"Hays and harmony" sounds well, but is an alliterative untruth, so long as Johnson and Borah are running wild on the Republican reservation.

Paraphrasing a celebrated American, the Republican Congress may say "millions for investigation, but not a word of praise for those who won the war."

Republican leaders in Congress are going ahead with their plans to suspend work about June 1st, regardless of how much work they will leave undone.

A poll of members of the State Legislature on the question of ratification of the woman suffrage constitutional amendment indicates that the women may come to look upon North Carolina as "the perfect thirty-six."

The Republican leaders spend a very bad half hour with their own thoughts every time they realize the utter failure of their efforts to prove that the war was a failure and President Wilson responsible for it.—New Orleans States.

If the Republican Senate passes the House's peace resolution, what is it going to do with it? Send the Sergeant-at-Arms over to Berlin and beg the Germans to accept it? What method of negotiation or communication between the Congress and a foreign government does the Constitution provide for? Can anyone answer?

Switzerland is the latest nation to enter the League of Nations. It is a noticeable fact that the most strenuous opposition to and the largest vote against the League in Switzerland came from the Catholics, because the Pope is not recognized as a temporal authority. This should answer the excuse of many opponents to the League that the Pope might have too much influence.

Since Switzerland has for ages been considered a neutral country in Europe and has always lived up to her neutrality, she is admitted to the League, making the reservation that she will not be bound to use her army to enforce its mandates, but promises to aid in an economic boycott against recalcitrants.

PARTISANSHIP GONE MAD

Never in the history of any American Congress has there been such an instance of partisanship gone mad as in the act of the Republican majority on the House Ways and Means Committee excluding minority members from the conferences at which the soldier bonus bill was drafted. No Democrat on the committee was permitted to even know what was in the bill until it was reported out, when, with the O. K. of the "steering committee," it was ordered put through the house as a strictly Republican measure. Democrats are citizens and taxpayers and will contribute their share of the revenue with which the allowed to be present when the bill bonus is paid, but they were not even drafted, much less have a voice in its preparation.

How different the attitude of the Democrats when they were in the majority during the war and consulted and advised with the Republican minority about all war measures.

Democrats and Republicans alike fought and won the war, and Democrats and Republicans alike have a right to a voice in adjusting compensation for the men who faced the foe and wrought the victory.

REPUBLICAN MISMANAGEMENT

The Democrats took charge of the national government seven years ago, and started on a policy that brought unparalleled progress to the country. Early in the Democratic regime, the dark shadow of war fell over the world, but the country pulled through, holding to the line of greatest prosperity.

Then, in a mistaken hour, the great American people turned the country over to a Republican Congress two years ago. From the day, the new Congress took charge, difficulties have been multiplying until at the present time the situation looks critical indeed. The Republicans seem to prefer wasting time in obstructing the work of the executive rather than trying to settle the problems that are pressing heavily on the country. The situation is such that relief must come soon or the flood-gates of disaster will break. In spite of continued advances in wages the worker finds it harder than ever to make both ends meet. Prices have mounted higher and higher; and now, the buyer not only has to worry about high prices, but is wondering where things to buy are coming from. Laborers are leaving the farms and production is falling off, threatening a food shortage. And, now, instead of trying to settle disturbed world conditions, and get the nations on a peaceful basis and settled footing, the Republican Congress continues to keep up the disturbance and urge obstructionary policies in government.

As one writer says: "We are sitting on the powder keg, and the Senate insurgents are playing with fire. Unless they stop this folly and start at once intelligent legislative procedure that will undertake to compose the disturbances between the nations so that in the United States we may adjust ourselves to worldwide peace and industrial conditions we are due for a climax that will be a history maker. The Republican mismanagement is already paying the country for its mistake in electing a Republican Congress."

Miss Lucy Lambert Weds Mr. Graham Monroe.

Wednesday, May 19th Miss Lucy Lambert and Mr. Graham Monroe were married here, Rev. A. C. Gibbs, pastor of the M. E. church, officiating. Only a few of the most intimate friends and relatives of the young couple were present.

Immediately after the ceremony they left for Greensboro where they spent a few days. Mrs. Monroe is the only daughter of Mr. Joe Lambert, a prominent merchant of Lambert's Store, N. C. She is a very attractive and accomplished young lady.

Mr. Monroe is the son Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Monroe, of Seagrave. He was a member of the famous Company K 120th infantry, and was for several months overseas where he served with distinction. He is a very worthy young man. Mr. Monroe holds a responsible position with the bank at Lillington.

Mr. and Mrs. Monroe have many friends who wish them much success along the pathway of life. They will make their home in Lillington.

Carranza of Mexico Assassinated. Venustiano Carranza, president of Mexico and head of the 72nd government that country has had since 1821, was assassinated early last Friday morning by Colonel Rodolfo Herrero and his soldiers, sent as body guards in Carranza's flight from Mexico City. His body was taken to Mexico City for private interment upon request of his relatives.

The six other victims of the attack were buried at the scene of battle. There is uncertainty regarding their names.

The Carranza leaders said Carranza was made a prisoner and assassinated in a cowardly manner.

General Obregon scathingly arraigned Carranza's followers for allowing him to be assassinated.

Card of Thanks. We wish through the columns of The Courier to express our sincere thanks to our friends and neighbors for their kind words and words of sympathy during the illness and death of our husband and brother, J. L. Henry.—Mrs. M. J. Henry and Relatives.

In Memory of Mrs. E. T. Payne. Mrs. Payne, wife of John T. Payne and daughter of Henry Cranford, was born August 6, 1845 and died May 19, 1920.

Her life was one of real service. She was a faithful wife, sister and friend. She had many noble traits of character.

We bow with sad hearts to God's will expecting to see her again where there will be no parting.

Surviving her are four brothers and four sisters. They are as follows: Mrs. Diana Harris and S. C. Cranford, of Farmer; Mrs. W. E. Davis, Panton; E. C. Cranford, Trinity; John Cranford, Kadiz, Kentucky; Mrs. W. B. Lassiter, Asheboro; J. C. Cranford, Mooresville, and Mrs. Elwood Stanton, Level Cross.—Her Sister.

Over fifty years ago a young physician practiced widely in a rural district and became famous for his uniform success in the curing of disease. This was Dr. Pierce, who afterwards established himself in Buffalo, N. Y., and placed one of his prescriptions, which he called "Golden Medical Discovery," in the drug stores of the United States so that the public could easily obtain this very remarkable tonic, corrective and blood-maker. Dr. Pierce manufactured this "Discovery" from roots and herbs—a corrective remedy, the ingredients of which nature had put in the fields and forests, for keeping us healthy. Few folks or families now living have not at some time or other used this "Golden Medical Discovery" for the stomach, liver and heart. Over twenty-four million bottles of this tonic and blood remedy have been sold in this country.

YOU WOULDN'T TRY TO TAKE A WILD-CAT

Mr. Dodson Warns Against Use of Treacherous, Dangerous Calomel. Calomel salivate! It's mercury. Calomel acts like dynamite on a sluggish liver. When calomel comes into contact with sour bile it crashes into it, causing cramping and nausea. If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic for a few cents which is a harmless, vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money. If you take calomel today you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow; besides, it may salivate you, while if you take Dodson's Liver Tonic you will wake up feeling great, full of ambition and ready for work or play. It's harmless, pleasant and safe to give to children; they like it.
