The slogan of the Moore County News strikes us as a good one, 'Others boast much—we boast Moore.' Still even 'Moore' could be spelled more and it would still be a good one.

We promise all readers that the errors in proof reading which appeared in our last issue shall not occur again. We regret it and promise faithfully as to the future.

A contemporary refers to the fact that an Ohio lawyer's mind has become a blank, as though that was a strange thing. We have seen some specimens nearer home than Ohio where there was a strong suspicion that the mind had never been otherwise than blank.

The Concord Times has this to say of Judge Long's candidacy to succeed Judge Brown:

'Judge Long has a card in which he has the matter under consideration. Judge Long is recognized as one of the ablest judges that has ever been on the bench in this State, and there is no question in any quarter but that he would fill the position of Justice of the Supreme Court with honor to the State.'

The Thomasville Davidsonian has this to say of the late O. R. Cox, who at one time lived at Thomasville:

'Mr. O. R. Cox, a former resident of Thomasville and a man highly esteemed, died last week at his home in Asheboro. Mr. Cox was a self-made man and earned the money that he made. He was true to his church and a friend of progress. Peace to his ashes'

Stanly county has organized a fair association. The association will have charge of the Farmers' Exhibition and Trades' Day on November 23. A regular county fair association will be organized to promote an increased interest in agriculture, poultry, stock raising and other matters. The selection of Mr. W. L. Mann, as president of the fair association means that it will be a success. He not only has ideas but knows how to execute them.

The coming of Major J. O. Hemp-hill to North Carolina to edit the Charlotte Observer is a matter about which the people of the State take more than a passing interest. He will add to North Carolina journalism. The fact that Messrs. T. F. Klutz, Jr., and R. W. Vincent will be retained on the staff of the Observer shows the wisdom of the new management, for they have done well with the Observer since their chief was stricken some three years ago. They deserve well of the new management.

A Real Fair

Uncle Joe Reese who is always just and never unfair tells it in this wise in last Thursday's Greensboro Record:

Asheboro's first fair was a success. It was purely a fair and a home-coming affair. Not a show of any kind was permitted on the grounds. Fakirs were unknown, either on the midway or track. In fact there was no racing whatever. The crowd must have been great, for the conductor on one train en route to High Point yesterday collected a thousand and ten tickets and $1.46 in cash fares. There were ten cars and every one was crowded to the limit.

Miss Bettie Craig sister of the late Hon. Kerr Craig and aunt of Burton Craig died in Salisbury last Monday at the age of 80 years.

Attraction

whether in business or social life depends almost entirely upon health. Would you dominate instead of walking in the ruck? As Whitman says "Do you not see how it would serve to have eyes, blood, complexion clean and sweet, to have such a body and soul that when you enter a crowd, an atmosphere of desire and command enters with you and ever one is impressed with your personality?"
