The County Association can exert a great influence upon good road legislation and also in bringing about the passage of the road laws that will be for the best interest of the State and counties. The County Association can readily ascertain the sentiment of its county as to such legislation and can create, through publications and personal interviews, a strong sentiment for good road laws.
