LOCALS AND PERSONALS

J. A. Holder has ordered a case of bread for the soldiers' dinner May 10 and will sell it at cost to the ladies wanting it for that purpose.
 W. D. Stedman and Son have ordered 25 long loaves of bread for May 10. Those desiring bread of that kind please call.
 It pays to plant the best corn varieties. Good seed is next to good cultivation.
 Dr. J. B. Shamburger, of Star, was in Asheboro Saturday on business. Dr. Shamburger also visited his niece Miss Bettie Shamburger at Hills Store. She has been ill for some time but is improving.

The various committees for the 10th of May celebration have been most active. The town is to be cleaned up, decorated and ready for the thousands of people who will participate in the celebration of Randolph's brave heroes of three wars.
 Miss Ethel Birkhead returned Sunday from McFarland where she taught during the past session in the graded school.
 Mrs. C. T. Luck, Miss Hattie and Mr. Robert Luck, of Seagrave Route 2, visited friends and relatives in the Caraway section Sunday.

Saturday May 10th promises to be one of the biggest celebrations ever held in the county. Everybody is invited to come and bring a basket.
 Misses Mary Amick and Vera Thomas who were delegates from the young people's home missionary society of the M. P. church attended the annual meeting in Greensboro last week.
 Chautauqua begins May 23rd. A splendid program will be rendered. Some of the foremost speakers of this county will be present.

Dr. and Mrs. C. L. Whitaker returned last week from Greensboro where they attended the annual meetings of the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary societies of the M. P. church. Miss Lillie Parrish was the week end guest of Miss Kathleen Hall in Thomasville.

Mr. C. T. Luck, of Ulah, was a business visitor in Asheboro Saturday. Lieutenant John Erwin returned Saturday from a business trip to Albemarle.
 Prof. O. A. Hamilton, who has been principal of Greensboro graded schools for two years, has resigned to accept the superintendency of the Goldsboro graded schools. Prof. Hamilton is the son of Prof. Oliver Hamilton, who died last year in Union county. He was for many years principal of the Palmerville Academy in Stanly county. He was born in New Hope township, Randolph county, a son of the late Spinks Hamilton.

The Camp Fire and Boy Scouts are greatly assisting in preparations for the celebration on Saturday. They will assist the people from the country in decorating their cars with the decorations which are being furnished free of charge to the various car owners of the country. They will be on the vacant lots between the Standard Drug Co. and Southern Depot and W. D. Steadman's Store and Baptist Church.

On account of getting The Courier out in time to notify the country people that they may make plans to attend the celebration on Saturday, we are unable to publish the commissioners' report and road meeting, the country items and other matters of interest all of which will appear in The Courier next week.

The Sunday School Institute of the Greensboro district will meet in the Asheboro Methodist Episcopal church today. An interesting program has been arranged and a large crowd is expected. Full details of the Institute will be given in next week's Courier.
 The Asheboro and Standard Drug Companies of Asheboro have extended courtesies to all men in uniform on Saturday. Cold drinks will be served without charge.

Mrs. Stedman Hostess to Friday Afternoon Club
 Mrs. Sulton B. Stedman was hostess to the Friday afternoon club at her home on North Fayetteville street. The members took their sewing and Miss Adelaide Armfield entertained them with several piano selections. Mrs. Stedman played her violin accompanied by Mrs. W. H. Moring. Miss Nannie Bullis sang Cadman's "From the Land of the Sky Blue Waters" and "A Crow's Egg." The musical program was informal and delightful. A congealed salad course with sandwiches and tea was served. A number of invited guests were present.

Mr. John M. Caveness, of Asheboro, has been appointed county supervisor for Randolph by the State Tax Commission for the reassessment of all real estate in Randolph county at its actual value, as provided by the reassessment act of the recent legislature. As associate members of this county board of appraisers and review the commissioners at the April meeting Messrs. O. C. Marsh, of Randleman, and Franklin Auman, of Seagrave, Randolph is in the fifth tax district with C. M. Vanstary, of Greensboro, district supervisor.

Rev. J. A. Leebetter, of Randleman, has accepted the chairmanship of Randolph county in the coming Salvation Army Home Service Fund Campaign.
 The "Tambourine Lassie," well known and equally well loved will soon be with us no longer, she has not the time to spend in raising funds when she is so badly needed to care for the sick and the vast numbers of humanity that find more thorns than roses in their pathways. She will lend a helping hand to the wayward girl, and when possible will restore her to her loved ones. She will help the discouraged boy to a better viewpoint of life and help him start over anew.

To relieve her of the burden of collecting money and permit her to do this work of mercy, the Salvation Army will have a drive May 19 to 25. This is a national campaign, known as Salvation Army Home Service Fund, every penny of which will be used for work in the United States and in the locality in which it is raised.

The Salvation Army was the comrade of the American soldier in all their great drives and on all the battlefields of France. They served them through the fog and the rain, in the hours of night, on the roads, under shell fire, serving hot coffee and doughnuts, with a smile, a song, a word of cheer, they were always to be found. With our boys in the trenches, in the desolation of No Man's Land, in the hospitals, in the huts by day and night. No service was too small or too great to give gladly.

The Salvation Army is back from the battle fronts of France and are now in the trenches of America, and every dollar raised will be used for their activities over here.
 Rev. Leebetter is serving a very worthy and deserving cause and there is no doubt but what he will have a hearty co-operation in the coming campaign.

DO YOU WANT ENLARGED PICTURES?—If you wish an enlarged picture of Capt. Dixon or your soldier boy or any member of family call to see me the 10th of May. Be sure to bring small size of anyone desired. G. Q. Aiken, over Wood Cash Clothing Co., Asheboro, N. C.

 Little strokes fell great oaks—Buy

Never before could it be said more truthfully that the farmer is the backbone of the country. The farmer has his products at good prices and receives more money than ever before in history. The war is now gloriously ended. But the job has not ended. The world must come to America for the future of the farmer is the future of the world. The war is over, but the job is not. Farmers should invest in Liberty Bonds.
