IS YOUR NAME IN THE LIST OF CANDIDATES?

FIRST LIST OF CONTESTANTS IN THE COURIER'S AUTOMOBILE AND PIANO CONTEST PUBLISHED TODAY. ARE YOU IN THE LIST? ARE ANY OF YOUR FRIENDS OR RELATIVES IN THE RACE? THERE IS STILL TIME TO ENTER THE CONTEST. LITTLE REAL WORK DONE YET.

The first list of the candidates in the great Automobile and Piano Contest is published today. Everybody is anxious to know who has been nominated thus far in this contest. Now it behooves the candidates to make the best of the few short weeks they may have to win these valuable prizes.

Enter The Contest Now
Think over the list of prizes. Think as you come to each one what you would do with it if you had it. See what a vista of pleasant things open before you. You may have your choice for a little congenial work. Enter the contest and go in with a determination to win. There is yet time for you to send in your nomination. We want your name in our next list of candidates. Don't fail to get your name in next week, it will not be too late. It is best that your name should appear in the list next time so that people may know you are in the contest. Those who would rather help their support to some one else if they did not know that you were interested in winning a prize. You want all your friends and acquaintances to know that you are in the contest and in it to win one of the big prizes. If you have not already done so send in your name today. There is still time to enter, but there is no time to tarry.

Stop and Think
Think of what your time would bring you doing nothing but securing subscriptions to The Courier and for your reward you would be the one to win the Ford automobile fully equipped, ready to take a tour anywhere. You want to go without one penny of outlay on your part. This is an opportunity that is really wonderful when you just stop and think hard about it. A Ford touring car can be won in a few weeks without one penny of cost to you. Stop and think, then sit down and figure up on a piece of paper who your friends are who ought to give you a subscription to The Courier for a year or more. Then get right out and see every one of them. You need not expect to get a subscription from every person you ask, but you can keep right after them until you get enough to win a prize you want. Energy, enthusiasm and self-confidence will work wonders for you.

Get In And Keep Going
Get in—that's first and keep going—that's next. There has been little real work done yet and you have as good a chance as any to win out in the contest. Send in your name now, don't procrastinate. The sooner you get started the better it will be for you and the easier the work will be later in the race. Get in early. Don't wait until next week to enter, but send your name in today, and after you are in never let a day pass without adding to your store. A steady pace is sure to bring you to the front.

What You Can Do
At the very outset of this contest The Courier wants it distinctly understood that everyone who enters will be given an absolutely equal chance with every one else and every reader of the paper is urged to take part as strongly as possible if only to the extent of saving the vote coupons that are published weekly. The contestants will appreciate every favor you show them.

If your name appears in the wrong district please advise us and the correction will be made.

TWO STORES ROBBED

R. C. JOHNSON'S DRY GOODS STORE AND B. A. BROWN'S GROCERY STORE ENTERED FRIDAY NIGHT—NO CLUE TO GUILTY PARTIES

At some late hour Friday night R. C. Johnson's store was broken into and several dollars worth of merchandise taken. The plate glass in one of the front doors was removed and the robbers entered the store through the opening made. Mr. Johnson cannot tell exactly what was taken, but he is certain that four pairs of shoes, two suits of clothes, several shirts, and a suit case are missing. A large pile of goods was scattered over the counters and it was impossible for him to tell exactly what was gone, but he supposes that more was taken than what he has already missed.

B. A. Brown's grocery store was entered the same night it is presumed by the same robbers and quite a lot of canned goods and lamp chimneys taken. Entrance to Mr. Brown's store was forced through a window.

It is believed that there is an organized band of thieves operating in the county. Within the past four months stores have been robbed at Climax, Staley, Millboro and Liberty. About $150 worth of shoes were taken from a store at Liberty.

In connection with these robberies, two negroes have been arrested and placed in jail. Arthur Williams was arrested in Greensboro and lodged in jail here for breaking into W. B. Teague and Son's store at Staley about a month ago. Fred Hengekin, charged with theft from J. W. Pugh's store at Millboro, is also in jail having been arrested and brought back from Danville, Va., some two or three weeks ago. As yet there is no clue to the identity of the person or persons who committed the robberies Friday night.

LATE WAR NEWS

ENGLISH TOWNS BOMBARDED—FIGHTING IN THE WEST—ENGLISH TRANSPORT SUNK—DARDANELLES NOT FORCED—EASTERN CAMPAIGN

Monday morning a German submarine bombarded several towns on the English coast. No lives were lost, but several fires were started by the bombardment.

Fighting in the West
During the week there have been various minor engagements on the western front. Attacks with artillery and hand grenades have been made with no heavy damage to either side. The armies on the western front are strongly entrenched and only the prospect of fighting with terrible loss of life can break the deadlock.

Transport Sunk
A British transport loaded with men for service in the Dardanelles was sunk by a German submarine in the Aegean Sea. About one thousand lives were lost. This is the first British transport to be hit by a torpedo from a German submarine.

Ferding the Dardanelles
The Allies are rebubbling their efforts to force the Dardanelles in order to give assistance to Russia. The Turks are putting up a stiff resistance and the Allies are making little progress though with a fearful cost of lives.

Eastern Campaign
In the land fighting a crisis has not been reached in the present stage of the Eastern campaign. Grand Duke Nicholas, the Russian commander-in-chief, will not be able to insure the safety of his army until the menace presented by the operations of Field Marshal von Hindenburg in Courland is removed. In the Bausk district of Courland the German army has been driven back toward the AA River, while Kovno is still stemming the German tide. The chief struggle, however, centers in the region north of the Neimen. Between the Narow and the Bug the German drive evidently is making some headway, although Petrograd claims that the attacks have been repulsed after heavy fighting along the middle Bug the Austrians and Germans have forced several crossings.

If the Russians plan to hold the valuable transverse railroad they must soon check the Austrians and Germans definitely.
From the standpoint of the Allies the near Eastern situation is clearing with the assertion officially inspired from Nish that Serbia's attitude is not irreconcilable.
Former Premier Venizelos, having been summoned by King Constantine, is expected to be once more in the saddle tomorrow.
Rumania is becoming more determined in her refusal to permit passage of munitions to Turkey, which country is reported to be showing concern over the attitude of Bulgaria.

DR. LOCKHART TO DURHAM
Dr. J. G. Crutchfield, of Guilford County to Succeed Him

Dr. D. K. Lockhart will leave within a few days for Durham where he will continue the practice of dentistry. Dr. J. G. Crutchfield, of Guilford county, who has bought Dr. Lockhart's outfit will succeed him and will take charge immediately. Dr. Crutchfield comes highly recommended, having passed the last State Dental Board examination with highest honors. The town will be pleased to have him as a citizen.

During his residence here Dr. Lockhart has made a number of friends who will regret to see him leave and their best wishes will accompany him into his new field.

LEO M. FRANK LYNCHED

ANGRY MOB TOOK MURDERER OF MARY PHAGAN FROM PRISON AND HANGED HIM TO A TREE

A small but well organized mob took Leo M. Frank from the Georgia prison farm at Milledgeville Monday night, brought him 100 miles almost within sight of Marietta, the former home of Mary Phagan, the girl he was charged with killing, and hanged him to a tree. No shots were fired.

A Short History of the Celebrated Case

Leo M. Frank was found guilty of the murder of Mary Phagan on Aug. 25th, 1913, and sentenced to be hanged. He was the superintendent of the National Pencil company in Atlanta, in the basement of which the girl's body was found by a night watchman on the night of April 27.

Repeated attempts were made in the State courts to obtain a new trial for Frank, but without success. Efforts to obtain a writ of habeas corpus in the Federal district court at Atlanta and finally in the Supreme Court of the United States also were futile.

On the night of June 21, this year, two days before the date set for the prisoner's execution, he was moved from the county jail in Atlanta and rushed to the State prison farm upon orders from Governor Slaton, now retired. The next day the Governor announced that he had granted a petition made in Frank's behalf asking that his death sentence be commuted to life imprisonment.

A few weeks ago an attempt was made by J. William Green, another convict, to kill Frank by cutting his throat. Frank's condition was serious for some days, but it was announced recently that he practically had recovered.

THE SORT OF GIRL TO WAIT FOR

The girl who is unkind to her mother isn't worth a tinker's dog-gone. This isn't written in any part of the bible, but it is written in the history of thousands and thousands of misfit homes. If one of you boys run across a girl with her face full of roses; with eyes that would din the luster of a Colorado sky, and with a voice that would make the song of an angel seem discordant, and she says as she comes to the door: "I can't go for a few minutes; I've got to help mother with the dishes," don't give her up. Stick to her like a burr on a mule's tail. Just sit down on the door steps and wait. If she joins joins you in two or three minutes, so much the better; but if you have to stay there on the door steps for half an hour, or an hour, just wait for her. If you don't somebody else will, and in time you'll be sorry. For you'll realize what you have lost.

Wait for her boys. She's worth it.

COMPARATIVE COST OF THE GREAT WAR

In general the year's war cost has equalled the ten-year expense of equipping and maintaining the armies and navies of Europe. It is equal to the cost of all previous wars since Napoleon first started to lead France, and it compares with a cost of the Napoleonic wars, estimated at $6,700,000,000; with $5,000,000,000, the cost of the United States Civil War; with $2,500,000,000, the cost of the Franco-Prussian War; with $1,165,000,000 the cost of the Spanish-American War; with $1,000,000,000, the cost of the Boer War; $2,500,000,000, the cost of the Russo-Japanese War, and $2,000,000,000, the cost of the two Balkan wars.—From "The Cost of a Year of War," by Charles F. Spears, in the American Review of Reviews for August.
