RAMSEUR - FRANKLINVILLE

VISIT TO FAST GROWING
TOWNS—SHORT DESCRIPTION OF MANUFACTURING ENTERPRISES—ALL INDUSTRIES IN A THRIVING CONDITION.
(By A. W. Cline.)
When a small boy in public school the writer was studying North Carolina history a strong desire was created to visit the historic county of Randolph especially the Deep River section made famous by Hunter's Leap from "Faith Rock" when being persued by Col. Fanning. The incident will be recalled by every person who studied North Carolina history. The desire to visit this place was gratified
last Friday when a visit to these towns
was made in the interest of The Courier.

The trip was made over the splendid gravel road which connects Ramseur and Franklinsville with Asheboro. This road is equal to any macadam and far superior to most sandclay roads in the state. Upon inquiring the the cost of construction it was learned that this road was built with about one-third less cost than a sandclay road of practically the same length in a county farther west. The material for building was found alongside the road and the cost of hauling was a small item.

Franklinville is a hustling town

alongside the road and the cost of hauling was a small item.

Franklinville is a hustling town composed of live wideawake business men who has the interest of the town at heart. Two large cottom mills are located here. The Randolph Manufacturing Campany's sheeting is known far and wide. During the '50's and '60's it was hauled through the South in wagons. There are but few housewives that do not know the wearing value of "Randolph Sheeting." Mr. W. F. Russell, of Gulf, is president and Mr. Hugh Parks is secretary. About 120 hands are employed, all of whom are receiving good wages and are satisfied.

The Franklinville Manufacturing Company, with Mr. Benjamin Moffitt as president and Mr. Hugh Parks as secretary, has a splendid trade on their seamless bags and warp. At times it keeps the mill rushed to fill orders. This mill also works about 120 hands who are well treated and do their employee's an honest day's work.

Franklinville has a number of ather work.

Franklinville has a number of other manufacturing establishments. The Roller Mill owned by the Franklinville Manufacturing Company is turning out an extra good grade of four and has a good local patrenage.

Mr. C. F. Moon runs a novelty shop in which he makes almost anything possible to be made out of wood. He also makes patterns for several foundry and machine shops.

Mr. W. C. Jones operates the Janes' Wagon Shops and has a saw mill and a general merchandise store just across the river from Franklinville. He does general repair work and can make a wagon from the end of the tongue to the tip of the coupling pole.

The Kersey Lumber Company buys and prepares building material. They work about 15 to 20 hands and are kept busy all the time. Mr. S. B. Kersey is manager and Mr. C. B. Clegg sec-

This time the suswer was, "That's hat you did; betcher life you did." "Well, you've got to stay with me." And Lindsey told Mickey what he wanted—all the kids he could find that had been in jail. "The of-ficers can't get theme says there ian't time enough. Can you?"

"Can I? Well, you watch me. Don't you worry about the kid-s judge. Gimme a wheel and I'll get kids, kids to burn."

kids, kids to burn."

Mickey borrowed a wheel. It didn't fit, but it went. Earlied officials began to arrive before Mickey returned. Where were the witnesses? The judge knew he could count on Mickey, and the kids generally, but suppose be couldn't find them? hPainta silence. Then a hubbub. Last so alarm. It sounded like a mine and up the stairs it rattled and down the hall it crushed.

The judge knew. He flung open
