

Election Expense vs. Tire Expenses

This story of the election expenses of a Georgia man who was defeated for county commissioner in the recent primary, reaches us by way of the Newark Ledger in a dispatch from Atlanta. His sworn statement runs:

Lost 1,349 hours sleep thinking about election. Lost two front teeth and a whole lot of hair in a personal encounter with an opponent. Donated one beef, four shoats, and five sheep to a county barbecue. Gave away two pairs of suspenders, four calico dresses, $5 cash, and thirteen baby rattles. Kissed 126 babies. Kindled fourteen kitchen fires. Put up four stoves. Walked 4,076 miles. Shook hands with 9,508 persons. Told 10,101 lies, and talked enough to make, in print, 1,000 volumes. Attended sixteen revival meetings, and was baptized four different times by immersion, and twice some other way. Contributed $50 to foreign missions, and made love to nine grass widows. Hugged forty-nine old maids. Got dog-bit thirty-nine times, and was defeated.

AN OLD RANDOLPH MAN HEARD FROM

In a letter to the editor of The Courier, Hon. J. M. Brown, who was born and reared in this county, graduated at Trinity College and read law under the late Marmaduke Rollins, has this to say:

I read The Courier with the greatest interest and occasionally saw familiar names that remind me of the olden times, and am even carried back by Miss York's reports to old "Kildee," where I first went to school and learned my A. B. C's under that most popular and helpful planned man by everybody, the late Dr. Geo. C. Underwood.

At the suggestion and expense of my uncle, Col. John R. Lane, of Chatham, Dr. Underwood wrote the history of the 26th N. C. Regiment, a copy of which I have and often read.

If old Randolph lost any valor in the civil war, she more than counterbalanced it in the war with Germany. God bless the old 26th division! The names and memory of Randolph heroes who fell therein should and will
