Mrs. L. W. Coggins Home Demonstration Agent Has Organized Seven Clubs.—Prospects Splendid for Work

Mrs. L. W. Coggins, Home Demonstration Agent has been with us just two months. During that time seven clubs have been organized and other communities have asked for organization. However, Mrs. Coggins insists on quality first, quantity later.

She has held from two to three meetings with each club. One organization has doubled its membership, another more than doubled, all have added new members. Subjects discussed at these meetings were, "The Art of Home Furnishing and Decoration," "Better Bread Making," "Better Care of Babies and Young Children."

Mrs. Coggins had Mrs. Grace Bradford McDowell, a specialist in Home Demonstration work, with her five days this month. Mrs. McDowell met with the clubs in several communities. She was generous in her praise of the work being done, and the interest shown by the women of the County.

At present Mrs. Coggins is making plans for the organization of a Children's Health Center. Dr. Anna E. Rude, director division of Hygiene Children's Bureau, Washington D. C. wrote Mrs. Coggins this week; "I was delighted to hear of your contemplated work. Such rural work is much needed. This scheme has been worked out successfully in Minnesota and is, I believe a constructive plan from which larger things can grow."

Mrs. Coggins leaves soon for the Home Demonstration Agents Conference in Raleigh. While her absence is to be regretted she is sure to return benefited by the contact with the workers in other counties and inspired to do great things in her own.

Obituary

Zeno Hinshaw, son of Minus and Mary Brower Hinshaw, was born Feb. 2nd, 1853, died May 13th, 1919, aged 66 years, 3 months and 11 days. Bro. Hinshaw was married to Annie M. Allred April 23, 1874. To this union eight children were born: N. A. Hinshaw, of High Point; Rev. M. F. Hinshaw, of Randleman; Prof. C. R. Hinshaw, of Gatesville; Ira G. Hinshaw, of Washington, D. C.; Mrs. E. T. Bost, Bost's Mills; Mrs. W. C. Tucker, of Greensboro; Miss Blanche Hinshaw, a student in Greensboro College for Women.

He gave constant and consistent effort to promote those high ideals of religious life, and every outward act only manifested the spirit within. To know him was to love and respect him. He was a man of deep feeling and unbounded sympathy. There was blended in his life all those graces that made it full and complete. With all these attainments he was possessed with a perfect modesty that made him a good listener. But he would rise above his modesty and speak the truth not only in his heart, but speak out the things he believed to be just and right. Only the supreme intelligence can appraise the value of such a life. No finite mind can measure it. Our brother is gone, but may his memory ever abide. It will abide. It must live. It cannot die. It is very fitting indeed that God guards the thought well, that he should go out as he did—suddenly, when all was yet hushed in stillness just as the gray dawn of a new day was appearing, he entered the new day of eternity.

His body was laid to rest May the 14th in the cemetery at Bethany Methodist Protestant church of which he was a valued member. Funeral services conducted by his pastor Rev. J. A. Ledbetter assisted by Rev. F. M. Cook, of M. E. church, south.

Small Boy: "My father's got a new set of teeth."
Friend: "What's to become of the old ones?"
Small Boy: "Oh, I guess they'll cut 'em down for me."

That Salvation Army Smile

Several thousand veterans of the Argonne Forest recently entered New York harbor. Among them were several badly wounded Marines. One man, easily distinguished because of a coat sleeve that dangled empty at his side and a Croix de Guerre, was making his way slowly to the waiting ambulance when a Salvation Army girl approached him and offered doughnuts and coffee. "Now I know I am home," he said. "These doughnuts helped a whole lot 'over there,' and first crack out of the box when we land, we find more waiting for us. The best thing about the Salvation Army work out near the front line was the smile that accompanied the gift. Those girls had a knack of wrapping up every doughnut and every cup of coffee in a smile. The doughnuts were fine, but the smile—that took the place of powdered sugar." The Salvation Army Home Service Fund Campaign for $13,000,000 opens May 15, to last one week.
