

PRESIDENT'S ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS AS TO OUR STATUS UNDER COVENANT

Vital controversial questions touching the rights, obligations and prerogatives of the United States as a member of the League of Nations have been categorically answered by President Wilson in the course of his tour of the Pacific Coast. The questions propounded to him involve the principal objections which various individuals and organizations have urged against certain provisions of the League Covenant.

These questions, and the answers which President Wilson has returned to them, are as follows:

Q. Is there any provision in the covenant which will require the United States to engage in war without a declaration of war by Congress?

A. There is none.

Q. Why give the British Empire 6 votes in the assembly while the United States has only one?

A. The six votes are given to the several self-governing parts of the British Empire, but the single vote of the United States is in every matter of action of equal authority with the six votes of the British Empire, in as much as every active policy of the League requires the unanimous vote of the states represented in the council, there, the vote of the United States.

Q. Does Article X in any way commit the United States, without its consent, to aggressive action in case of external aggression committed by any nation against any member of the League?

A. It does not.

Q. Article 15, Paragraph 7: "If the dispute between the parties is claimed by one of them, and if found by the Council to arise out of a matter which by international law is solely within the domestic jurisdiction of that party, the Council shall so report, and shall make no recommendations as to its settlement." Under this provision, is there any possibility of such a question of the immigration of the Japanese being taken out of our hands?

A. There is no possibility of such a question as the immigration of the Japanese into the United States being taken out of our hands by any action of the League.

Q. Is the covenant, as a part of the treaty of peace, an added guarantee that Japan will fulfill her promise to return Siam to China?

A. It is an added guarantee, and a guarantee, moreover, for the just treatment of China by all nations.

Q. Upon what terms, and under what conditions, will Germany be admitted to the League of Nations?

A. It is expected that Germany will be admitted to the League of Nations when it has proved that its change of constitution is genuine and permanent and that it has, in fact, as well as in form, aligned itself with the free self-governing peoples.

Q. What stands in the way of withdrawal from the League?

A. Nothing. Withdrawal is left entirely to the choice and decision of the nation proposing to withdraw, and the proposed requirement that at the time of withdrawal it shall have fulfilled all its international obligations and its obligations under the covenant of the League is in obligation only upon its own conscience.

Q. Under the covenant does the Nation obligate itself to assist any member of the League in putting down rebellion of its subjects or conquered peoples?

A. It does not.

Q. Under the covenant can this nation independently recognize a government whose people seek to achieve or have achieved their independence from a member of the League?

A. The independent action of the Government of the United States in a matter of this kind is in no way limited or affected by the covenant of the League of Nations.

Q. Under the covenant are those subject nations or people only that are mentioned in the peace treaty entitled to the right of self-determination, or does the League possess the right to accord a similar privilege to other subject nations or people?

A. It was not possible for the Peace Conference to act with regard to the self-determination of any territories except those which had belonged to the defeated empire, but in this covenant of the League of Nations it has set up for the first time in Article 11, a forum to which all claims of self-determination which are likely to disturb the peace of the world or the good understanding between nations upon which the peace of the world depends, can be brought.

Q. Why was the case of Ireland not heard at the Peace Conference? And what is your position on the subject of self-determination of Ireland?

A. The case of Ireland was not heard at the Peace Conference because the Peace Conference had no jurisdiction over any question of that sort which did not affect territories which belonged to the defeated empires. My position on the subject of self-determination for Ireland is expressed in Article 11 of the covenant in which I say I was particularly interested, because it seemed to me necessary for the peace and freedom of the world that a forum should be created to which all peoples could bring any matter which was likely to affect the peace and freedom of the world.

Obituary

Mrs. Sarah Louisa Spencer, wife of Evans Spencer, was born June 4, 1848, and died October 15, 1919, aged 71 years. The deceased was a daughter of Minnie Swift. She first married Harman Cox, who died many years ago, and to this union were born the following named children: John Cox, now of Kansas; Artemus Cox, who died in High Point about a year ago, and Eva Cox, living near Archdale. After remaining a widow for several years with her three little children to care for, she again married her surviving husband, and to this union she became the mother of the following named children: Marvin Spencer, C. O. Spencer and May Spencer. These are all living. The deceased was a consistent member of the Friends church at Springfield and was known by her neighbors as being a woman of exemplary christian character, ever ready to help others and one of her nearest neighbors said that he had lived by her for many years and he had never heard her say an unkind word about any person. She bore her sufferings without a murmur and it can be said that truly a good woman has gone to join that innumerable multitude who came up through great tribulation and washed their robes and made them white in the blood of the Lamb.

Rest, dear mother, yours labors are done,
Your last battle fought and you the victory won.
With a crown on your head, a harp in your hand,
At the gate of Heaven you will stand,
To welcome your loved ones to that Heavenly land.

What Kind of a Man Must the Head of the House Be?

We all know that the head of the home must be a Christian man. He must not be a drunkard, nor thief. The kind of life he leads we would not expect anything else but his children to lead the same. If he is a Christian he must take time to teach his children to live a Christian life and be children of God.

If he goes off to some town to work, always leave his wife and children comfortable. See that they have plenty of wood, food and money. He must help his wife do the house work and never leave all the drudgery for her to do. Whenever she is sick stay with her and care for her. He must not leave his home work for the children to do, but of course give the children some home duty to do so as to make him feel like he is a boy or girl of some use.

NATIONAL AUTO THEFT LAW IS PASSED

The national automobile theft law, which has been advocated for some time by the people of North Carolina, was recently passed by the Senate.

There is scarcely a town in the state where automobile thieves have not been doing their stealing. The stealing had become a very crooked business, and cars from North Carolina have been carried to other states and sold and there seems to be a syndicate of the thieves.

The bill approved by the Senate provides: "That whoever shall transport or cause to be transported in interstate and foreign commerce a motor vehicle, knowing the same to have been stolen, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $5,000 or by imprisonment of not more than five years, or both."

"That whoever shall, with intent to deprive the owner of the possession thereof, receive, store, conceal, store, barter, sell, or dispose of any motor vehicle moving as, or which is a part of, or which constitutes interstate or foreign commerce, knowing the same to have been stolen, shall be punished by a fine of not to exceed $5,000, or by imprisonment of not more than five years, or both."

"That whoever shall, with intent to deprive the owner of the possession thereof, receive, store, conceal, store, barter, sell, or dispose of any motor vehicle moving as, or which is a part of, or which constitutes interstate or foreign commerce, knowing the same to have been stolen, shall be punished by a fine of not to exceed $5,000, or by imprisonment of not more than five years, or both."

Other speakers included Mrs. Marshall Williams, representing the North Carolina Daughters of the Revolution, and Mrs. W. O. Spencer, of the same organization; Miss Gertrude Well, the North Carolina Suffrage League; Miss Clara I. Cox, North Carolina Federation of Women's Clubs; General I. Metts, North Carolina United Confederate Veterans, and Mrs. Felix Harvey, of Kinston.

Only one session was held on Friday morning and the convention immediately adjourned after dinner.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the Most Reliable

After many years experience in the use of it and other cough medicines, there are many who prefer Chamberlain's to any other. Mrs. A. C. Kirstein, Greenville, Ill., writes: "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been used in my mother's home and mine for years, and we always found it a quick cure for colds and bronchial troubles. We find it to be the most reliable cough medicine we have used."

Mrs. W. C. Hooker Dead

In Memory of Mrs. S. C. Cranford Nancy Martita Cranford nee Elliott was born May 5, 1860, and died October 1, 1919.

She professed faith in Christ at the age of fourteen years and joined the church at Mt. Ebal. After her marriage to S. C. Cranford in 1877, she removed her membership to Concord church of which her husband was a member. She was faithful at church and Sunday school when able to be there.

Sister Cranford had many noble traits of character, always cheerful, kindhearted, loving, unselfish and true. It was an inspiration to be in her presence, for a spirit of sunshine, joy and gladness seemed to be present wherever she was.

During her last sickness her suffering was intense, but through it all she manifested a wonderful spirit of patience and faith, cheerfully accepting the Divine will.

Sister Cranford leaves a husband, one son, and one daughter, of her immediate family, nine children having preceded her to the "Land that is fairer than day."

On the 2nd day of October in the presence of vast multitude of sorrowing relatives and friends, we laid her body in the grave in the cemetery at Concord church. The church she loved so well.

"Servant of God, well done! Thy glorious warfare's past, The battle's fought, the victory's won And thou art crowned at last."

May the God of all grace comfort the broken hearted husband, the children, the relatives, and friends who are left behind.

SOUTH IS TURNING AGAINST CALOMEL

Mr. Dodson, the "Liver Tone" Man, Responsible for Change for the Better

Every druggist in town has noticed a great falling off in the sale of calomel. They all give the same reason. Dodson's Liver Tone is taking its place.

"Calomel is dangerous and people know it." Dodson's Liver Tone is personally guaranteed by every druggist who sells it. A large bottle does not cost very much but if it fails to give easy relief in every case of liver sluggishness and constipation, just ask for your money back.

Dodson's Liver Tone is a pleasant-tasting, purely vegetable remedy, harmless to both children and adults. Take a spoonful at night and wake up feeling fine; no biliousness, sick headache, acid stomach or constipated bowels. It doesn't gripe or cause inconvenience all the next day like violent calomel. Take a dose of calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak, sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day.
