

The Man Who Helps Boys Govern Themselves

"Nothing Without Labor" is the motto of the George Junior Republic, and hard work, earnest study and intelligent self-government are indeed the basic principles of the little educational commonwealth at Freeville, New York and its sturdy young citizens.

Fixing Up A Brother's Room

A boy enjoys pretty things in his room as well as girls do in their apartments. He may not be able to describe the articles that give a home-like appearance, neither can he take care of them, but he feels their influence and appreciates them.

"I made a pedestal, a desk, and a window seat for my brother's room and the whole three cost me only $1.50. For the pedestal I took the two end pieces of a cask that had been in the cellar for a number of years.

"For the desk I selected a box large enough for three shelves. I nailed small cleats to each side to support the shelves and placed them as far apart as the ordinary book shelves.

"For the window-seat I took a box six feet long and three feet wide and attached casters to the four corners. I padded the top with batting, then covered it with cretonne the same as I used for the desk.

The Best Way to Show Patriotism

In thinking about the word, "Patriotism," we think of loyalty to our country, but it has another meaning. The other is loyalty to our God. In being loyal to God, we are loyal to ourselves, fellow creatures and church work.

TO ESTABLISH EXPERIMENTAL FARMS.

Letter from State Agronomist—Agreement to be Signed.

The following letter from State Agronomist Burgess explains itself: We are aware that the local press takes great interest in the welfare of the farmers, indeed, that the interest of the two are at many points identical.

The leading function of the N. C. Department of Agriculture is not its police work but that of producing agricultural wealth among the farmers of the State.

From now on we shall desire to reach the farmers of your county through your paper and with your permission, will offer you from time to time for publication short articles on our work as it progresses in your county and on other agricultural subjects of interest to your subscribers.

Very truly yours, J. L. Burgess, Agronomist.

Those desiring to take part in the work should sign the following agreement and forward to Mr. Burgess, of the State Department of Agriculture:

For the purpose of securing for myself and my neighbors a more exact knowledge of the relationship existing between the soils and crops of my locality, and to gain a more complete mastery of the factors that govern successful farming in my community, and in consideration of receiving from the North Carolina Department of Agriculture all seed, fertilizer, and instructions necessary thereto, I hereby agree to conduct certain experiments relating to the above, as directed by the State Department of Agriculture, and to keep a careful record of all items of expense as outlined in the instructions given: Provided, that I shall receive all returns from the crops grown during the time these experiments are in operation.

Good Roads Coming

Little by little the good roads bond issue is gaining favor in Montgomery. Three months ago there were not more than half so many for bonds as at present.

They are learning that it is for the benefit of the farmers and the man who makes his living with the team that good roads are so urgently needed.

They have learned that bonds do not operate as a mortgage on their property. They have learned that it will cost them less to get good roads by a bond issue than under the old system.

They are becoming convinced that to build roads by taxation is the only just method. Many of them have seen with their own eyes what can be done for a road when the money is put on it at once.

They have learned that $150 per mile will build an excellent graded dirt road almost anywhere in the county; this is being demonstrated in Troy township.

They are refusing to listen to reports that the money will not be wisely expended for that is merely the talk of bond opponents without reason to substantiate such arguments. They are becoming convinced that good roads are a necessity in this generation.

Something That Would Help.

Read the following and substitute North Carolina where Georgia is mentioned, and why could not Asheville be as fortunate as Smyrna:

"There is a plan on foot now to establish an incubator factory at Smyrna the coming winter, which will keep thousands of dollars in Georgia, and make employment for many high class laborers, especially good cabinet makers.

"Food products of every kind, especially meat and eggs are becoming higher and higher every year and we will never see these products cheap again that could so easily be raised at home, so I predict for Smyrna, in the course of the next few years, a great future. It will only take time to develop its possibilities, as it did Petaluma."

About one and a quarter million dollars per year is brought into the small town of Petaluma Cal., for eggs alone to say nothing of the poultry that is marketed. Most of the inhabitants there have from one to five acres of land.

There is no reason why we should not have a good packing plant for cold storage located in Smyrna, where all of the small producers could send their output, or carry even a small amount and know that they can readily turn it into cash.

"I do not believe that, today, on a week's notice any consumer in Georgia could possibly buy from a producer one thousand table eggs, or one hundred dressed chickens—either broilers or fryers. These orders are now going to Morristown, Tenn., and some of the western packers.

COMPETITION.

In the opinion of the people generally organized wealth takes more than its proper share. To remedy this railroad regulation and the dissolution or at least the strict regulation of trusts are required. The effort which must be made is for the re-establishment of competition as an effective force in industrial life. I venture the prophecy that in the end we will have either competition in full vigor, which means an unending struggle in prices and for profits, or we will have full co-operation in which all the people will participate. If competition is to permanently give way it must be to altruistic co-operation.—Senator Cummins.
