The Mission of the Home Paper

It has been said that newspapers are made for everybody to read and no one needs to read the contents of any paper only that which pertains to their specific duties; but on the other hand every paper and every person have certain missions to execute in life.

Our state is dotted with villages, in each of which one or more newspapers are published. They do not claim to be a review of the world. These country newspapers appear faithfully week after week, recording the happenings of the neighborhood, lending assistance to the unfortunate, extending sympathy and consolation to the bereaved, chronicling with pardonable pride any improvements in the community and bringing to the fireside a record of happenings that are of more importance to the readers than the crowning of George V as emperor of India.

The country newspaper is of inestimable value in maintaining the moral and financial standard of the community. It is something in which the entire neighborhood can feel a common interest. It is deserving of the steady support, not only of the home folks, but but also of those who look back with cherished memories to their life in the country town.

WITH DANIELS LEADING DEMOCRATIC TICKET AND PRICHARD REPUBLICAN NORTH CAROLINA SHOULD WORRY

(By Judge Frank Carter.)

Former Senator Marion Butler, speaking through the Washington Post of Thursday, names United States Circuit Judge Jeter C. Prichard as the candidate of N. Carolina Republicans for the presidential nomination of that party in 1920. Butler declares that the time has come when the South should no longer be disfranchised in the nation's councils. Asserting that "Judge Prichard is the equal in character and ability to any of the many favorite sons now being mentioned," he goes on to say that if the distinguished North Carolinian should not be given the first place on the ticket, he will be presented for, and should be unanimously accorded the second place.

It is only a few days since a news dispatch from far-off Honolulu focused the attention of the nation upon another distinguished son of the Old North State as an eligible for the presidency on the Democratic ticket.

Daniels, Fitness

Of Secretary Daniels, too, it can be justly said that he is possessed of a personal fitness and has attained a political stature that eminently qualify him for this great honor. And further, it should be said of Mr. Daniels and Judge Prichard alike, that if the supreme distinction should come to either, North Carolina might be well assured that her first President would take no mean rank in that galaxy of premier Americans.

Dealing now with Democratic candidacies, it would be eminently fitting it seems to me for the party organization in North Carolina to bestir itself on behalf of Mr. Daniels' nomination. It is not enough to say that the momentary situation does not appear to favor the nomination of a southern man. Politics is full of surprises. If the President should be finally eliminated, by his own act or otherwise, it would be anybody's race. With Mr. Daniels as the first choice of his own state and as either first or second choice of the rest of the south, a convention situation might easily develop that would lead to his nomination.

It is not to be denied that Mr. Daniels has become a really important national figure. In the zeal of a concrete effort to destroy him, a hostile press gave him first a vast notoriety, which the alchemy of his own inherent worth has transmuted to the pure gold of an enduring fame. This is no less the property of the North Carolina Democracy than of Mr. Daniels personally—it is a political asset which it were folly not to turn to the uttermost account.

Call to State Pride

The call to state pride is compelling—he is a sorry sort of Tar Heel whose patriotism would not be keyed to a higher pitch by a presidential boom for our own Joe Daniels.

Not the least of the merits of an active propaganda for Mr. Daniels would be the tendency to loose the bonds of an idol-worship that threatens to betray the Democratic party to its ruin. The assumption of its readiness, for any cause whatsoever, to dishonor the unbroken precedent that inhibits a third term in the presidential office imputes to the party a faithlessness to principle and a subservience to power that belie its whole history. It would not seem so unnatural for the party that claims Alexander Hamilton as its major prophet—the party that has always stood for strong centralized government—to consent to the indefinite renewal of executive authority in the same hands; but for the party of Jefferson, the party historically devoted to the jealous limitations of power, the party that so late as 1912 formerly declared for a restriction to a single presidential term for the Democrat party to apostasize in 1920 to a third term would be one of the most shameful betrayals in American history.

The idea that the welfare of 110,000,000 people can so greatly depend upon the official incumbency of any particular person exhibits a servility, a slavishness of spirit that savors more of autocracy than of democratic institutions. Notwithstanding its Hamiltonian inspiration and the exigencies of the reconstruction period, the Republican party nullified the third term aspiration of its great military hero. There is today no service of patriotism comparable to that of saving the Democratic party from the calamitous mistake that the Republican party avoided in 1876.

Early in the participation of the United States in the world war, the American Red Cross perceived the value of mobilizing the school children of the country and the Junior Red Cross was organized. Before the war ended nine million children were enrolled and helped in the war fund and membership campaigns, in chapter production of relief supplies and manufacturing furniture for the refugees whose homes and household goods were destroyed.

Children everywhere in the United States responded to the call to service sounded by President Wilson as head of the American Red Cross. This photograph is that of an enthusiastic young Japanese member of the Junior Red Cross of Spokane, Wash., starting out on the ambitious undertaking of collecting "a mile of pennies" for war relief. A comprehensive peace program is now being worked out for the Junior Red Cross, which is being held intact.

Randolph Boys at State College Organize County Club

The Randolph boys of the N. C. State College met in the Y. M. C. A. on September 16, 1919, and organized a Randolph County Club. The following officers were elected: Charles F. Phillips, of Fullers, president; Charles A. Sheffield, of Randleman, vice president; Harvey P. Brower, of Liberty, secretary; and Sidney B. Wood, of Asheboro, treasurer. The other members of the club are H. A. Deal, R. M. Deal, S. G. Newlin and J. A. Bruce, of Randleman; H. M. Hilliard and J. S. Skeen, of Asheboro; R. F. Routh, of Millboro; Lester Wall, of Edgar, and S. A. Allred, of Staley.

This is the first year that this county has had enough boys to organize a club. The purpose of this club is to enable the Randolph boys to come in personal contact with and to have a better knowledge of one another. We expect to co-operate as college boys; we expect to co-operate as Randolph alumni and we expect to co-operate as Randolph citizens. We feel that Randolph offers us opportunities; and by co-operating we can prepare to grasp these opportunities.

Secretary Daniels has ordered that there be an investigation relative to the case of hazing, which was reported to have occurred in the naval academy at Annapolis.

LIFT OFF CORNS!

Apply few drops then lift sore, touchy corns off with fingers

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little Frezzone on an itching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then you lift it right out. Yes, magic! A tiny bottle of Frezzone costs but a few cents at any drug store, but is sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or even blisters, the toes, and the soles, without excruciating irritation. Frezzone is the essential discovery of a Continental genius. It is wonderful.

News From Mechanic

Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Surran, who recently purchased the R. J. Wood farm, were visitors at C. C. Ridge's recently. They expect to move into their new home in a short time.

Mrs. J. A. Garner is on the sick list. C. C. Ridge, our merchant, has his new Ford car. He has also installed a new telephone.

Miss Mamie Lackey has been visiting at Mr. Victor Parker's the past week. She began her school at Iabernacle last Monday.

The new school house at Locust Grove is nearing completion. Miss Fleta Kearns is teaching at this place.

Mr. J. C. Ridge has completed a new dwelling house on the W. K. Harris place and expects to move to it in the near future. He is leaving a good farm on the Uwharrie River. Mr. Ridge's reason for this is that his force is exhausted, he having two sons in Georgia, Marvin E. Ridge and Liss Ridge, the latter having seen service in France during the recent war. They are both representing the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, of Winston-Salem. Mr. Ridge has another boy, John C. Ridge, in High Point, and another, C. C. Ridge, who is in the mercantile business at the old Allen Nance place in Concord township, and two small boys, Numa and Woodrow Ridge, and one girl, Mabel, who are with him at home.

A series of meetings began at Mr. Tabor M. E. church last Sunday, the pastor, Rev. J. M. Varner, conducting the services.

Mrs. C. C. Ridge expects to visit her mother and home folks in Haywood county within a few days.

Mr. R. E. Snyder moved to his new home last week.

Messrs. Victor Parker and J. A. and R. D. Ridge are in the mountains for a few days to get apples and chestnuts. They went on Mr. Parker's Ford truck.

The health of the community is good at present. Corn shucking is all the go now.

S. O. S. If Constipated, Bilious or Headachy, take "Cascarets"

It is just as needless as it is dangerous to take violent or nasty cathartics. Nature provides no shock-absorbers for your liver and bowels against calomel, harsh pills, sickening oils and salts. Cascarets give quick relief without injury from Constipation, Biliousness, Indigestion, Gases, and sick Headache. Cascarets work while you sleep, removing the toxins, viscons and sour, indigestible waste without griping or inconvenience. Cascarets regulate by strengthening the bowel muscles. They cost so little.

Talk about adventures! Men in the Navy come home with the kind of experiences that most chaps read of only in the books. Here's your chance! Uncle Sam has, as you know, a big Navy and gives red-blooded young fellows like you an opportunity to step aboard and "shove off". What will you get out of it? Just this: A chance to rub elbows with foreign folks in strange parts of the world. The chance for good honest work on shipboard—the kind of work that teaches you something real; the kind of work that puts beef on your shoulders and hair on your chest. You will get 30 care-free vacation days a year, not counting shore leave in home or foreign ports. You will have the kind of comradeship in travel that sailors know. You will have regular pay; over and above your meals, lodging and your first uniform outfit—good stuff all of it. You can join for two years. When you get through you'll be physically and mentally "tuned up" for the rest of your life. You'll be ready through and through for SUCCESS. There's a Recruiting Station right near you. If you don't know where it is, your Postmaster will be glad to tell you.

To any Father and Mother:— In the Navy your boy's food, health, work and play, and moral welfare are looked after by responsible experts.
