THE VERY BEST TIME TO BEGIN

Give Yourself This Opportunity.—The Courier Will Give Away Ford Five Passenger Touring Car, Piano, Suit of Furniture, Diamond Rings, and Many Other Valuable Prizes—Grand Array of Liberal Rewards for Little Work.

Would you like to own a Ford Five-Passenger Touring Car?

Who would not devote a little of their spare time to the pleasant and congenial work of taking subscriptions to The Courier if they were to receive for their efforts a Ford automobile, a piano, a suite of furniture, a diamond ring, or some other valuable prize?

This paper will give away one Ford five-passenger touring car as the grand prize in the greatest list of gifts ever given away in a town the size of Asheboro.

Never before have the people of this section had the opportunity of winning such big rewards for such easy and pleasant work. The grand prize such as this paper is offering now is a big inducement, but in order that everyone may have a chance the territory has been divided into districts and separate prizes will be announced for each district.

To make doubly sure that every person in the contest will win an award, prizes will be given for clubs of subscribers.

How to Enter

Fill out the nomination blank and send it to the Courier Contest Department. It costs nothing to enter this contest and no obligations are involved in doing so. Send us your name today. It costs nothing to enter this friendly race for the big prizes and it costs nothing to stay in the race and win. The prizes will be worth many times the amount that could be earned in a similar space of time by any other means. All the prizes will be on display within a short time so that all may see the value and beauty of each.

How to Win a Prize

The object of the contest is to get subscriptions to The Courier. The candidates receiving the largest number of votes will win the prizes.

The way to secure votes is to get your friends and neighbors to pay a subscription to The Courier.

Candidates may secure subscriptions anywhere not confined to their district. Write to your friends no matter where they live and get them to help you.

Time Will Soon Pass

The few weeks of the contest will soon pass quickly and if you want to be sure of the automobile or one of the other big prizes, an early start is advisable. Those who get the earliest start will have the easiest work.

Anyone with the right sort of spirit who enters the campaign early will find it an unparalleled opportunity for profit in a very short time. Just an hour or two in search of points by an enthusiastic and energetic person would put that candidate far in line for one of the big prizes.

How Votes are Secured

With every subscription to The Courier is given a coupon good for a certain number of votes, according to the length of the subscription. These coupons must be voted before dates of expiration which is printed on each coupon.

Votes are allowed on both old and new subscriptions.

Write to the Contest Manager for details.

BOARD OF EDUCATION MEETS

Supervisor of Negro Schools Provided For—Seagrove and Why Not Districts to be Consolidated.

The county board of education was in session here Monday. The matters to which most of the time of the board was given was listening to petitions for changes in salaries, appointing committeemen, and other like matters.

Orders were passed as follows: The timber on Lena's Grove school ground be sold and the proceeds be used to cover the present school building.

The timber on Gibson school ground be sold and the proceeds to be used to purchase new desks for the school.

That Cross Roads, Richland township, school building and lot be sold. Money was appropriated for the construction of a building for the colored race in Trinity township.

A negro supervisor for the colored schools of the county, the fund to be contributed by the Slater Fund, the General Educational Board, and the county board of education.

Order effective Jan. 1, 1916, that Why Not and Seagrove school districts be consolidated. A new school building is to be constructed near the center of the new district. School will be conducted this year at both Why Not and Seagrove as usual.

It is hoped by the friends of these schools that Maple Springs and Blacklock districts will by the time that order is effective join the new district and assist in making a better and larger school for the community.

PRINCESS THEATER TO COME TO ASHEBORO

The Princess Theater, of Lexington, has been sold and will be moved to Asheboro after this week. The deal has been on for several weeks and causes no surprise in Lexington. This theater has been running Universal films which are very popular with theater goers over the State. The people of Asheboro are glad to hear that our town is to have a moving picture show again, as we have not had one here for nearly a year.

COLORED TEACHERS INSTITUTE

Beginning Monday August 30th there will be an Institute conducted several days for colored teachers of Randolph county. All teachers and persons expecting to teach in the county are required to be present each day. The Institute will be held in Asheboro colored graded school building. At the close of the Institute work—public examinations will be given.

THE ROAD FROM ASHEBORO TO GREENSBORO

The grading of the road from Asheboro to Greensboro is complete, and the road is gravelled from Asheboro to the Guilford county line except about three miles from the R. S. Smith place this side of Level Cross to near Mr. Trogdon's some two miles beyond New Salem.

The road from Asheboro to Mr. Trogdon's was graded and gravelled under the direction of Mr. James C. Farlow, of Back Creek, and Mr. Prevo of Worthville, and the work is splendid. The gravel is put on well and the road bed is smooth. The gravel was placed on the road from Asheboro to Hasket's Creek bridge last fall and the road stood up well during the winter. At only one place did it give way and that was at a point where dark gravel was used, and too much soil was with the gravel, the material not being properly tested in this one place before piling it on the road. Much of the material on the road is too thin, and the heavy travel will cut to the clay in two or three years. Here and there have been worn slight depressions in the road and here a little water stands for a few hours after a rain. Occasionally the heavy rains have washed in not over a dozen places slight depressions from the apex of the road to the side ditch, but considering the fact that nothing has been to the road since last fall it has stood up remarkably well and is the best road in this section of the state.

The surfacing of the road from the Randolph-Guilford line this way has been done by Mr. Kelly Coltrane and others, and while the material is not quite as good at this end it is ten to eleven inches deep and will last twice as long as the surfacing at this end and on any other road in this county.

Our county commissioners should see to it that the material should be thicker on all the roads. It is a waste of funds to build roads like the work such as the surfacing and grading on the Buffalo road. We have not seen the work being done by Capt. Kennedy on the road by Caraway Mountain to the Guilford line, but it is said to be well done so far, nothing having been done except the grading on the upper end.

Little work has been done in Guilford county on the road from Asheboro to Greensboro except grading, but this is well done and there are no heavy grades anywhere.

That part of the road in Randolph will be completed before the first of September.

"MAKING THE LESSON WORTH WHILE"

Below we print an address delivered by Miss Grace Lowe, formerly of Asheboro Route 2, now of Durham, at the North Carolina Baraca-Philantho convention at Raleigh the 24th of last April.

The sweetest and most inoffensive path of life leads through the avenue of learning; and whoever can either remove any obstruction in this way, or open up any new prospect, ought so far to be esteemed a benefactor to mankind. A deeper interest in study is what we are all striving for. To know how to suggest is the great art of teaching. To attain it we must be able to guess what will interest; we must learn to read the pupil's soul as we would a piece of music. Then, by simply changing the key, keep up the attraction and vary the song.

In "Making the Lesson Worth While," the most essential thing is a faithful teacher, wholly consecrated to Christ; a lover of Bible reading; one who daily uses the name of his or her class in prayer, and keeps in intimate communion, perfect harmony, and personal relationship with the Father, Jesus Christ and the Holy Spirit. Then study the disposition of each member of the class. By so doing the exact needs of the class is revealed to the teacher. This gives the teacher the knowledge of just how to appeal to each member, and thus meets the immediate and pressing need of the members. It reaches the real heart problems. The value of the teaching is not lost, but makes the lesson valuable, serviceable.

But this is not the real key-note in making the lesson worth while. Friendly conversation, with a view to the promotion of practical and spiritual life, discussed reverently and simply, by president and teacher and members of the class, with a new vision of larger and better things for their class made possible by closer organization and mutual interest. There may be in the discussion, also, the best methods of making the lesson worth while. This gives the teacher a co-operation with the members. This arouses attention and stimulates personal interest and self-activity. It keeps the members wide awake and deeply interested. There is never a dull or listless member in a class where all are free to express their opinions. Members are interested in a class where they feel easy and free to talk over their problems, clear up their doubts and find help for each individual case in the light of the experience of others. The truths revealed in this method of Bible lesson discussion gives the members an abundant variety of thought and greatly helps to make the lesson worth while. The interchange of thoughts on religious matters is the strongest incentive to higher and better things. They are the stepping stones to the temple of religious knowledge. In this we can manage our thoughts as the florists do their flowers in making a garland. Select the choicest and then dispose them in the most proper places, that every one may reflect a part of its color and brightness on the next.

Then we can do so many practical things for the uplift and advancement of the class, if we will only take time to think the matter over. A class of Kansas girls have a way of studying their lessons which they call "Hunting Four Leaf Clovers." That is, each member endeavors to discover something in the lesson, or about the lesson, which might be overlooked by the rest of the class. Each girl writes the point she discovers on a slip of paper. After the regular discussion, these points are read. If the class or teacher has brought out the point, then the slip is handed in. But if it is a truth or point of information that has not been touched, the pupil is allowed to keep that slip as a "Four Leaf Clover," and at the end of the quarter they see who has the most slips.

I have heard of another class that reviews the preceding lesson each week, and connects it with the one to be presented, and appoints officers to conduct the review. It is done in a simple way, by a few leading questions, or calling upon different members to give some part of the story or some point in it, with the Golden Text. This is, for those who take turns in doing it, a sort of natural drill. It gives them practice in asking. The Board of County Commissioners met in regular monthly session at the court house in Asheboro last Monday morning and transacted the following business:

NEW ROAD FROM WHY NOT TO MOORE COUNTY LINE

The Board of County Commissioners in session last Monday signed an order for the construction of a gravel road from Why Not to the Moore county line, a distance of 2.7 miles. The county appropriation is not to exceed two hundred dollars a mile and the guarantors are to pay the remainder.

The guarantors are: T. W. and R. J. Lawrence, R. Cole, J. F. Garner, J. A. Monroe, and A. F. Cagle. Those of the committee to represent the county are T. W. and R. J. Lawrence and R. Cole.

The Moore county force will build the road from the Randolph-Moore line direct to Carthage. The old plank road will be followed, giving a direct route to Moore county's capital.

HEARD IN THE COUNTY

WHAT OUR TOWN CORRESPONDENT HEARS AND THINKS—ITEMS OF INTEREST FROM ALL OVER THE COUNTY.

"Boasting" don't always build but it helps a whole lot.

Get together and stick together is a good building slogan.

Mr. P. H. Henley, of near Randleman, was in town a short while Monday.

Mr. J. M. Luther, of Union township, spent Monday here.

Mr. J. A. Monroe, of Why Not, was in the city one day this week.

We regret to hear that Mr. S. W. Miller, of Trinity township, is making arrangements to move to Orange county.

If you have not entered The Courier contest now is the time to do so.

Messrs. J. M. Routh and W. L. Hayes, of Millboro Route 1, were in town Monday.

Mr. L. M. Curtis, of Franklinville, gave us a pleasant call Monday.

Patience is a virtue, especially where our own faults are concerned.

Our good friend, Mr. H. T. Bray, of Rameur Route 1, was in town Monday.

It is hard to make people understand that a kind word and a pat on the back is appreciated more by a live man than a lot of flowers are appreciated by a dead man.

Randolph county will come pretty near to "jinin" the live-at-home column this year. Prospects point to a whole lot of food stuff to sell.

Mr. J. A. Brady, of Rameur, was on our streets Monday.

Great interest is being taken in The Courier contest. Who will get the automobile is the question?

Mr. F. P. Prevo, of Randleman, was a visitor in town Monday.

Subscribe for The Courier and in this way help some candidates win one of the handsome prizes. The Courier is well worth the small price of $1.00 per year. It is one of the best weekly papers in the State.

Since the beginning of the European war, now just one year ago, the killed wounded and missing number 8,770,810. Out of this awful toll 2,228,000 are deaths, 4,827,500 wounded and 1,705,000 prisoners. and can you tell what it is all about? Is there any person willing to admit responsibility for it? Is there anyone fond of it? The total expenses of this gigantic struggle of all the nations involved are still growing larger, but worst of all is the oceans of blood shed, and after the end comes likely will leave the situation much as it was when the struggle began. It is shameful, a disgrace to the 20th century civilization.

COMPANY K THIRD REGIMENT TO MOREHEAD

Company K Third Regiment North Carolina State Guard, left Tuesday morning for the annual encampment at Camp Glenn near Morehead City.

Twelve companies compose the third Regiment. Col. S. W. Minor, of Durham, will be in command and each company will be drilled each day while the troops are at camp for the ten days they are at the camp.

Company K is in command of its Captain, T. Fletcher Bulla. About 40 of the 55 members of the company are at Morehead. All the members of Company K are Asheboro boys and a full company.

The Company has been reorganized within the last few months and much work and preparation has been made to get the company in proper shape and training for the Morehead meeting.

LOWE DANIELS ESCAPED

Low Daniels, who was convicted of murder in the second degree at the last December term of Randolph Superior court, and sentenced to thirty years at hard labor in the state prison, made his escape from the State farm Monday, July 26.

The crime for which Daniels was convicted is one of the worst ever recorded in the history of the county. Returning home from a trip into Davidson county Saturday night, November 28, about seven o'clock, and seemingly with no motive whatever, he shot and instantly killed Edgar Varner, Lura Luther, and Coon Daniels. He was arraigned before Judge Adams in the following December court and convicted and sentenced.
