ASHEBORO EVIDENCE FOR ASHEBORO PEOPLE

The Statements of Asheboro Residents Are Surely More Reliable Than Those of Utter Strangers.

Home testimony is real proof. Public statements of Asheboro people carry real weight.

What a friend or neighbor says compels respect.

The word of one whose home is far away invites your doubts.

Here's an Asheboro man's statement.

And it's for Asheboro people's benefit.

Such evidence is convincing.

That's the kind of proof that backs Doan's Kidney Pills. Ask your neighbor.

Mrs. J. R. Cox, S. Fayetteville St., Asheboro, says: "I had such a sore back that I could hardly move. It was hard for me to bend. I had nervous headaches and was in pretty bad shape. Hearing of Doan's Kidney Pills I got a box and began taking them. They relieved me in a short time and since then I have always kept a box of this medicine on hand."

Caruso Steadily Improving

It is particularly interesting in musical circles to know that the specialist who is attending Enrico Caruso, the noted tenor, who has been critically ill in New York City from pleurisy, is steadily improving. He says further that Mr. Caruso will be able to carry out his plans for a trip to Europe about the end of March if his condition continues to improve.

ANDREW W. MELLON SELLS HIS DISTILLERY STOCK

Head of Treasury Department in President's Cabinet—Sale Angwers Protest—As Secretary of Treasury Will Have Much to Do With Dry Law Enforcement.

Andrew W. Mellon, of Pittsburgh, is mentioned in the press as a probable choice for Secretary of the Treasury in the Harding Cabinet.

When it became known that Mr. Mellon was part owner of the Overholt distillery, considerable opposition to Mr. Mellon's appointment came from city leaders. The Overholt distillery has a large amount of whiskey in bond valued at present prices at many million dollars. Superintendent Anderson of the New York Anti-Saloon League, sent a wire to Mr. Mellon which read in part as follows:

"Since you as Secretary of the Treasury would have appointment of the Internal Revenue Commissioner who has to deal with the whole liquor question, and you through him would appoint prohibition commissioner, the question of whether or not you are in fact one of the big distillers of the nation has direct and vital bearing upon your fitness for the particular position you are reported to have accepted, and is a matter of interest and concern to the people of the American nation who have adopted the policy of prohibition."

Mr. Anderson urged that Mr. Mellon let it be known if he had been misrepresented with reference to his owning a share of the Overholt distillery. Mr. Mellon did not reply to the wire, but according to a Greensboro, Pa., dispatch under date of February 13th, in the Philadelphia North American, he sold his stock in the distillery to R. B. Mellon and the estate of the late Henry J. Frick for $480,000, each of the purchasers paying $240,000. The distillery was then liquidated by the Union Trust Company of Pittsburgh, for $2,300,000. In other words, R. B. Mellon, A. W. Mellon and the Frick estate disposed of the Overholt distillery to the Union Trust Company for $2,300,000. The Philadelphia North American dispatch continues:

"H. C. McEldowny is president of the Union Trust Company and was a director in the Mellon National Bank. The Mellon brothers are directors in the Union Trust Company. Mr. McEldowny is the executor of the will of the late H. C. Frick. If Mr. Mellon finally decides to answer the Anderson telegram it will be with the positive assertion that he has no interest in the Overholt distillery company."

"There are 1,500,000 gallons of whiskey in the Overholt bonded warehouse, or about 40,000 barrels. The price paid does not average quite two dollars a gallon. The present price of whiskey certificates is over three dollars a gallon, so the Union Trust Company, which the Mellons now control, picked up a bargain."

"Very little liquor has left the Overholt warehouse since prohibition went into effect because the heirs of the Frick estate and the Mellons did not wish to become involved in any scandal due to violations of the Volstead act. Unless permits were approved, genuine and from licensed dealers, the distillery would refuse to sell liquor to any one."

In discussing the incident, Senator Penrose, of Pennsylvania, is quoted as saying:

"No importance at all can be attached to Mr. Mellon's ownership of distillery stock, which I understand he acquired as a banking transaction. All this has been well understood and no interest will exist in the minds of the public because of the proposed change which will take prohibition enforcement from the Secretary of the Treasury and the Commissioner of Internal Revenue and place it under the Department of Justice."

"Regardless of the discussion about the qualifications of any individual the fact must not be overlooked that in the first place the Commissioner of Internal Revenue is appointed by the President. The Secretary of the Treasury has nothing to do with the appointment of this official, who under the law is directly charged with enforcement of the prohibition law."

As Dead as the Dodo

Every druggist in town—your druggist and everybody's druggist has noticed a great falling off in the sale of calomel. They all give the same reason. Dodson's Liver Tone is taking its place.

"Calomel is dangerous and people know it, while Dodson's Liver Tone is perfectly safe and gives better results," said a prominent local druggist.

Take "Dodson's Liver Tone" Instead!

Dodson's Liver Tone is personally guaranteed by every druggist who sells it. A large bottle costs but a few cents, and if it fails to give easy relief in every case of liver sluggishness and constipation, you have only to ask for your money back.

Dodson's Liver Tone is a pleasant-tasting, purely vegetable remedy, harmless to both children and adults.

Take a spoonful at night and wake up feeling fine; no biliousness, sick headache, acid stomach or constipated bowels. It doesn't gripe or cause inconvenience all the next day like violent calomel. Take a dose of calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak, sick and nauseated. Don't have a day's work! Take Dodson's Liver Tone instead and feel fine, full of vigor and ambition.

It's toasted

hot water for 10 minutes. Serve very hot with a border of steamed rice. A few canned peas, string beans, asparagus tips or tiny lima beans may be added to the curry if desired.

Macaroni Pudding.

Boil sufficient macaroni broken in short lengths to fill two large cups when cooked. Rinse with cold water after draining, and arrange in layers in a buttered baking dish, with alternate layers of thick tomato catsup. When the dish is filled cover with a thin layer of chutney and dust the top thickly with dried, crushed bread crumbs mixed with grated Parmesan cheese. Cook for 20 minutes in a hot oven.

Scalloped Vegetable Oysters.

To prepare the vegetable oysters, scrape and cook in cold water to which a little salt and vinegar have been added. Then drain and cook in salted water until tender. Drain and arrange in a buttered baking dish with alternate layers of seasoned cream sauce and crushed bread crumbs. Season rather liberally with salt, celery, salt and pepper, and have the cracker crumbs on top. Dot with bits of butter and bake until well browned in a moderate oven.

SPECIAL RECIPES FOR LENTEN SEASON GIVEN

Nut and Cheese Roast is Excellent and Can Be Made in Glass Baking Dish.

The following recipes are recommended for the Lenten season:

Nut and Cheese Roast.

Cook two tablespoonfuls of finely minced onion in one tablespoonful of butter and when very delicately browned add three tablespoonfuls of hot water and simmer until the water is almost evaporated. Blend together one cupful each of chopped walnuts, bread crumbs and grated cheese and add the onion, the juice of half a lemon, salt and paprika to taste and water enough to form a paste. Place in a buttered dish (a glass baking dish is excellent) and cook about 35 minutes.

Rice Hash.

Saute one cupful of peeled mushroom caps, remove the mushrooms, add half a minced onion and cook over a very moderate heat until the vegetable is slightly browned. Chop the mushrooms coarsely, add the onion, one ounce of boiled rice, one cupful of bread crumbs, one tablespoonful of chopped parsley, salt and paprika to taste, and sufficient chilli sauce to moisten. Turn all into a hot frying pan, holding two tablespoonfuls of heated shortening and stir quickly until the mixture is heated through, then pat into an oval, brown on the under side and serve inverted on a hot platter.

Curried Vegetables.

Cut a quarter of a pound each of carrots, turnips, celery and onions into small pieces and throw them into a saucpan of cold water. Let them come to the boiling point, drain and dry with a cloth. Put them into a shallow saucpan, with one ounce of hot shortening and cook them slowly until slightly browned. Have ready sufficient browned sauce to cover the vegetables, season to taste with salt, paprika and curry powder, combine with the vegetables and cook over
