RULES AND REGULATIONS OF NEW CHILD LABOR BILL

Commission Finds Those Who Employ Children in Harmony With the Bill

Following conferences with employes of children held last week in Raleigh the child labor commission announced the rules and regulations suggested in Section 5 of the child labor bill which provides that the commission may make certain exceptions to the general law. The commission, on the whole, found that those who employ children were in harmony with the general idea and purpose of the measure, and believe that the rules worked out will be generally satisfactory. These rules follow:

1. No child of any age under fourteen will be permitted to work in any of the occupations enumerated in the measure, before 6 o'clock in the morning or after 9 o'clock at night. The law, itself, makes this rule mandatory.

2. No girl under fourteen years of age shall be permitted to work in any of the places enumerated in the bill. The reason for this rule, says the commission, is that if the womanhood of the state is to be properly conserved in the future, girls of tender age should certainly not be allowed to run the dangers of association inherent in employment in public places.

3. No child under fourteen years of age shall be employed in any of the places enumerated in the bill for more than eight hours a day.

4. Boys between twelve and fourteen years of age may be employed in the enumerated occupations when the public school is not in session, when it is shown the county superintendent of public welfare that the proposed employment is not likely to injure the health or the morals of the child. But in no case shall such employment be legal until a certificate has been issued by the county superintendent of public welfare on blanks furnished by the state commission. Before determining the question the county officer may, if he deem it necessary, require a physical examination of the child by the health officer or other practicing physicians.

5. During the time that public school is in session boys between the ages of twelve and fourteen years of age may be employed on Saturday and out of school hours on the same conditions as above provided that such continuous employment does not interfere with their school work. When school officials have provided for what is known as continuation schools and where arrangements have been made to make the outside employment a unit of the school work, boys of this age may be, in specified cases, allowed to be occupied in employment during school hours for a limited time at the direction of the superintendent of schools.

The commission calls attention to the fact that the law does not prohibit the employment of children in occupations other than those enumerated, such as farming or domestic service. It is also assumed that it does not affect children who are kept by parents under their direct personal control in or about places owned and operated by the parents, except for long or prohibitive hours. The reason for this is that parents are supposed to control and care for their own children, whenever they may be with them.

The law, says the commission, is a measure for child welfare, and it solicits the co-operation and aid of all people interested in aiding the officials in that the letter and spirit of the law is carried out.

Tobacco Growers Meeting held August 15th

The first tobacco growers meeting for Randolph county was held in the courthouse Friday August 15th. Last week Mr. Coltrane decided that since so many inexperienced tobacco men were calling for information about tobacco that he would put on a meeting for these men. He secured Mr. E. G. Moss, head of the Oxford Tobacco Experiment Station as chief speaker. A good crowd of growers came to the meeting and they were well paid for the trip. Mr. Moss is without question one of the best tobacco experts to be found anywhere.

Mr. Moss discussed the following phases of the industry. How to increase yield per acre and still maintain quality. How to fertilize, kind and amount to use. What kind of rotation to plan for tobacco growing, the building of barns, and finally the curing and packing of tobacco.

The tobacco grower who missed hearing Mr. Moss certainly missed a good opportunity of hearing one of the best men in the country.

Red Cross Will Help Soldiers Arrange Insurance

Soldiers, sailors and ex-service men who are puzzled over the red tape necessary to convert their war risk insurance into long-time policies, to straighten out their allotments or to get back pay, have the aid of the American Red Cross to help them without any charge and to furnish all the necessary blanks free. It has come to the attention of the Red Cross that many men are not aware of this service, and are spending money for assistance which is just as efficient when obtained for nothing from the experts in its home service department maintained by the Red Cross for this purpose.

Farmers Institutes at Shepherd and Parkes Cross Roads

Two very successful and well attended farmer's and Farm Women's Institutes were held at Parkes Cross Roads Tuesday Aug. 12th and Shepherd Wednesday August 13th. The regular institutes arranged for by the State were held some time ago, and they were so successful that County Agent, D. S. Coltrane decided to make up a party of his own so he secured the service of Miss Penny, Home Demonstration Agent of Davidson county, and Mr. Yeager, Farm Agent of Davy assisted in these institutes.

The following program was carried out:

Sanitation, Mrs. Hargrave, sanitation in the handling of milk, Mr. Coltrane, butter making, Mr. Yeager, Home Conveniences, Miss Penny.

In the afternoon Miss Penny gave a demonstration in canning Mrs. Hargrave a lecture on "Foods for babies and young children," Mr. Yeager talked to the men about "Soil building and crop rotation," Mr. Coltrane talked about the importance of using lime, co-operative marketing and the importance of seeding red clover.

A round table discussion was opened for men and women. These institutes both proved very helpful. An excellent basket picnic dinner was spread at both institutes.

Deaths

Mrs. M. W. Free, of Franklinville, died last Friday and was buried Saturday afternoon at the M. E. church. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. W. M. White, her pastor. She was 45 years of age, leaves a husband, three small children, father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Craven, one brother, John W. Craven, Jr., several sisters and a great many friends and loved ones.

She was a member of the M. E. church, a loving wife, kind mother, a good neighbor and will be sadly missed by all.

Conference at Chapel Hill

A conference of North Carolina officials and citizens will be held at the University of North Carolina, beginning September 15th, and lasting for six days with Governor Bickett presiding. The object of the conference is unifying the work of the county officers in reference to schools, health, public welfare, highway construction and taxation.

President Explains Treaty to Committee on Foreign Relations

President Wilson explained the League of Nations to the Senate committee on foreign relations, declared that it did not impose any legal obligations for the use of American military forces in protecting our own territory or the independence of any other nation. He further declared that the nation would be its own judge whether its obligations had been fulfilled under the disputed withdrawal clause of the league covenant; that purely domestic questions were safe from league interference, and that the Monroe Doctrine was clearly preserved.

Red Cross Furnishes Lantern Slides of World War

The publicity department of the Red Cross with headquarters for the Southern division at Atlanta, Ga., has arranged sets of 100 lantern slides presenting a conservative history of the work of the Red Cross since April, 1917. They are also furnishing copies of their lecture in connection with the slides. Any moving picture machine or stereopticon can use the slides. Organizations need only to secure the use of a moving picture projector or stereopticon and the service of some one to read the lecture to put on an interesting, instructive and educational evening entertainment.

The cost of living is 80 per cent higher now than in December, 1914. Strenuous efforts are being made to reduce it somewhat.

The post office at Arden eight miles from Asheville was robbed last Saturday morning. Money and stamps being taken.

TWO SUNDAY SCHOOL MEETINGS NEXT WEEK

The annual county convention of Randolph County Sunday School Association will be held in Asheboro Thursday August 28th. The place of meeting is the Presbyterian Church and the time eleven o'clock (fast time). Every school is privileged to send many delegates as it wishes and it is expected that the attendance will be the largest it has been for several years. A picnic dinner will be served on the grounds in front of the church and everybody is asked to bring something for this part of the program. No registration fee will be required of delegates. All township officers should make plans to attend or have some one represent them.

The other meeting which is of equal importance to the county convention is the County Conference of Young People to be held at Trinity August 30th and 31st. This meeting was to have been held on July 19th and 20th, but was postponed on account of rain. More than one hundred delegates had enrolled for this conference and it is requested that all these will be present at the meeting on the above dates. There will probably be some changes made in the personnel of the program but otherwise the program will stand as first outlined. Every class of young people in the Sunday Schools has the privilege of sending two delegates. One of these should be the teacher if possible.

The North Carolina Farmer's and Farm Women's Convention

The North Carolina Farmer's and Farm Women's Convention will be held at the State Agricultural College, West Raleigh August 27-28 and 29th. Last year while the war was on about 2500 people attended this convention, Randolph county then had 38 men and women there. This year when peace and prosperity is all over the land many more will attend and Randolph county should have more there than last year.

During the Convention several noted speakers will appear on the program including H. J. Waters, Editor of the Kansas City Star; Sam Jordan, the best known Agricultural Agent in the land; Dr. Tait Butler, Editor of the Progressive Farmer; and Prof. E. C. Pippin, the noted soil expert of Cornell University. Several women of national reputation will speak on the Rural and Social Problems of Farm Women. On Friday Prof. Barnson, of the University will address the Convention on "Country concern about county Well Being." Prof. Pippin will talk on "Building the Soil, and on how to use lime on the farm."

Some of the special attractions of the Convention are the tractor demonstration, fifteen different makes of tractors will be present, so that any one can get an idea as to which tractor will best suit his condition. This demonstration will be Wednesday, August 27th. "Kindling the Hearth Fire" an Agricultural play given on Thursday night will be reeking with fun and at this event a lamb barbecue and practical livestock judging on Thursday afternoon is expected to be an unusually big event.

The College will furnish rooms in the dormitory free of charge. Those going should take bed linen and necessary toilet articles. Meals will be furnished in the college dining hall for 50c.

The past conventions have been a great success and I feel that this one is going to be the best ever. Farmers should certainly take advantage of this opportunity and attend this Convention. Look me up when you get there and I will help secure your rooms.

D. S. COLTRANE, Agricultural Agent.

Mr. George C. Cagle Dead

George C. Cagle died at his home 15 miles west of Liberty Friday evening, August 15th, aged 78 years. He was a man of high ideals in life, one loved by all who knew him. He has been for many years one of the most substantial members of Gray's Chapel church. He leaves of his immediate family to mourn his untimely death 7 children, 18 grandchildren and 3 great grandchildren. The children are P. E. Weasler, of the home place Mrs. Johnnie Cox, Mrs. Carrie Smally, and Rastie a Cagle, of Greensboro; John Cagle, of Lonn, Ind.; Jimmie Cagle, of Lowell, Ariz.; and Mrs. Jimmie Allred, of near Worthville. The large crowd of people and the beautiful floral offerings bespeaks of the high esteem Mr. Cagle was held in by the entire community. The funeral services were held from Gray's Chapel church, Saturday, August 16, by Rev. W. F. Ashburn, of Liberty, and Rev. White, of Greensboro.

The pall bearers were Dennis Pugh, G. H. Harding, E. W. Allred, C. W. Redding, W. D. Poole and John Walker. The flower bearers were Misses Virgie, Alta Walker, Nettie Mary Berta Pugh, Beatrice Foust, Elbell Allred, and Lillian Routh.

Charles Walker, of Asheboro Route 2, Dead

Charles Walker the seventeen year old son of Mrs. James Walker of Asheboro Route 2 died yesterday. He had been ill for less than a week with typhoid fever. He was in Asheboro on last Saturday. Mr. Walker was the son of the late James Walker who was the rural carrier for Asheboro route 2. He will be buried today at 3 o'clock at Shepherd. The young man's death has cast a gloom over the whole community. Deceased is survived by four brothers and three sisters.

Postmasters Will Take Orders For Groceries

The Asheboro postoffice has entered the mail order grocery business, responding to the recent act of Congress allowing the postal system to assist the war department in selling of its surplus supplies and also help the consumer combat the high cost of living by securing high grade foodstuffs at prices below the prices charged by wholesale grocers of this section.

Postmaster Ross says Asheboro's allotment will be as follows, with prices, for the present:

Baked beans; one pound cans, 4,750 for sale at four cents per can; two pound cans, 459 for sale at six cents per can; three pound cans, 3,600 for sale at nine cents per can.

Stringless beans; two pound bags, 1,060 for sale at nine cents per pound.

Corned beef; one pound cans, 6,480 for sale at 29 cents per can; two pound cans, 8,200 for sale at 55 cents per can; six pound cans, 870 for sale at $1.75 per can.

Bacon; 12 pound cans, 2,600 for sale at $4.15 per can.

Canned goods can only be ordered by case allotment. The postal limitations on the weight of any one package will be extended to 125 pounds in order that flour and rice and other bulky foods can be shipped.

Postmaster General Burleson has arranged between the supply depots and the local postoffices over the country for the parcel post service to co-operate with the war department in carrying out plans for the distribution of surplus supplies to the consumer.

The parcel post rates are 5 cents for the first pound and 1 cent for each additional two pounds.

The larger the lot of goods bought the greater the proportion of saving.

Prices of articles and parcel post charges from Atlanta were announced by Mr. Ross as follows:

Bacon, 12 pound cans, $4.15 per can; postage per can, 36 cents.

Beef, corn, one pound can, 29 cents per can; postage per can, 4 cents; two pound cans, 55 cents, postage per can, 7 cents; six pound cans, $1.75 per can; postage per can, 15 cents.

Colon Cox and sister, Miss Bessie, of Greensboro, were visitors here Saturday evening.

Mr. W. R. Cox and Miss Thelma Craven went to Ramseur Saturday evening and while there were married. Rev. W. M. Smith officiated. Mr. Cox is one of our best citizens and holds an important position with Franklinville Mfg. Co. The bride is the popular daughter of Mr. J. W. Craven and we wish for the happy couple long and useful lives.

Sunday evening at the home of W. C. Jones, Esq., who officiated, Mr. Gurnie Kirkman and Miss Lillie Newsom were married. The groom is a prominent farmer and son of Mr. Mat Kirkman of the Sandy Creek section. Mrs. Kirkman is the charming daughter of Mrs. J. M. Ellison and we wish for them long and happy lives.

Sunday, August 10th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Kinney, near Asheboro, a reunion and dinner was given in honor of their daughter, Mrs. M. B. Martin, and family, of Richmond, Va., who has been absent for about sixteen years. All of the children and grandchildren were present but one, Mr. Garland Martin. All brought baskets loaded with good things to eat and at 12 o'clock dinner was served to the satisfaction of every one and the evening was spent in a social good time, and when parting time came they left hoping that this would not be the last time to meet with Mr. and Mrs. Kinney, but be permitted to enjoy their hospitality many more times and some day be united in an unbroken home above.

Two United States Aviators Prisoners of Mexican Bandits

Lieutenants Paul H. Davis and Harold G. Peterson who have been prisoners of Mexican bandits for the past week were rescued early Tuesday morning by Captain Matlock of the American cavalry. These lieutenants were flying in Mexico when something went wrong with their machine and they were forced to land. They were apprehended by Mexican bandits, the leader of whom it seems had worked on a railroad in Kansas and had lost a hand and foot. The lieutenants were forced by the bandits on the threat of death to send messages to the United States demanding a ransom of $15,000. According to agreement Captain Matlock unaccompanied went into Mexico with the $15,000 and the story goes that one of the aviators was turned over to the United States army officer who paid $7,500. Lieutenant Paul H. Davis was put on a horse and his comrade also mounted the horse behind him and Officer Matlock and the two men made their flight with the other $7,500. The prisoners say that they were not treated unkindly by the Mexicans but their experiences were very trying. The cavalry of the United States army has entered Mexico in pursuit of the bandits, the band numbering probably about sixty.

Miss Hazel Amick, of Liberty, Weds Mr. Thomas Brown

On August 6th Miss Hazel Amick of Liberty Route 2 was married to Mr. Thomas Brown at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Neece of Mechanic. The ceremony took place just as the sun was rising, the same being performed by a brother-in-law of the bride. Only the immediate members of the family were present to witness the ceremony. Miss Sallie Amick of Asheboro and Mr. Floyd Amick of Liberty Route 2 were present. The bride is the beautiful and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Amick of Liberty Route 2. The groom is a prosperous farmer of the same section.

Glenn Young Gets Eight Deserters in Johnson County

Glenn Young and his Belgian police dog rounded up eight deserters and notorious blockaders in Johnson county last week. On Saturday night he got four at one time. Each was armed. Five guns, a pistol and four automatic rifles were taken from the eight deserters. When Young makes an arrest he disarms the men and leaves the dog to guard them until he goes and gets others.

Mr. J. C. Ragan Dead

J. C. Ragan died at Morganton last Friday and was brought to Mt. Tabor for burial last Sunday. Quite a large crowd attended the burial service. Mr. Ragan has been in the mercantile business for a number of years. He leaves a wife, Sallie Ragan, and two sons, J. R. and W. T. Ragan, of Mechanic and two daughters, Mrs. John Poole, of Asheboro, and Mrs. J. F. Yates, of Denton, to mourn their loss.

James R. Collie, Jr., of Norfolk, Va., Killed

The 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Collie, of Norfolk, Va., was crossing a trestle Saturday when the machine slipped into gear and the truck started and ran over him killing him instantly.

LAST WEEK OF SUMMER SCHOOL

Randolph County to Have an Emergency Hospital—Lectures By Dr. Cooper, Miss Rosa Ehrfeld, State Director of Public Health, Raleigh, N. C., and Summer School Directors.

The Randolph county summer school, which has been in session since July 23, is now closing the last week.

Much good has been accomplished during the school, and the dawn of a brighter day is just ahead of the school system in Randolph county.

The last week of the school has been devoted to examinations.

Dr. G. M. Cooper, director of public health, lectured on Wednesday of last week, August 13th, on the subject of examining school children. Dr. Cooper will bring the North Carolina Emergency Hospital into the county as soon as possible for the benefit of the school children. The entire cost of this hospital will be $12 to those who are able to pay, and entirely free to those who cannot pay. There will also be a dental examination and children from 6 to 12 years old will have their work done free of charge. This hospital will have three nurses, the third being the county nurse. It will contain fifteen cots and other modern equipment. Children are kept in the emergency hospital at night. Some of the best physicians of the state will do the work in this hospital.

Mrs. Hargrave, county educational nurse, will go to Raleigh on the last of August to be with the public board of health for three days to consult the board as to the welfare of Randolph county.

Miss Rosa Ehrfeld, state director of public health, Raleigh, met with the teachers Tuesday and discussed ways and means of the prevention of typhoid fever, how to secure a county nurse, and the benefits of a county nurse to the county.

One of the most interesting lectures given by the summer school directors, was a lecture by Prof. Sentelle Tuesday on civics.

Mr. Sentelle mentioned ways and plans whereby the great aim of civic efficiency is to be realized, what constitutes a good citizen. He emphasized the great failure of teaching civics had been due, first, to a lack of knowledge of citizenship on the part of teachers, and lack of text books for school use.

Few books written on methods of teaching citizenship. He also said before we can hope to realize the great aim of civic efficiency the teaching force must be educated in their participation and responsibilities along civic lines.

The public has not demanded and paid for women and men of maturity and professional training who are able to lead the children and community forward in civic efficiency as an important goal of education.

Realizing as teachers that we have failed in teaching citizenship as we should, in the schools, we hope to remedy this by giving this subject an equal standing with others in the course of study, using text books written for school use that children will understand and be interested and finally experiments in school (self government) should be tried thus promoting a feeling of participation on the part of the future citizenship.

Misses Elbie Miller, Parker and Mary Barnwell of the school faculty had an outing to Fanning's Rock, Moffitt's Mills and Mr. Pars' farm last week.

Tons of Hoarded Foods Seized in Federal Raids

Jacksonville, Fla., More than a million eggs, hundreds of thousands of tins of canned food, and 27,500 pounds of sugar were seized at Jacksonville Fla. last week, in a raid on wholesale food warehouses and cold storage plants by Federal officers.

Foodstuffs held in storage by six Tampa Florida, wholesale concerns aggregating 326,000 tons of canned goods, 4,000 cases of eggs, with large quantities of other commodities. Fur-commodities, were seized last week by agents of the Department of Justice, charging that the goods were being illegally held from the market to unreasonably increase prices. Swift and Company, Crenshaw Brothers Produce Company, Charles M. Moorhouse, Jose Garcia, Jose Suarez and Reina Brothers were the owners. The haul also included 36,200 pounds of rice, 71,450 pounds of salt, about 30,000 pounds of sugar, 20,580 pounds of flour and lesser quantities of other commodities. Further seizures are contemplated.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Aug. 13.—Eighty-four thousand dozen eggs, stored with the Atlantic Ice and Coal Corporations here for the account of Morris and Co., Chicago, were seized last week at Chattanooga, Tenn. by the United States District Attorney. Seizure was made under libel proceedings in the Federal Court, which charges that the eggs were unlawfully stored to obtain unreasonably increasing prices.

Members of the Chicago Butter and Egg Board telegraphed to President Wilson a copy of a resolution adopted by the organization offering to assist and co-operate with the government in the formulation of a plan to regulate the storage and sale of those commodities so as to reduce the cost to the consumer and aid government officials in their fight against the high cost of living.

The Cannons at Concord will begin soon to build a four-story, 150-by-150-foot cotton mill; also a four-story mill by 75 feet cotton mill; and four-story 50 by 100 feet warehouse.
